CALLS CARRANZA AND VILLA BANDITS

Huerta Characterized as Corrupt by Diaz Men Who Seek Support of U. S. in Movement for Another Revolution

WASHINGTON, March 5.—Although Great Britain's reluctance to press the Mexican case at this time has made the situation less acute, it is now virtually certain that a political debate will occur in the senate in a few days. It became known last night that data concerning the number of foreigners killed in Mexico since armed revolution began there is being gathered by the state department for Senator Shively, ranking member of the foreign relations committee who is expected to present official records about conditions in the southern republic. It was reported that Senator Fall of New Mexico would open the debate with a speech pointing to conditions in Mexico, past and present, and urging a change of policy.

Incidentally the New Mexico senator yesterday presented to the foreign relations committee Pedro Del Villar and Cecilio Deon, representing the political interests of Felix Diaz. Members of the committee were greatly amazed when the Mexicans sought the moral support of the United States of a movement to bring about peace in Mexico by another revolution, headed by Diaz.

The committee had no idea, it is said, as to the exact purpose of this visit other than they wished to present information about the situation in Mexico.

Members of the committee fully stated that the United States could not recognize any such movement. Villa and Deon, severely arraigned Huerta as corrupt and Carranza and Villa as bandits, and argued that Felix Diaz had a host of loyal Mexican citizens behind him who would rush to his support to establish a free government in Mexico. They wanted to get a promise, if possible, from the American government that it would uphold Diaz and recognize him if a counter-revolution succeeded. Several members of the committee characterized the proposition as preposterous.

The committee is taking a most active interest in the Mexican imbroglio and intends to get all the information possible so that it may be prepared for any situation that may arise, especially if the administration should determine upon any change of policy.

INVESTIGATION INTO MURDERS OF BENTON AND BAUCH BEGUN BY CARRANZA

EL PASO, Texas, March 5.—Investigation into the execution by General Villa of William S. Benton, the British subject, and into the disappearance of Gustav Bauch, the German American, was begun at Juarez today by the Mexican commission appointed by General Carranza, chief of the constitutionalists.

Headquarters of the constitutional government was established today across the river at Juarez. Several men, heads of departments, clerks and secretaries brought with them a large number of official papers of the old government. Carranza and members of his cabinet were expected to leave Nogales for Juarez some time today.

MEMBERS OF IMPERIAL RIFLE REGIMENT WERE OVERWHELMED BY AVANTAGE

VIENNA, March 5.—Seventeen soldiers of the imperial rifle regiment were overwhelmed and killed today by an avalanche which they were engaged in maneuvers on the Orlier mountains in the Tyrols.

IN POLICE COURT

Little business was done at police court apart from the tango trial. But two defendants appeared at the dock this morning when Judge Enright mounted the bench at 10:30 o'clock, although there were several cases in which the defendants were out on bail.

The case of Rose Duprez, charged with illegally keeping liquor, was continued until a week from today. Daniel J. Donahue, Esq., appeared for the defendant.

Antonina Kovin asked for a chance to engage legal advice when her case for assault and battery upon a neighbor was called. The case was continued for one week.

Matthew Curran pleaded guilty to drunkenness. It was his second slip from the water wagon during the year and he was asked to contribute the customary $5.

Thomas O'Connell, a fourth offender, also acknowledged that he was the worse for intoxicants yesterday. Judge Enright did not want to send the defendant back to jail. He was placed on probation with a suspended sentence to the state farm.

JUDGE ENRIGHT'S PROMPT DECISION

Discharging Both Defendants After Hearing Evidence of the Young Man's Irreproachable Character—Mr. Hennessy Had Testified

The assembly in police court was taken by surprise at the sudden termination of the case and the sudden decision of the court. Judge Enright said he could not find anything on which to hold the defendants and remarked that he hoped the law now before the legislature for the suppression of the so-called animal dances would pass.

Trial of the tango case, so-called, was resumed in the police court this forenoon and that interest in the tango-dip-schottische-waltz episode is still in bloom was manifested by the reappearance of yesterday's roaring, surging, billowy crowds, that jammed the doors almost to the point of obliging the officers to use their clubs.

It was given out as an "honest and true" that the defendants in the case, Angelina Marcotte and Frank Hennessy, would give a tango demonstration just to show to the court that it was physically impossible for them to assume the postures and negotiate the movements described by the "tangoing" police officers, yesterday, whose staid police court was the most remarkable ever witnessed in a court room in Massachusetts.

Everybody knows that youth must be provided for and youth helped to get to a seat in police court today. The young fellows, the spellers, arrived early and when the fellows of the front-row type arrived they had to be content with a stand-up seat. Reporters, photographers and cartoonists were everywhere, and one, unacquainted with the facts, might well imagine that something of international importance was taking place or that Harry Thaw had struck town.

Case Called at 10:30

The tango case was called at 10:30, and witnesses for the defense, five in all, were called and sworn.

Frank Hennessy, the man in the case, was the first witness.

Lawyer O'Connor carried the witness along from the time he left school to the present day. He is at present employed in Curley's market on John street.

Describing to the court what he had done at Lincoln hall on the evening of Feb. 10, witness told of purchasing his ticket, visiting the smoking room, etc. He told of having the last dance with Miss Marcotte and denied that the officer had at any time warned him. He said he was coming away from the hall when the officer asked him his name.

"Didn't the officer warn you by beckoning of hand or nod of head?" asked Mr. O'Connor.

"No, sir."

"How many dances did you dance?" "Three in all."

"How did you dance them?"

"As anybody else would. I suppose."

On cross-examination witness reiterated that he had not been warned by the officers while dancing.

"How did you have a hold of her?" asked Supt. Welch.

"I had my hands on her shoulders."

"On my chest?"

"You did not indulge in the movements demonstrated by the officer yes-

AT B. & M. CAR SHOPS 250 FAMILIES MOVED

To Lowell and Billerica in Past Few Weeks—Local Men Will be Hired by Middle of April—Supt. Jennings on Deck

There are no more men coming from Keene, N. H., to the Billerica car shops," said Asst. Supt. Nowell to a Sun reporter yesterday, "for the last fifty employees of the plant arrived here Monday, and the shops in Keene are now closed, but they will soon reopen for repair work, which for the past several years has been conducted in Nashua, N. H. The machinery from the Nashua plant will soon be installed at the Keene plant, while the employees and their families have started to remove to that city."

Mr. Nowell informed the writer that all told about 350 men, two-thirds of whom are married, have been transferred from the Keene plant to the Billerica shops, and the majority of them have secured homes in Lowell. He said fifty more are expected next week from Concord, N. H., and that will be the windup as far as out-of-town help is concerned.

For the past two weeks at least 250 families from Keene and Concord have moved to Billerica and Lowell, and more are scheduled to come, for there is still a large number of employees at the car shops whose families are awaiting an opportunity to remove to Lowell. The men, however, are complaining that good flats are scarce, and inasmuch as most of them owned their homes in the New Hampshire cities, they are very fussy as to what they rent in this city.

The contractors have started piping the car buildings and as soon as their work is finished, which will be about the middle of April, that department will be started. About 100 men will be needed for this department, and Mr. Nowell said they will all be Lowell men. The hiring, it is believed, will start in a few weeks, but the majority of the help will not be taken in until the middle of April. The car department comprises the following shops: Coach shop, car blacksmith, car machine shop, painting and woodwork departments.

Work on the coal pocket is progressing rapidly but although there is about one-third of the work still to be done, this does not prevent the power houses from running full blast. Three of the large boilers are now in operation and the only difference is that the stacks are being fed by hand, pending the completion of the coal pocket.

The employees of the locomotive shop are kept busy this week, and by tomorrow it is expected, two large locomotives will be ready to go out after undergoing a thorough overhauling. The locomotive blacksmith shop is also running with a full complement of help, the number being about fifty.

Supt. Jennings, who was transferred from the Concord shop, assumed his new duties last Monday, and upon his arrival at the monster car shops he was given a real ovation by the several hundred employees, who were well acquainted with him, having worked under his orders in Concord for the past few years. About six hundred men are now employed at the shops.

terday?"

"No, sir."

"When the officer served the warrant did you say you supposed it was for what took place at Lincoln hall?"

"No, sir, I did not."

"Did you make any inquiry?"

"I asked him what the warrant was for."

John P. Curley

John P. Curley, Mr. Hennessy's employer, was the next witness. He said he had known Frank Hennessy since he was four years old and his reputation as to truth, veracity, and character was the best, and this statement was corroborated by Dr. William E. Lawler.

The defense closed its case without putting Miss Marcotte on the stand, and Judge Enright, after summing up briefly, found the defendants not guilty.

Judge Enright said he was sorry that he could not find anything on which to hold the defendants because he believed that something should be done to suppress indulgence in the so-called "animal" dances. He cited cases coming under the same statute as the one under which the complaint against the defendants had been made, and could find nothing that would warrant him in holding them. He hoped that the law now before the legislature providing for the elimination of the tango and other dances of a like nature would become law as under the present state of affairs it is impossible for the police to regulate dancing.

The testimony given in this case yesterday afternoon will be found on page 7.

There will be a month's mind mass Monday, March 9, at 8 o'clock, for St. Ignace, formerly Catherine Theresa Healey, at St. Patrick's church.

MOB ARRESTED FOR RIOTING IN CHURCH

190 Unemployed, Headed by I.W.W. Agitator, Ignored Warnings and Made Raid on New York Church—Each Held in $1000

NEW YORK, March 5.—A squad of the members of the army of unemployed that has been demanding food and shelter in raids on churches every night for the past week are today the guests of the city in several downtown jails. Each of the 190 men and one woman is held in $1000 bail for hearings late today on charges of disorderly conduct.

Frank Tannebaum, the youthful leader of the army, faces a charge of inciting to riot, which is a felony. His bail was fixed at $5000 and being unable to furnish it, he, too, is a prisoner.

The arrest of Tannebaum resulted from his leading an "army" under the auspices of the Industrial Workers of the World into St. Alphonsus, Roman Catholic church, in West Broadway, where Fr. John Schneider refused the invaders to leave if they had not come to worship. When Fr. Schneider repeated his order for all to leave "who do not belong here," there were cries: "Don't go out; make them throw us out and we will have food."

At this outbreak two detectives seized Tannebaum and two other leaders, while outside the church policemen sent in calls for reserves from several downtown stations. Police Commissioner McKay ordered the arrests. The commissioner said he would brook no repetition of rioting in churches.

Warning Was Ignored

"I was present at the time," he said, "I saw that the law was being violated and caused the arrests. Previous to this, however, they were warned that if they entered a church where a service was going on they would be arrested. They ignored the warning."

Miss Jane Est, one of the two women who would probably be sent to prison for six months. She begged to be allowed to go, and slipping through the crowd when released by a detective, Gustav Miller, however, insisted that she be arrested. She was not denied.

After the army had been led from the church, the police declared, blackjacks, knives, razors and pieces of iron were found in the vacated pews.

William D. Haywood, head of the Industrial Workers of the World, said after the arrest of Tannebaum and his followers that he was not surprised at the action of the police.

Bls. Bill Haywood Talks

"The police followed the advice given them by the newspapers," he said, "and that was to be expected. The result will be that the public will learn that the problem of the unemployed is not a myth."

Search of the prisoners arrested last night bears out their statements of poverty, except Hyman Finkelshten, whose pockets held $750.

The decisive action of Commissioner McKay last night will prevent further trouble and cause a postponement of the plan of the Industrial Workers of the World to send out 500 speakers to factories to urge workers to labor "only eight hours a day."

CAME TO SEE TANGO

JANITOR OF TOWNSHURTY TOWN HALL INSISTED ON BEING AD-MITTED TO TANGO TRIAL

An amusing incident relative to the tango cases which were tried in police court yesterday occurred at the afternoon session in the corridor leading to the court room.

Supt. Welch posted the members of his liquor squad at the head of the stairway which leads to the court room and unless those trying to enter after 3.15 in the morning or 1.15 in the afternoon were witnesses or had some business connected with the court they were refused admission.

About 2.30 o'clock yesterday afternoon an old colored man, bent with age, came crawling up the staircase. Officers Hession and Murphy were at the top of the stairs. Officer Murphy shouted down to the colored man that he might just as well save his energy and not climb any higher for he could not enter the courtroom.

The little old negro stopped in the middle of a stride and looked up at the two officers. "I sure must go in," he said, "for it is very important that I see just what is going on in there." One of the Sun reporters who happened to be standing at the head of the staircase with the officers, made bold enough to tell the old man to ascend and state his reasons for watching the trial of the performers of the forbidden tango.

Thinking no doubt that The Sun reporter was a person of authority at the police station the old man climbed the stairway. "I just have got to see that tango trial," he stated to Officer Hession, "for it's a matter of importance."

The two officers immediately began to cross-examine the old negro, asking him why he thought that he should be admitted to the court room while a large crowd was waiting at the entrance for an opportunity of listening to the case. "Why you see," said the colored man, "I'm the janitor of the townshurty town hall and I've got to find out just what this here tango is, so that I can stop it out there if any of these tough guys start somethin'."

Officers Hession and Murphy exchanged hurried glances and then decided to pass the old man who had journeyed in from Tewksbury for the purpose of discovering the correct, or rather incorrect method of dancing the now much-mooted tango. With a pleased expression upon his countenance the little man received permission to enter the courtroom and watch proceedings from a seat that gave him an unobstructed view of the entire courtroom. Hereafter longtails out of Tewksbury way will have to be very careful about their condition of mind when they go to the townshurty town hall to receive a copy of the illustration of the wrong way to perform the dance yesterday and may be deported upon to enforce the law as he saw it laid down by the local police in yesterday's trial.

CHILD SITS FIRE

To Mother's Clothing While She Slept —Her Narrow Escape—Assisted by Neighbors

BOSTON, March 5.—Henry Felik, two years old, set fire to his mother's clothing as she was sleeping on a couch in his home, 15 North Russell street, West End, yesterday afternoon, and then started a blaze in the kitchen with newspapers. Mrs. Felik awoke to find herself in danger and her neighbor, who assisted her in putting out the flames.

The boy's mother, Mrs. Jessie Felik, was sleeping soundly when the flames awoke her. She ran, screaming to the kitchen and soon drowned out the fire with a big water pail. She was not seriously burned. Someone notified the fire department, but before the apparatus arrived Mrs. Felik and Mrs. Sederky had extinguished the burning couch and the fire in the kitchen.

NEWS OF THE LEGISLATURE

Senate Tied Vote on Vacation Bill—Gov. Walsh Opposes Increase in His Salary

BOSTON, March 5.—The state senate rejected yesterday by a tie vote, 19 to 19, the bill providing that cities and towns shall give every year a vacation of two weeks to laborers employed in municipal work. But a reconsideration will be moved today by Senator Brennan of Cambridge, who was not in the chamber when the vote was taken.

When the matter came up, Senator Timilty of Boston said the bill was a good bill. He said that the present mayor of Boston went into the last campaign on his declaration that he would vote for anything that was for the interest of the laboring man, and that it was not for the mayor of Boston to go on record against this bill. Mr. Timilty said also that the present chairman of the finance commission would not now oppose this bill.

Senator Doyle, chairman of the committee on cities, said apparently some people had had a change of heart since they came before his committee. Senators Brennan of Charlestown, Hickey and Morgan, spoke for the bill and Senators Bellamy and Hobbs against it.

The vote on rollcall was: In Favor—Bagley, James H. Brennan, Clark, Dean, Draper, Eldridge, Fitzgerald, Hickey, Morgan, Johnson, Leonard, Mack, McCarthy, McConaughy, O'Rourke, Sheehan, Sibley, Teller, Timilty—19. Opposed—Bazoley, Bellamy, Boyer, Burbank, Chase, Cox, Doyle, Fisher, Gifford, Gordon, Hilton, Hobbs, Langsford, McLane, Nichols, Norwood, Ward, Wells, Williams—19.

Not Voting—John P. Brennan and the President—2. Hospital in Cambridge The bill to enable Cambridge to use a part of its park lands as a site for a municipal hospital was rejected without debate. The senate adopted an amendment to the bill compelling the courts to excuse members of the legislature if they did not keep their engagements in the law courts while they were at work in the state house. The bill was rejected.

the bill to reimburse cities and towns for the loss of revenue by the exemption of the homesteads of Civil war veterans, which homesteads are now exempt up to $2000. It was stated by one of the committee that Boston would have to pay about $50,000 more state tax under the proposed bill and would get about $5000, while other places would gain from $100 to $1500 each.

License Bill Killed An important measure acted upon was the bill providing that all cities and towns shall vote on license at the state election. The measure was killed on a roll-call of 19 to 13.

The house defeated Mr. Carr's motion for reconsideration of Tuesday's adverse action on his bill to limit the authority of inferior courts to determining the constitutionality of statutes. The bill relative to technical, industrial and vocational education in elementary schools was killed on roll-call, 19 to 13.

Mr. Washburn's resolutions for an opinion from the attorney general regarding the disposition of the Boston & Maine stock held by the Boston Railroad Holding company without action on the part of the general court, were recommitted without debate to the committee on rules.

Lomasney Attacks O'Menen Martin Lomasney attacked Police Commissioner O'Menen yesterday afternoon in the house as having defied the civil service law.

The bill under discussion was presented by Representative Cummings and provides for competitive examinations in the police department for promotions. Before the hearing Mr. O'Menen opposed the bill. A vote will not be reached until today. Mr. Lomasney said that the commission had ordered the police commissioner to hold examinations for promotion, and that the commissioner had not done so.

Millican Objection Possibly never before in the history of the Massachusetts militia has a bill been presented to the legislature which has created among the state soldiers so much interest and discussion as has the house bill to authorize an additional battalion of infantry, which with the 1st and 2d Corps of Cadets would form a regiment. This would be a very generous provision for the providing brigades of infantry, as the 1st Coast Artillery Corps was a part of the 1st Brigade before being changed into heavy artillery.

The bill will be opposed by many people, and a committee has already been formed to do everything possible to bring about its defeat. The opponents say that from $25,000 to $35,000 would be required every year if the bill passed.

The state now receives $10,000 from the federal government for the support of the militia, but this would not be increased if an additional regiment were formed, as the allotment is determined by the representation in congress.

Governor Opposes Increase Gov. Walsh voted yesterday to the committee on public service regarding an increase of the governor's salary, urging no change for this year at least.

Gov. Walsh writes the governor, "providing for an increase in the salary of the governor of $10,000 was presented from $3000 to $12,000, was presented without any solicitation on my part, and without my knowledge. The senator, who was a petitioner for the bill, would be generous enough to provide in the bill that it take effect this year. "That the present salary paid to the chief executive is inadequate every one concedes. That the honor of being governor is greater than any salary is indisputable. The citizen upon whom the people bestow this honor properly feels that he is the debtor rather than the creditor."

BOSTON DEBATED GRANTS RAISE BOSTON, March 5.—After a year's negotiations, an agreement was reached last night between the Boston Elevated Railway and its telegraphers who demanded increased wages and changes in working rules. An increase in wages was granted, to take effect from May 1, 1914. Other details of the agreement were not disclosed.

SWEET UNDERGROUND

AD OF SIX YEARS FELL INTO SEWER AND WAS CARRIED 150 YARDS—RESCUED BY LABORERS

PEABODY, March 5.—George McKinnon, a six-year-old boy, was rescued from drowning by the polluted waters of the North River canal after he had been carried through the 150-yard underground culcheway at Central street and swept nearly one-quarter of a mile by the rushing water of the canal yesterday afternoon. Two Greek laborers, bulled the unconscious boy from the water just in time to save his life.

Young McKinnon slipped into the water near the National Calfskin company's plant. Of account of the recent rain and thaw, the water was high and the current very strong.

Unable to grasp hold of the wooden walls of the canal, the boy was swept toward the underground culcheway. The canal goes under Central street, on the Danvers road, and into the dark sluiceway young McKinnon was carried. The poisonous gases caused the boy to lose consciousness while going through the 150-yard underground waterway, but his helpless body was still rushed along with the surging waters.

Michael Spillito and another Greek, who were working near Walnut and Wallis streets, caught sight of the unconscious boy in the canal. Spillito and his companion jumped into the water and brought the boy ashore. Balmbridge, Merrill and William T. Coyne pulled the boy on a barrel to rescue him. Coyne, who was driving a motor-truck in the vicinity, then leaped on his truck and broke speed records in search of a physician. He finally located Dr. S. Chase Tucker and brought him down to treat the boy. After the physician had ordered young McKinnon home, Coyne took him there in his auto truck. The lad will recover.

The water of the North river canal is polluted with sewage and waste from the tanneries and factories and the underground culcheway is regarded as particularly dangerous place.

Young McKinnon lives at 65 Tremont street. This boy, with his mother, has been visiting relatives when he wandered down to the canal and fell in.

RANTOUL DIVORCE CASE

HUSBAND AND WIFE BITTERLY SCORPED BY ATTORNEYS IN CLOSING ARGUMENTS

BOSTON, March 5.—The Rantoul divorce case came to an end yesterday afternoon when, after a terrific tongue lashing of Mrs. Lois Burgett Rantoul and her husband, Edward L. Rantoul, by the opposing attorneys, Judge Hardy took the case under advisement.

A decision is expected in about two weeks. Seldom if ever has such a bitter arraignment of two principals in a divorce case been heard. With serious abandon Attorney Thomas Hunt characterized Mrs. Rantoul as a liar and false woman, while with equal fervor Attorney Thomas W. Proctor typified Edward L. Rantoul as a man who had made a white slave of his wife and had brutally treated her while she was weak and sick in her bed.

SENSATION IN COURT

COUNCILLOR WATSON DENIES AT-TACK ON SHERIFF QUINN—WOM-AN APPEARS AGAINST SHERIFF

BOSTON, March 5.—Councillor James A. (Jerry) Watson created a sensation in the superior criminal court yesterday when he appeared in behalf of Mrs. Estelle Abbott, of 10 Blackwood street, who was before the court for sentence after having been found guilty of having performed an illegal operation on Minnie White, a 15-year-old Brockton girl.

Watson had hardly begun on his new role as defender of Mrs. Abbott when he commenced to attack Sheriff John Quinn, who was in the court-room.

Mrs. Abbott is to be his leading witness at the city council investigation of the Charles street jail, Saturday afternoon. She has furnished him with information which forms the basis of his attacks on Sheriff Quinn and his conduct of the jail of which as sheriff he is the keeper. He charged yesterday that this woman is today, facing sentence as a result of a conspiracy between the sheriff of Suffolk county and—

At this point he was summarily stopped by Judge Chase, who informed him that he did not care to hear him along these lines.

Mrs. Abbott was defended during the four-day trial by Clarence W. Rowley, and Watson stated that he had deserted her at the last minute and had not made any move towards filing exceptions to take her case to the supreme judicial court, as she had requested him to do.

Assistant District Attorney Lavelle insisted that sentence be imposed immediately, and Watson asked that it be put off until Monday. After a conference at the bench, a compromise was adopted so that she will be sentenced on Friday morning, at 10 o'clock.

Watson declared: "I can well understand why it is important that Mrs. Abbott be sentenced today. She is due to appear on Saturday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, as a witness before the city council committee which is investigating the Charles street jail, and if she is sentenced today she will be unable to be there then."

SUPPER-ENTERTAINMENT

UNDER AUSPICES OF MEN'S BROTHERHOOD OF FIRST TRINITARIAN CHURCH

A turkey supper and pleasing entertainment constituted the attraction of the First Trinitarian church last night. It was all under the auspices of the Men's Brotherhood and there was a good attendance. The committee of men in charge included the following: J. J. Hibbs, Nelson Hill, Earle F. Farnham, Charles Barlow, Hiram Brown, John T. Roy, Walter Smith, Joseph McGraw, G. T. Upton, Walter Lavelle, Dr. Sumner Thomas Dalton, Walter Grant, Grant Miller and Thomas Ferguson.

The main feature of the evening's program was a sketch entitled "Dance Dress, Suit Case," in which the following named people took part: "Mr. Dane," Emilie Hartford; "Mrs. Dane," Mrs. McKinley; "Mr. Scott," a traveling salesman, Mr. Stanley.

The sketch was preceded and followed by a collection for four hands by Mrs. Goodchild and Miss Rachel Faller, and a tenor solo by Edward Killpatrick. During the evening, several readings by Miss Mildred McKnight were greatly enjoyed.

Monthly Supper

The monthly supper and entertainment under the direction of the ladies of St. Paul's M. B. church was held last evening. Mrs. Ada Martin and Mrs. A. L. Macrae had charge of the supper, and they were assisted in the preparation and the serving by those members whose names begin with L and M. Following the supper a delightful entertainment was given. Mrs. N. J. Marrott gave several solos, with Mrs. F. Richardson at the piano. The H. W. H. class sang chorus numbers. A vocal duet by Mrs. Agnes Hart and Mrs. George McKewin and renditions by Miss Susie Caldwell were also heartily appreciated. Mrs. Richardson had charge of the entertainment.

Bright Little Farce

The regular monthly supper, at the First Congregational church under the auspices of the Church Aid society, was followed last night by a bright little farce, in one act given by the Christian Endeavor society. Mrs. Andrew Liddell and Mrs. Frederick Milne had charge of the supper, with a large number of assistants from the society.

The farce, given by the young people, was entitled "On Account of the Lobster," and the cast was as follows: Albert Langton, William Liddell, Grace Langton, Irene Cockerill, Fiddler, Arthur Galloway, Serena, Bertha Stewart.

HOW YOU MAY THROW AWAY YOUR GLASSES

This statement is made that thousands wear eyeglasses who do not need them. If you are one of these unfortunate, then these glasses may be ruining your eyes instead of helping them. Thousands who wear "window" may prove for themselves that they can dispense with glasses if they will get the following prescription filled at once: Go to any active drug store and get a bottle of Opton; fill a two-ounce bottle with water and drop in one Opton tablet. With this harmless liquid solution bathe the eyes two to four times daily and you are likely to be astonished at the results right from the start. Many who have been told that they have astigmatism, eye-strain, cataract, sore eyelids, weak eyes, conjunctivitis and other eye disorders report wonderful results from the use of this free prescription. Get this prescription filled and use it; you may so strengthen your eyes that glasses will not be necessary. Thousands who are blind or nearly so, or who wear glasses, would never have required them if they had cared for their eyes in time. Save your eyes before it is too late. Do not become one of these victims of neglect. Eyeglasses are only like crutches and every few years they are changed to fit the ever-increasing weakened condition, so better see if you can, like many others, get clear, healthy, strong, magnetic eyes through the prescription here given.—Advertisement.

SPEAKERS AT CHILD LABOR CONFERENCE

AND TYPICAL GROUP OF BOY "WORKMEN"

NEW ORLEANS, March 5.—The tenth national conference on child labor opens here March 15 to 18, and prominent speakers from many sections of the country will attend. This conference will give new impetus, it is expected, to the campaign now being waged against the employment of minors under improper conditions. Among those who will address the delegates will be United States Senator Robert L. Owen of Oklahoma, Jane Addams of Hull House, Chicago; Owen R. Lovejoy, general secretary to the national child labor committee; Dr. Felix Adler, chairman of the national child labor committee; Governor Luther E. Hall and Judge Joseph A. McCullough, of Greenville, S. C. The group of boys in the accompanying illustration shows a condition which the child labor opponents are endeavoring to abolish. These lads are employees of a cotton mill and work eleven hours a day.

CURLEY CUTS SALARIES DROPPED DEAD

Mayor of Boston Slashes Increase Granted by Fitzgerald to Fire Department Officers

BOSTON, March 5.—All of the officers of Boston's fire department and several of the employees of the fire alarm, construction and electrical branches of that service, had their salaries slashed by Mayor Curley yesterday.

In all the mayor lopped, at one swoop, $52,831 off the pay rolls of the department, cutting the salaries of every officer in the department from Chief Mullen to the newest lieutenant. None but the privates in the department escaped.

The cuts represented the last increases which these officers received from ex-Mayor Fitzgerald's hands. It was announced by the mayor last night that he is going to confer with Police Commissioner O'Meara today with a view to administering the same treatment to the members of the police department higher than the rank of sergeant.

Not in the history of the fire department has there been such a sweeping reduction in salaries. Mayor Curley's order for the salary cuts came like a "bolt from the blue" to even those in close touch with the administration. In the fire department the news of the cuts created much surprise and excitement.

While it was known that the mayor planned to cut the salaries of most of the city employees who had received salary increases during the latter part of the Fitzgerald administration, it was understood that the members of the fire and police departments would escape. In fact, the city hall reporters understood the mayor to say this himself.

He must secure Police Commissioner O'Meara's consent to the proposed cuts in the police department, however. The mayor said last night, he expects to get "in view of the fact that the police commissioner sees the raises in his department were not made at his request."

The retirement of John A. Mullen, Chief Mullen May Quit

chief of the Boston fire department, is regarded by the rank and file of firemen as a matter of only a few days.

Although the chief declined yesterday to discuss the matter for publication, he has talked about it freely with a number of his most intimate friends, who say that he is preparing to leave very shortly.

Ever since Mayor Curley announced the appointment of Deputy Chief Grady, as fire commissioner, the principal topic of conversation in the department has been the retirement of Chief Mullen. Although so far as is known no word or act not in keeping with propriety ever passed between the chief and his deputy, a breach has been observed between them for several years.

A slight misunderstanding started it and persons who were too eager as Florida wheeled the breach until it seemed that all friendship was lost between them. The deputy, however, continued to discharge the duties of chief while the latter was away on vacation.

The chief yesterday called the report that he did not intend to serve a mortal under his former deputy as entirely uncalled for. It is the general opinion, however, that this is the reason for the chief's approaching retirement.

He met a number of friends at headquarters in the morning and said that all friends there except Kennedy, Coulter, McLean and Mullen.

Although the chief is 65 years old and was entitled to retirement several years ago, his leave taking from the service will be entirely voluntary. Under the law he is entitled to a pension of $2250 a year.

Cook on Lighter Attempted to Save Pies as Boat Went Down

WOODS HOLE, March 5.—While attempting to save his pies from the galley of a sinking lighter at the stone pier near Bel Pond channel, Ira Brightman, cook of the craft, dropped dead from heart failure yesterday morning.

The lighter, owned by the J. C. Terry Contracting company of Fall River, was being used by workmen building a drawbridge over Bel Pond channel. While picking up a rock, a section of the under-water planking of the lighter was ripped off and the craft listed and commenced to fill and sink. Frank Peterson, a fireman, John Ross, the engineer, a driver, two laborers and Chief Brightman rushed from the lighter and leaped upon the stone seawall, believing the lighter would sink immediately.

As the crew of the lighter was watching it slowly sink, Brightman said to Everett Hilton, who was standing on the wall, "I guess I will go back and save the pies I have in the galley and in the oven."

As Brightman started for the galley he was seen to drop, and when picked up was dead.

PEOPLES CLUB

There was a large attendance at the regular meeting of the Peoples club last evening when Mrs. Minnie Elliot Tenney Peck of Brookline, gave a very interesting talk on Sicily. Several beautiful pictures describing that country and its beautiful cathedrals with exhibits of mosaic interiors were thrown on the screen and added much to the evening's entertainment.

Story of Sicily up to the time of its annexation with Italy was outlined by the speaker who had the attention of her audience at all times.

FOUR PRIMA DONNAS ILL LENGTH OF COURTSHIP KILLING WAS JUSTIFIED

QUARTET OF STAR GRAND OPERA SINGERS ARE ON SICK LIST AS RESULT OF WEATHER

NEW YORK, March 5.—Four grand opera prima donnas, Mrs. Melba, Mary Garden, Emmy Destin and Mme. Matzenauer, are on the sick list as a result of the stormy entrance of March.

Mme. Melba, according to dispatches from Springfield is prostrated there by laryngitis and she has cancelled all engagements. Mary Garden is similarly afflicted, but hopes to rejoin the Philadelphia-Chicago company on its western tour by the end of the week.

Miss Destin and Mme. Matzenauer are suffering from weather ailments that have caused temporary cancellation of engagements.

GAVIN FOUND NOT GUILTY

HAVERHILL, RESERVE OFFICER TO BE PROMOTED—TANGO PARTY CHARGE UNSUBSTANTIATED

HAVERHILL, March 5.—Alderman Bartlett, head of the department of public safety, announced yesterday that Reserve Officer William H. Gavin did not conduct a tango dancing party as had been charged, but that the story was a political attempt to prevent his election as a regular patrolman.

The Alderman investigated the case and said he would recommend Gavin's election when the proper time came. As Gavin, with Reserve Officer William H. Kelley, heads the civil service list, he will be elected.

BOSTON WOMEN HOLD PRIVATE HEARING AND DISCUSS THE "BACHELOR BILL"

BOSTON, March 5.—At a private hearing over the "bachelor bill" at the residence of Mrs. Caroline Nelson, Cambridge, yesterday, prominent women declared that there should be some legal protection for women who have given up their hearts to men who can't make up their minds to be married.

Mrs. Charlotte Smith, president of the Woman's Homestead association, declared that "no man has any right to court a woman for 15 years."

GRAND JURY SO DECIDES IN CASE OF MAN WHO SHOT DEFENDANT IN MURDER TRIAL

ST. LOUIS, Mo., March 5.—The grand jury yesterday decided that Henry Zang was justified in killing Wesley ("Red") Simon, three hours after Simon went on trial for the murder of another gangster.

Zang, who was to have been the chief witness against Simon, testified yesterday that he shot the defendant when he thought Simon was about to kill him. Zang probably will be released today.

IN MILL CITIES

Figures on Valuations in Lowell, Fall River and New Bedford

The national census bureau and the state bureau of statistics have compiled a comparison of figures relative to property valuations in the three mill cities of Massachusetts having over 10,000 of population—Lowell, Fall River and New Bedford. The figures show that approximately 45 per cent. of Lowell's total assessed valuation is valuation of buildings, with about 31 per cent. of the total valuation of the city a land valuation and 22 per cent. personal property valuation. Lowell has the smallest amount of personal property assessed, the largest total assessed valuation of land and the second largest valuation of buildings. The population of the three cities as given in the statement is as follows:
 Fall River ..... 122,532
 Lowell ..... 109,009
 New Bedford ..... 102,099
 In the number of assessed male polls in these three cities, Lowell is third, the standing being:
 Fall River ..... 31,738
 New Bedford ..... 25,834
 Lowell ..... 21,508
 In land area Fall River covers more than twice as much ground as Lowell, this city being a poor third when it comes to area, the standing in acreage being:
 Fall River ..... 21,723 acres
 New Bedford ..... 12,406 acres
 Lowell ..... 8,398 acres
 The assessed acreage of the three cities follows:
 Fall River ..... 16,002 acres
 New Bedford ..... 11,152 acres

FUNERALS

CASS—The funeral services for Orlando J. Cass were held yesterday from the home of his son, Stephen G. Cass, Chalmers Centre, Rev. Charles H. B. B. pastor of the Central Baptist church officiated. There was singing by Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Warren, who sang "Nearer My God to Thee," and "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere." Among the floral offerings were a wreath, from his children, and other tributes from the following: Mrs. Julia Merrill, Mr. Brian Merrill and family, and Maude, Helen and Mort Cass. The body was taken to Searsport, Me., where burial took place today. The funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertaker William H. Saunders.

DAY—The funeral services for Miss Ada A. Day took place from the home of her niece, Mrs. Elmer O. Brennan, 52 Warwick street, yesterday afternoon. The services were conducted by Rev. Raymond G. Clapp, pastor of the First Unitarian church. Mrs. Nettie Roberts and Mrs. H. E. Symonds sang appropriate selections. The bearers were Symonds, J. Harry Gamble and Elmer G. Brennan. Burial was in the Edison cemetery where the committal service was read by Rev. Mr. Clapp. The funeral was under the direction of Undertakers Young & Blake.

DIETTE—The funeral of Mrs. Dina Thomas Diette, widow of Adolpho Diette, took place from the home, 29 Chalmers street, and was largely attended. A solemn funeral mass was celebrated at 9 o'clock at Notre Dame de Lourdes church by Rev. Leon LaSalle, O. M. I., who was assisted by Rev. J. B. A. Barrett, O. M. I., as deacon and Rev. Joseph Maginn, O. M. I., as sub-deacon. The bearers were Geo. and Arthur Diette, Alfred La Belle, George Lumbie and Messrs. Bellefeuille and Macreotte. St. Anne's sodality of Notre Dame de Lourdes parish, which deceased was an esteemed member, was represented by Mrs. A. Day, Mrs. A. Dunn, Mrs. W. Hamilton and Mrs. G. Diette. Among the many elaborate floral offerings laid upon the grave were a large pillow, inscribed "Mother, the bereaved family: cross on face," inscribed "At Rest," the Emmanuel family; large wreaths, members of St. Anne's sodality and other places from Mr. and Mrs. John Dwyer, Alfred La Belle, Mr. and Mrs. George Diette, Eldon Boyd and others. The body was placed in the receiving tomb in

DEATHS

HALLORAN—Gerardine Claire Halloran, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Timothy J. Halloran, died last night at her home, 50 Mt. Washington street. She was five years and eight months old.

RICKER—Mrs. Rebecca Ricker died yesterday at her home, 60 Race street, at the age of 88 years and 3 months. She is survived by one son, A. N. Ricker of this city. The body was removed to the undertaking rooms of J. F. Rogers.

LOISELLE—Mrs. Lucie Giguere Loisel, wife of Joseph Loisel, aged 63 years, 4 months, died last evening at her home, 15 Mt. Vernon street, after a lingering illness. Deceased was a prominent member of St. Anne's sodality and also of the United Order of St. Francis of St. Joseph's parish. She leaves besides her husband, Joseph Loisel, three sons, Arthur, Norbert and Alphonse, and two daughters, Mrs. Henri Aubert and Mrs. Joseph Loisel; also two brothers, Jean Loisel and Gethias Giguere, and three sisters, Mrs. Lucie Malhoux, Mrs. Adeline Legare and Mrs. Della Asselin.

MENARD—Mrs. Lilly McNabb, widow of the late George H. McNabb and a well known parishioner of St. Columba's church, died last night at her home, 65 Dunfee street. She is survived by two sons, George T. and Raymond H. McNabb of Lowell and five daughters, Anna, Alice M., Maude H., Mildred J. and Marie G. McNabb, all of Lowell. Two brothers and four sisters also survive her. They are John L. and Thomas A. Nugent, Mrs. Margaret Stoken and Miss Mary Nugent, all of Lawrence, and Mrs. William J. McJoy and Mrs. Clifford A. Moore of Lynn.

EVANS—Walter A. Evans, for the past 25 years a resident of Billerica, died at his home there yesterday morning at the age of 73 years. Mr. Evans was one of the best known men in the town, having lived in both North Billerica and at the Centre, where he had resided since retiring as agent of the Paulkner Manufacturing Co. about four years ago. He died in the year 1886 and immediately took up the duties of superintendent of the Billerica company, of North Billerica. He later was advanced to the position of agent, and retired from active life nearly four years ago. He was a member of Thomas Tal-

DOUBLE FUNERAL HELD

Large concourse of mourners at funeral of Katherine and Margaret Harrington
 The funeral of the late Misses Katherine F. and Margaret F. Harrington, the two sisters whose pathetic deaths so touched the people of this city a few days ago, was held this morning from their late home, 758 Broadway, and the large attendance bore testimony to the respect with which they were regarded in the community, and to the sympathy which their untimely deaths under such circumstances aroused. In life both sisters were united in a bond of unusual devotion, made all the closer by the affliction which made of Margaret's life a sacrifice of sisterly love, and in their case the spiritual quotation was literally true, "Even in death they were not divided." Those who knew of the touching circumstances surrounding their bright home life and of the untiring and nobly unselfish love that made it something holy will not easily forget their emotion as they saw the sisters lying peacefully side by side, the struggle over, the stormclouded. Today, as the two white caskets were borne into the church and placed together in front of the black draped altar, while the organ pealed out in touchingly solemn tones, there were few dry eyes in the well filled church. The double funeral took place this morning from their late home, 758 Broadway, at 8 o'clock, and the funeral mass was held at St. Patrick's at 9 o'clock. In front of the altar were 12 lighted candles, six on either side, and the two caskets rested in the space between, during the singing of the requiem service, which was solemn Gregorian. The mass was sung by Rev. James Kerrigan, and Monsignor William O'Brien sat within the sanctuary throughout. The solo of the mass and

SEPARATE SIAMESE TWINS

Delicate Operation Performed at Paris Today—Tragic Deaths of Other Twins

PARIS, March 4.—The delicate operation of separating the "Siamese twins," Madeleine-Suzanne, who were born united, was performed here today.

No such operation had taken place in France since Dr. Doyen, in 1902, separated the two Hindu children, Radica-Rodien, who died of tuberculosis after the operation.

The twins operated on today were born Nov. 28, 1913. At birth they weighed ten pounds. Both children appeared perfectly healthy.

Madeleine-Suzanne was joined to her sister in the region of the stomach. The junction was of a superficial kind and radiography examination showed that there was no organ of importance in the uniting membrane. The organs of the children were entirely distinct.

The operation on the twins so joined although always dangerous to life was considered justified by French scientists in view of the tragic deaths of former pairs.

One of the original Siamese twins saw his brother, Chang, died by his side and himself died of horror in a delirium a few hours afterward. Madeleine-Suzanne died in a similar manner and the last moments of Helene-Judith in the 17th century are known to have been marked by awful cries of pain from one of the twins, the other screaming with horror as the dead body beside her gradually sapped her own life.

THE TANGO TRIAL
Continued

Yesterday Afternoon's Session
The testimony at the afternoon session yesterday is given below:

Trial of the case was resumed at 2:03 o'clock and Mr. O'Connor resumed his cross-examination of Officer Clark. He inquired relative to names taken by the officer and the latter stated that he attempted to get names but failed. The officer said there were about 150 persons in the hall. He asked three young men for their names, he said, and they refused.

"Did you have reason to believe that the young men whom you asked were in a position to know of the dancers and their actions?" asked Mr. O'Connor.

"I did because they were watching the dancers," said the officer.

"Then you did not keep your eyes constantly on the dancers?"

"Not all of the time."

At this point there was a scuffle about a book from which the officer had read in the forenoon. The officer refused to give up the book and the court was appealed to.

Mr. O'Connor reached for the book and the officer drew it away.

"Do you think I am a burglar?" asked Mr. O'Connor.

"I don't know whether you are or not," retorted the officer.

Mr. O'Connor finally got possession of the book and read aloud Officer Clark's notes taken at Lincoln hall.

Seven Copies Warned
It was noted in the book that seven copies had been warned by the officer and also made mention of the fact that Officer Swanwick's attentions had been called to the dancers. Officer Swanwick was at the hall all during the dance.

"Did you see the superintendent at the dance?" asked the officer.

"I did not."

At this point Mr. O'Connor took a new tack, attacking the witness' record.

Officer Clark's Record Assailed
"You said when I asked you if you thought I was a burglar, that you didn't know whether I was or not?" said Mr. O'Connor.

"Yes, I said that," replied the officer.

"Were you ever a burglar?" asked Mr. O'Connor.

"No, I didn't break into Cahill's blacksmith shop and were you not arraigned in the police court for burglary and larceny?"

Supt. Welch objected and said that if Mr. O'Connor even believed there was anything to his questions he was going at it in an irregular manner.

The court said it would be necessary to produce the papers in connection with the case. The papers would be the best evidence, he said.

Mr. O'Connor then put questions to the officer relative to replies made by him when he took the civil service examination, dealing again with the question of burglary.

After considerable controversy the court ruled the questions out, the questions having to do with the alleged burglary.

In reply to questions by Mr. O'Connor, Officer Clark said he watched the tango at the "Vesper" hotel and other places as well as at Lincoln hall and other halls, similar in character. "Do you make a report to the superintendent every day?" asked Mr. O'Connor.

"No, not every day," replied the officer.

"In each instance do you give the names of parties?"

"If I know them."

"How do you obtain names?"

"By hearing them mentioned."

"Can you recall when it was you and your first report with names?"

"I think the second or third night."

"How did you speak to them?"

"Sometimes before they started to dance and sometimes after."

"You didn't take names before they started to dance?"

"No, not unless they had been dancing."

"When you went up to Miss Marcotte and Mr. Hennessy and asked their names there was nothing unusual about that?"

"Yes, if necessary."

"When did the Lenton season begin?"

"Ash Wednesday."

"How many weeks in Lent?"

"Seven weeks, I think."

"Is it customary to have dances in the Lenton season?"

"Yes."

"Don't you know that certain religious denominations forbid dancing during Lent?"

"How many dances have you been to since Lent began?"

"Two."

"Public dances?"

"Yes."

FIRST CHANGES SLIGHT

AT OPENING—BULLNESS OF FIRST TWO DAYS GAVE WAY TO ACT-IVITY—CLOSED STRONG

NEW YORK, March 4.—The abnormal dullness of the first two days of the week, gave way to a fair degree of activity at the opening today. First changes were slight, but as the market got under way prices were advanced materially. Reading, Union Pacific, Smelting and several other stocks were bid up a point. New Haven sold down to a new low record at 55 1/4, but later rose with the rest of the list. The poor annual report of the American Woolen Co. was reflected in a two-point decline of the common stock. U. S. express lost their points of its recent gain.

Execution of moderate buying orders today caused prices to advance a little, as to indicate a scarcity of stocks. Stocks which attempted to over-advance were compelled to raise their bids sharply. Although the pace slackened after the most pressing requirements of the shorts had been filled quotations held up well to the high level. U. S. Steel and the stocks of independent steel companies were prominently in the trading.

Speculation came virtually to a halt in the afternoon, but prices were maintained firmly owing to the sustaining influence of the short interest. Fears of the effect of the new sugar schedule which became operative in March caused material declines in beet sugar and American Sugar. Forced selling of New Haven was suspended and the stock made a better showing.

The market closed strong. Fresh buying appeared on fractional declines and the list became more active, higher and broader. Favorable steel trade reviews caused large absorption of the stocks of steel and related industries.

NASHUA MILLS CLOSE

HIGH WATER IN MERRIMACK RIVER CAUSED SHUT-DOWN—1000 OUT OF WORK

NASHUA, N. H., March 4.—High water in the Merrimack river caused the shut-down today of the cotton mill of Jackson Brothers, throwing a thousand hands out of work. The river was 11 or 12 feet above normal and backed up into the Nashua river which at Mine Falls, just above the city was 47 inches above normal. An ice gorge half a mile in extent above Taylor's falls bridge over the Merrimack was threatening that structure which connects Nashua and Hudson.

BLAZE IN CLASSICAL HIGH SCHOOL AT WORCESTER TODAY CAUSED $200 DAMAGE

WORCESTER, March 4.—A blaze in classical high school today did $200 damage to the building and caused a suspension of classes. Dust accumulations in hot air ventilating box were ignited by steam pipes. The 700 pupils over the school got out in 4-5 minutes in response to a signal for fire drill.

SAW HUSBAND IN DREAM

ROADWAY WOMAN THREATENED WITH EVICTION THINKS HUSBAND IS IN LOWELL

Mrs. Bella C. Todd of 204 Warren street, Roxbury, who believes her husband is employed in Lowell, having had a remarkable dream in which she saw her husband at work in a Lowell bakery, claims she is threatened with eviction from her home for non-payment of rent. Mrs. Todd, who has two daughters to take care of, has no resources or income and in case of eviction she has no place to go. Mrs. Todd had planned to come to this city in an effort to locate her husband, but the bad weather prevented her from so doing. Her finances, she states, are very low, and she has managed to "keep her head above water" up to the present time by letting rooms, but during the past few months she has been unable to let the extra room.

BLUEBIRD AT SPRINGFIELD

GENERALLY REGARDED AS A HARBINGER OF SPRING—RECORD OF PAST ARRIVALS

THE INAUGURATION DATE

ADVOCATES OF CHANGE HAVE SEIZED RECENT SEVERE STORM AS ARGUMENT

WASHINGTON, March 4.—Advocates of a change in presidential inaugurations from March to a later date, for the weather is less likely to be unfavorable, have seized upon the recent severe snowstorm as a strong argument in favor of the proposition. Advocates of the present change were recalling today President Taft's inauguration, which was accompanied by a blizzard as convincing proof of the necessity of a change. Rep. Smith of Maryland today introduced a bill to create a congressional committee to consider the proposition.

Will Rest Near Body of Fr. Corby Who in Midst of Shot and Shell, Gave Absolution to Soldiers

NOTRE DAME, Ind., March 4.—The sword of General Thomas Francis Meagher, commander of the Irish Brigade in the Civil war, was today presented to the university of Notre Dame to rest near the body of Father Corby, the chaplain, who with hands uplifted gave in the midst of shot and shell that absolution to the Irish soldiers on the battlefield of Gettysburg. The presentation of the sword to the university was made by United States Senator Thomas J. Walsh, of Montana, where General Meagher, died while acting as territorial governor. W. Bourke Cockran, of New York, was the orator selected to tell of the significance that attaches to the sword of General Meagher. The general had been sentenced to be hanged for treason by the British government owing largely to a speech in Dublin when he represented of the Young Ireland revolutionary party Meagher had "defied to stigmatize the sword" and had given as a reason the famous passage beginning: "At the blow a great nation started from the waters of the Atlantic." During the ceremonies of today cadets of the university acted as a guard of honor for the sword. Representatives of Irish societies from various cities formed part of those in attendance.

B. & M. OFFICIALS TOUR

PASSED THROUGH LOWELL ON SPECIAL TRAIN BOUND NORTH ON INSPECTION TOUR

Morris McDonald, president of the Boston & Maine railroad, together with Benjamin B. Pollock, general manager; Arthur B. Corbett, chief engineer; John Bourke, division superintendent; and one or two other superintendents of the Boston & Maine railroad passed through this city this morning about 8 o'clock on their way north where they will make the first of the annual inspections of the rolling stock, roadbed, shops, buildings, freight and passenger stations and all equipment of the division with a view to ascertaining its exact condition. The party traveled in a special train which was composed of the president's private car and three or four other private coaches that are used by the men high up in railroad circles. The train did not stop at the Middlesex street station and as it will return by another route no inspection of the local conditions will be made at this time. According to information given to The Sun the officials of the road propose to secure an accurate idea of the condition of the properties they may estimate how much money ought to be spent on it for repairs, new buildings and equipment. They started from Boston on the special train and will go as far north as Sherbrooke, it is said. That the president of the B. & M. was to make through Lowell was not known by the general public but there was a small crowd on the platform at the station this forenoon to see the handsome special speed by. BIRTHDAY PARTY
A very pleasant birthday party was held last evening at the home of Mr. Emory Noris, 231 White street, in honor of his 20th birthday. During the evening the young man was presented a gold watch and fob, the presentation being made by Miss Laura DeLisle. The following musical entertainment was given: Cornet solo, Alphonse Roux; violin solo, Mozar Champagne; piano duet, Misses Yvonne Morin and Alice Fraser.

The elements have dealt unkindly with both the Atlantic and the Pacific coasts, as these pictures show. The blizzard in the Atlantic states was the worst since the record making blizzard of March 12, 1888. It stalled trains for days, tied up traffic in and around New York, Philadelphia, Boston, and other big eastern cities and caused the death of a score or more persons, mainly from broken wires. Never were more poles snapped off along the railroad lines and wires broken than in this storm. On the Pacific coast, a sudden and unusual downpour of rain caused a damaging flood, particularly in the San Joaquin valley and around Los Angeles. Residents in some sections were forced to flee for their lives. Several deaths resulted. With the late heavy snowfall in the east the danger of spring floods there is now a subject of some fear.

AN EXCITING RUNAWAY LYNN BASEBALL CLUB FOR WIDOWED MOTHERS

STOPPED BY OFFICER PATRICK CLARK IN MAD GALLOP DOWN CENTRAL STREET

A horse owned by Joseph Walsh and driven by John Garnick caused quite a little commotion last night about 8 o'clock on Central street. At least Officer Patrick Clark thinks that things were mighty lively for a few minutes.

The horse became frightened as he turned into Central street from Gorman and legged it down toward Merrimack street at a fast clip with Garnick sitting in the wagon and sawing on the reins to no account. As the excited animal tore by Hurd street Officer Clark caught sight of the careening rig and set off in pursuit of the runaway.

At the junction of Market and Prescott streets a car turning the corner nearly upset the officer's heroic intentions as well as the horse and team. The forward wheels of the team grazed the fender of the car but the slight slackening in the pace of the horse was all that the fleet officer needed. Officer Clark grabbed the bridle and brought the horse to a standstill in a few minutes. Although the driver was badly frightened, by his narrow escape to and the horse both escaped injury.

PROFITS $15,704 LESS

Substantial Increase in Deposits, However, in the Savings Banks in Maine

AUGUSTA, Me., March 5.—While there was a substantial increase in deposits, the profits of the savings banks in Maine the past year were $15,704 less than in 1913, according to returns to State Bank Commissioner Harry M. Smith. The deposits aggregated $85,785,450, a gain of $2,202,902, and the profits were $2,631,950. The average rate of dividends paid was 3.91 per cent, the dividends amounting to $3,361,708. The average amount of each depositor's account was $101.33.

WILL NOT TRAIN AT HOME—OFFICIALS DO NOT WANT NEW RECRUITS TRAINED BY FANS

President Fraser of the Ocean Park Stars virtually declared that the Lynn club would not train at Ocean Park and that as soon as the snow clears from the ground would scout around to dig up a training camp nearer inland. He has come to believe that it is better to take the squad to heading, Naughts, Wakefield, Danvers or some other town away from the chilling east winds than to lose time and gutter lane arms at Ocean Park.

Frank J. Leonard also believes that the club would show better form if training away from home. Leonard hopes that it would be a grand thing if the club could remain away from Lynn until the opening of the season.

"This reporting away from home always allows the manager to study the habits of his men and to get in closer touch with them," remarked Frank. "And also it gives the manager an opportunity to weed out the freaks of the squad before the critical fans get a look at them in action."

A club-training abroad always has the advantage of appearing at home in better shape and looking more like a ball club.

First Look Counts
Sometimes the first impression given to the fans will mean a whole lot to the future finances. A crowd of crude roils are seen by the fans at practice while the regulars are simply working easily.

The fan leaves the cold, damp park and passes the word along uptown that "Lynn has a punk lot of youngsters, and that the fans look slower than ever." These first impressions may count a whole lot at the gate. The chances are that the fans who first come to Ocean Park do not hang around more than one or two days and then decide to wait until the weather is warmer before paying much attention to baseball.

Critics Find Club
These self-appointed critics are invariably prone to pan the players who are working at a disadvantage in one of the coldest parks in the country.

NEW YORK, March 5.—The New York state commission of relief for widowed mothers in an announcement today says that there is a need for government assistance for the widowed mother with dependent children and that it is feasible to provide effective, wise and administrative machinery for the state to meet this need. The commission expects to make its report to the legislature on March 15.

TANGO IN NEW YORK

Mayor Mitchell Says He Did Not Order Tango Dancing to Cease at 1 O'Clock—Orders Misunderstood

NEW YORK, March 5.—Devotees of the tango and other forms of dancing who showed keen disappointment on Tuesday night when the police closed several of the establishments on Broadway where dancing follows midnight supper, breathed a sigh of relief last night when Mayor Mitchell announced that the order to close these places at 1 o'clock in the morning, when the law compels them to close their bars, had not been issued by Police Commissioner McKee.

Asked whether such an order had come from his office, Mayor Mitchell said that such was not the case, and that in his opinion the closing was the result of a misunderstanding of orders. Dancing has been permitted recently to continue after the sale of liquor had been stopped.

"The closing of the establishments will not continue," said the mayor. "I have no intention of carrying out the stringent measures of the last administration in regard to the closing at 1 o'clock."

INVESTIGATION INTO BENTON MURDER ON

to Conduct Inquiry—Diaz Supporters Seek Approval of U. S.
in Movement for Revolution

NOGALES, March 5.—Appointment of a Mexican commission to investigate the Benton case resulted today in a difference of opinion among Carranza's advisers. While it was expected these surrounding the constitutional commander-in-chief realized his delicate position as a result of the Benton death, they had argued that his act in refusing information to the Washington government had created a false impression in the United States and England in regard to his implied meaning in the matter.

From those in close touch with Carranza and his policies it was learned that the appointment of the Benton commission was but the first step in a series of acts which would be calculated to do away with what was considered a misunderstanding and to convince the world of the good intentions of Carranza toward the welfare of all individuals foreigners in Mexico.

LULL IN INQUIRY INTO DEATH OF BENTON AND AMERICANS IS ONLY TEMPORARY

WASHINGTON, March 5.—The apparent lull on the part of the United States in pursuing its inquiry into the death of William S. Benton, a British subject, and into the mysterious disappearance of Gustav Bauch, an American citizen, is only temporary, according to those well informed on the intentions of the Washington administration. The United States, it was explained today, simply is awaiting the outcome of the investigation instituted by General Carranza himself not only into the Benton execution but in the Bauch case. Outwardly it was apparent that Carranza's determination to supply information about the Benton case, though technically denying the

JUDGE ENRIGHT'S PROMPT DECISION

Discharging Both Defendants After Hearing Evidence of the Young
Man's Irreproachable Character—
Mr. Hennessy Had Testified

The assembly in police court was taken by surprise at the sudden termination of the case and the sudden decision of the court. Judge Enright said he could not find anything on which to hold the defendants and remarked that he hoped the law now before the legislature for the suppression of the so-called animal dances would pass.

Trial of the tango case, so-called, was resumed in the police court this forenoon and that interest in the tango-dip-schottische-waltz episode is still in bloom was manifested by the reappearance of yesterday's roaring, sargling, billowy crowds, that jammed the doors almost to the point of obliging the officers to use their clubs.

It was given out as an "honest and true" that the defendants in the case, Angelina Marcotte and Frank Hennessy, would give a tango demonstration just to show to the court that it was physically impossible for them to assume the postures and negotiate the movements described by the "tangoing" police officers, yesterday, whose stunts in police court was the most remarkable ever witnessed in a court room in Massachusetts.

Everybody knows that youth must be provided for and youth helped itself to a seat in police court today. The young fellows, the spellers, arrived early and when the fellows of the front-row type arrived they had to be content with a stand-up seat. Reporters, photographers and cartoonists were everywhere, and one unacquainted with the facts might well imagine that something of international importance was taking place or that Harry Thaw had taken town.

Case Called at 10:30

The tango case was called at 10:30, and witnesses for the defense, five in all, were called and sworn.

Frank Hennessy, the man in the case, was the first witness.

Lawyer O'Connor carried the witness along from the time he left school to the present day. He is at present employed in Currier's market on John street.

Describing to the court what he had done at Lincoln hall on the evening of Feb. 13, witness told of purchasing his ticket, visiting the smoking room, etc. He told of having the last dance with Miss Marcotte and denied that the officer had at any time warned him. He said he was coming away from the hall when the officer asked him his name.

"Didn't the officer warn you by beckoning of hand or nod of head?" asked Mr. O'Connor.

"No, sir,"

"On my chest."

"You did not indulge in the movements demonstrated by the officer yesterday?"

"No, sir."

"When the officer served the warrant did you say you supposed it was for what took place at Lincoln hall?"

"No, sir, I did not."

"Did you make any inquiry?"

"I asked him what the warrant was for."

"How many dances did you dance?"
"Three in all."
"How did you dance them?"
"As anybody else would, I suppose."
On cross-examination witness reiterated that he had not been warned by the officers, while dancing.
"How did you have a hold of her?" asked Sup't. Welch.
"I had my hands on her shoulders."

Tangoist Discharged

"Where were her arms?"
"On my chest."
"You did not indulge in the movements demonstrated by the officer yesterday?"
"No, sir."
"When the officer served the warrant did you say you supposed it was for what took place at Lincoln hall?"
"No, sir, I did not."
"Did you make any inquiry?"
"I asked him what the warrant was for."

John P. Curley
John P. Curley, Mr. Hennessy's employer, was the next witness. He said he had known Frank Hennessy since he was four years old and his reputation as to truth, veracity and character was the best, and this statement was corroborated by Dr. William P. Lawler.

The defense closed its case without putting Miss Marcotte on the stand and Judge Enright, after summing up briefly, found the defendants not guilty.

Judge Enright said he was sorry that he could not find anything on which to hold the defendants because he believed that something should be done to suppress indulgence in the so-called "animal" dances. He cited cases coming under the same statute as the one under which the complaint against the defendants had been made and could find nothing that would warrant him in holding them. He hoped that the bill now before the legislature providing for the elimination of the tango and other dances of a like nature would become law as under the present state of affairs it is impossible for the police to regulate dancing.

The testimony given in this case yesterday afternoon will be found on page 7.

MRS. GERAGHTY BAKES BREAD

Family Also Uses Beer and Rye, as Revealed in Suit For Bill of $25 Filed in Superior Court

BOSTON, March 5.—Jack Geraghty's grocery bill has been filed in the superior court as an exhibit in the suit brought by the S. S. Pierce Co. to recover $28.52. The items range from 42.70 for 24 bottles of beer to two cents for a yeast cake, the last named evidencing that Mrs. Geraghty, who is a niece of Mrs. Elsie French Vanderbilt, makes her own bread.

The bill also evidences fondness for bacon and kippered herring. Twice there was an order for two dozen bottles of beer, besides a bottle of rye and a dozen bottles of stout.

Pres. Wilson Personally Appealed

WASHINGTON, March 5.—President Wilson personally appealed to congress, exactly 420 words, was as follows:

"Gentlemen of the congress: I have come to you on an errand which can be very briefly performed but I beg that you will not measure its importance by the number of sentences in which I state it. No communication I have addressed to the congress, carried with it graver or more far-reaching implications to the interest of the country and I come now to speak upon a peculiarly grave one which I am charged to a peculiar degree by the constitution itself with personal responsibility.

"I have come to ask for the repeal of the Taft-McCumber treaty."

President Wilson's address, the shortest he has yet delivered to congress, exactly 420 words, was as follows:

COMMISSIONER DONNELLY

Will Not be Able to Carry Out Improvements Intended—Street Men Discharged

Commissioner Donnelly announced this morning that he will be unable to grant the increase in wages he promised the carpenters in his employ this morning on account of the cut given him in his estimates by the municipal council. Some time ago the Carpenters' union petitioned Mr. Donnelly for an increase of from 40 to 45 cents per hour and 44 hours to constitute a week's work, and the commissioner favored the petition, but he is now in a position that he cannot grant the increase.

The commissioner had planned a lot of work for this year, but it will be impossible for him to carry out his plans and only the routine repair work will be done. According to the recently enacted municipal finance law the city after the appropriations are voted cannot borrow for repairs of buildings unless there is an increase in floor space, so Commissioner Donnelly will have to confine himself to routine work during this present administration.

More Discharged

Commissioner Morse of the streets and highways department discharged 35 men from his payroll yesterday and incidentally two sewer foremen, Messrs. Smith and Gagnon were also given their walking tickets.

The water still bad

Complaints are very numerous in regard to the city water being rusty and muddy. In Belvidere, especially, it appears in this condition is so serious that many of the families have begun to purchase spring water and cannot use the city water even for cooking. In the morning especially it is very bad, often resembling light coffee more than water. The people are losing patience as the water instead of getting better is getting worse.

Funeral of Rev. Joseph Lefebvre Will Take Place Tomorrow

The body of the late Rev. Joseph Lefebvre, O. M. L., which now lies in state in the lower part of St. Jean Baptiste church, will be transferred to St. Joseph's church in Led street at 8:30 o'clock tomorrow morning. The remains will be escorted to the church by the Franco-American military societies of the parish.

At 8 o'clock the office for the dead will be sung by the clergy, and at 10 o'clock a solemn high mass of requiem will be celebrated. Burial will be at the Novitiate cemetery in Tewksbury in charge of Undertaker Amodeo Archambault.

CAME TO SEE TANGO

JANITOR OF TEWKSBURY TOWN HALL INSISTED ON BEING ADMITTED TO TANGO TRIAL.

An amusing incident relative to the tango cases which were tried in police court yesterday occurred at the afternoon session in the corridor leading to the court room.

Supt. Welch posted the members of his liquor squad at the head of the stairway which leads to the court room and unless those trying to enter after 4:15 in the morning or 1:45 in the afternoon were witnesses or had some business connected with the court they were refused admission.

About 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon an old colored man, bent with age, came crawling up the staircase. Officers Hession and Murphy were at the top of the stairs. Officer Murphy shouted down to the colored man that he might just as well save his energy and not climb any higher for he could not enter the courtroom.

The little, old negro stopped in the middle of a stride and looked up at the two officers. "I sure must go in," he said, "for it is very important that I see just what is going on in there." One of the Sun reporters who happened to be standing at the head of the staircase with the officers made bold enough to tell the old man to ascend and state his reasons for watching the trial of the performers of the forbidden tango.

Thinking no doubt that The Sun reporter was a person of authority at the police station the old man climbed the stairway. "I just have got to see that there trial," he stated to Officer Hession, "for it's a matter of importance."

The two officers immediately began to cross-examine the old negro, asking him why he thought that he should be admitted to the court room while a large crowd was waiting at the entrance for an opportunity of listening to the case. "Why you see," said the colored man, "I'm the janitor of the Tewksbury town hall and I've got to shut out just what this here tango is, so that I can stop it out there if any of these tough guys start somethin'."

Officers Hession and Murphy exchanged hurried glances and then decided to pass the old man who had journeyed in from an old man who had journeyed in from Tewksbury for the purpose of discovering the correct, or rather incorrect method of dancing the now much mooted tango. With a released expression upon his countenance the little man received permission to enter the courtroom and watch proceedings from a seat that gave him an unobstructed view of the entire courtroom. Hereafter tangos will be danced in the courtroom and the very careful about their conduct in the hall received a very concise illustration of the wrong way to perform the dance yesterday and may be depended upon to enforce the law as he saw it laid down by the local police in yesterday's trial.

CHILD SETS FIRE

To Mother's Clothing While She Slept—Her Narrow Escape—Assisted by Neighbor.

BOSTON, March 5.—Henry Feink, two years old, set fire to his mother's clothing as she was sleeping on a couch in their home, 18 North Russell street, West End, yesterday afternoon, and then started a blaze in the kitchen with newspapers. Mrs. Feink awoke to find herself in flames and her screams attracted Mrs. E. Sederberg, a neighbor, who assisted her in putting out the flames.

The boy's mother, Mrs. Jessie Feink, was sleeping soundly when the flames broke out. She ran, screaming to the kitchen and soon discovered that the fire was in the water dipper. She was not seriously burned. Someone notified the fire department, but before the apparatus arrived Mrs. Feink and Mrs. Sederberg had extinguished the burning couch and the fire in the kitchen.

RECEPTION AT Y. W. C. A.

Miss Helen Alling Davis, one of the Y. W. C. A. national secretaries, was tendered a reception in Kitson hall, Y. W. C. A. building, yesterday afternoon by the social committee of the association. During the afternoon Miss Davis spoke upon her work in the Y. W. C. A. throughout the country and told of the many friends who are doing for the young women of today.

Mrs. A. P. French of the social committee, assisted by Mrs. George Fish, had general charge, and the ladies who poured were Mrs. F. W. Qua, and Mrs. E. W. Trull.

Mrs. C. T. Union, president of the local association, received with Miss Davis and there was music by Miss Madeline McLean, violin, and Miss Mabel Sullivan, pianist.

NEWS OF THE LEGISLATURE

Senate Tied Vote on Vacation Bill—Gov. Walsh Opposes Increase in His Salary

BOSTON, March 5.—The state senate rejected yesterday by a tie vote, 10 to 12, the bill providing that cities and towns shall give every year a vacation of two weeks to laborers employed in municipal work. But a reconsideration will be moved today by Senator Brennan of Cambridge, who was not in the chamber when the vote was taken.

When the matter came up Senator Timothy of Boston said the bill was a good bill. He said that the present mayor of Boston went into the last campaign on his declaration that he would vote for anything that was for the interest of the laboring man, and that it was not for the mayor of Boston to go on record against this bill. Mr. Timothy said also that the present chairman of the Finance commission would not now oppose this bill.

Senator Doyle, chairman of the committee on cities, said apparently some people had had a change of heart since they came before his committee.

Senators Brennan of Charlestown, Hickey and Morgan, spoke for the bill and Senators Bellamy and Hubbs against it.

The vote on roll call was: In Favor—Bogley, Connel, Brennan, Clark, Evans, Eraser, Eldridge, Fitzgerald, Hickey, Morgan, Johnson, Leonard, Mack, McCarthy, McGonagle, O'Rourke, Sheehan, Sibley, Tetter, Timothy—12.

Opposed—Bazeley, Bellamy, Bover, Burbank, Chase, Cox, Doyle, Fisher, Gifford, Gordon, Hilton, Hobbs, Langeller, McLane, Nichols, Norwood, Ward, Wells, Williams—10.

Not Voting—John F. Brennan and the Hospital in Cambridge.

The bill to enable Cambridge to use a part of its park lands as a site for a municipal hospital was rejected without debate. The senate adopted an amendment to the bill compelling the courts to excuse members of the legislature if they did not keep their engagements in the law courts while they were at work in the state house. The bill to reimburse cities and towns for the loss of revenue by the exemption of the homesteads of Civil war veterans, which homesteads are now exempt up to $3000. It was stated by one of the committee that Boston would have to pay about $50,000 more state tax under the proposed bill and would get about $5000, while other places would gain from $100 to $1500 each.

The bill relative to technical, industrial and vocational education in elementary schools was killed on roll-call, 95 to 15.

Mr. Walsh's resolutions for an opinion from the attorney general regarding the disposition of the Boston & Maine stock held by the Boston Railroad Holding company without action on the part of the general court, were recommitted without debate to the committee on rules.

Athletes and Athletics

Harvard Athletics paid over $30,000 in all departments last year according to the figures set forth in the report of W. F. Garcelon, former treasurer of the Harvard Athletic association. The total receipts for last year were well over $150,000.

The Lowell party who were invited to attend the reception in New York to the home-coming world's tourists will leave here for the Big City today and tomorrow. Manager Gray, Owner Roach, Jim Kennedy and Jack Donnelly left this afternoon.

Exeter has been invaded by the measles and no less than eight athletes now now laid up with this disease. Dick Cleveland, son of the late president, is one of those who is confined to the hospital. Captain Williams of the track team is ill and may not be seen in a track uniform for several weeks.

The Harvard relay race which cracked the world's record over the B. A. A. indoor course at the schoolboy games Saturday, will be awarded medals for their feat by the athletic committee of the club. Their time of 3.03 for the 1500 yards will hold for a long time to come in all probability.

The Merchants' Association of New York city yesterday adopted a resolution which they voted to present to the secretaries of the army and navy. The business men want the Army-Navy game for their city next fall and the resolution sets forth the reasons why the children contest should be staged in the metropolis.

C. M. Jones, the Exeter sprinter who equalled the 40-yard dash record at the B. A. A. schoolboy meet last Saturday is looked by Coach Conner as one of the most promising athletes that he ever brought out. He is a brother of the famous brothers, Tad and Howard Jones, and is looked upon as Exeter's mainstay in the 100 yards and 220 yards this spring.

Matty Zieser is working out in great shape at the Red Sox training camp. The former Lowell pitcher is already attracting the attention of the sporting writers who are following the destinies of Bill Carrigan's at this stage of the season he ought to be doing wonders with his fast ball when the season opens.

Johnny Evers' appearance at the Braves' training quarters in Macon, Ga., has boomed along the work of the entire squad. The snappy, aggressive ex-manager of the Cubs is a wonder on the spring trip for he is going along himself all the time and pulls the maximum of speed out of his teammates. There is not another team on the National league circuit with two such clean infielders as Maranville and Evers.

"Let the outlaws start something," says Ben Johnson, "if they want a fight we'll give it to them." Such sentiments from Ben ought to be well thought over by the officials of the Federal's. Johnson has not made a blunder since jumping into the line of the baseball world with the formation of the American league and seldom talks a great deal unless he knows what he is talking about. If Johnson throws down the gauntlet then organized ball has more than an even chance with the outlaws.

FRITZ HANSON IN TOWN

NOTED SWEDISH WRESTLER HERE FOR BOUT WITH DUCHESNE TOMORROW NIGHT IN FIVE STAGE

Fritz Hanson, the wonderful weight champion of the wrestling game, arrived here late this afternoon for his bout with Tom Duchesne, the noted middleweight grappler of New Bedford, which will take place in Associate hall tomorrow night. Duchesne will arrive here tonight.

To say that Hanson is in shape would be to put it mildly for the Swede was never in better condition for a grueling contest than he is today. He has been working hard at his training camp in Laconia, N. H., for the last two weeks in preparation for this bout and has wrestled with some of the best men in the New England states, irrespective of weight, since he began to get down "line."

Reports from New Bedford during the past week have made Hanson prepare for this contest as he has not done for several years. Although Fritz is one of the most careful men in professional athletics so far as his every day physical condition is concerned, he has taken no chances on this contest, and his trainers said today that he was fit to give a great account of himself.

Ed Caddock of New Britain, Conn., and Joe Bissell of Newton will furnish a bout in the semi-final that will be worthy of notice. Both men are fast, aggressive wrestlers, and are certain to put up a thrilling event. In the "prelim" Andy O'Day of Lawrence and George Lappa of Lowell will come together. The Lowell boy has many admirers, who say that he is certain to be heard from when he gains more experience.

DIAMOND NOTES

Our old friend Daniel will not have so much fun this year as he did last season from appearances. The only two umpires that he did not threaten to punch, or actually perform this operation upon, were "Red" Rorty and Jack Stafford. Secretary Cooper's incoming crop of decision-makers are husky specimens and have all the earmarks of fire-eaters. If Clechey starts anything this year he may require assistance to finish the job.

William A. Buckland of Pittsfield whose pitching was largely responsible for the winning of the Maine Trolley league pennant by the Winthrop team last season, has signed a contract with the Portland New England league team and will report there to Hugh Dury with the other players about April 10.

Buckland, who is a left hander with no speed and a good assortment of curves, pitched two seasons for the Maine Central Institute team, and last year before the Trolley league season his twirling put the Institute nine in the first rank amongst Maine scholastic teams and won for them the schoolboy championship of western Maine.

In the Central Maine Trolley league which was composed of Gardiner, Hallowell, Augusta and Winthrop, the team which won the pennant, the team which won 11 for the latter team. He was rarely touched up for over five or six hits and averaged about eight or nine strikeouts in a game, and the clubs in the league were composed of college school and semi-professional stars. Buckland is 21 years old. He is built much after the fashion of Raymond Pert, the other school boy left hander already signed with Portland, being rather short with exceedingly powerful back and shoulders, which he uses to the best advantage for his speed ball. Buckland is employed in the woolen mill at Corinna this winter and says he is in the best of shape.

"Organized baseball and the Federal's are hot-foot after John Reilly, Yale's great third baseman. He could today have his pick of a big league berth, but he modestly says that he will not play professional, following the example of "Dutch" Carter, "Longy" Stagg, Harry Keaton and Ted Jones, Yale's former stars, who were offered contracts at their own terms, but who refused to surrender their amateurship.

"Reilly, whose home is in Brooklyn, has two older brothers, however, who have become professionals, and he may change his mind about going into business when he finishes his college career. "Barney" Reilly, his "elder brother, captained his freshman nine at Yale, but joined the Chicago Cubs and later the Brooklyn, and never played on the Yale varsity. Jim Reilly, another brother, played two years on the Yale nine and the Yale eleven and coached the navy eleven last season, thereby becoming a professional coach.

"John Reilly is not a footballist, but he is Yale's greatest baseball star in more than a decade, being the stellar third baseman in any American college and the most reliable batsman and base runner of the team.

PLANS HIS OWN FUNERAL

GEN. TAYLOR, CIVIL WAR VETERAN, ORDERS SOLID BRONZE COFFIN CAST FROM OLD CANNON

PHILADELPHIA, March 5.—General John P. Taylor, a Civil War veteran and member of the Gettysburg battlefield commission, although apparently in good health, is making advanced preparations for his funeral. He has placed an order for a solid bronze coffin to be cast from old cannon and a vault has been sunk in the private burying ground on his estate near Reedsville, Pa. The general plans to be interred there, covered by a big granite block to be surrounded and surmounted by a bronze statue of himself.

Gen. Taylor, despite his 86 years, is still robust and enjoys a horseback ride almost daily. He is a member of the National Monument club and a former commander of the Legion of Honor.

SCENES AT SPRING TRAINING CAMPS OF MAJOR LEAGUE BALL TEAMS

1-A SCENE IN "CAMP" 2-PRACTISING THE "HOOK SLIDE."

Most of the major league baseball teams are now at their spring training camps, working out the kinks that winter inactivity has placed in their brawny arms and legs. The illustration shows a scene in the camp of the Pittsburgh Nationals at Hot Springs, Ark., and Vic Salir of the Chicago Nationals practicing the so-called "hook slide" to base in a practice game between two "Cub" teams at Tampa, Fla.

EDSON SCHOOL VACANCY

CHRISTOPHER J. HAGAN THE LOCAL LOCAL CANDIDATE FOR PRINCIPAL

The attitude of Dr. Lambert and Mr. Calise at last night's meeting of the school board, relative to the election of a principal for the Edson school has caused no little criticism. While any elective position belongs to the candidate who can receive the necessary number of votes, in this case there appears in the contest what is popularly termed "the local candidate" in the person of Christopher J. Hagan, who is also the only local candidate in a field of a dozen and who received the votes of Abel T. Campbell and Perry Thompson, who it would appear are viewing the situation in a fair and practical light. Mr. Hagan, who is a native of Edson, despite the fact that the former mayor had previously announced in the press that he is not a candidate for the position.

Dr. Lambert is reported as favoring delay in order to look into the qualifications of the candidates. The local candidate, Mr. Hagan, already has been elected to the position of superintendent of schools. He acted as principal of the Edson school for one year while the late Mr. Burbank was on leave of absence. Mr. Hagan made an excellent showing and it was generally regretted that he could not be kept in the employ of the school department upon the return of Mr. Burbank. The public will hardly agree to any proposition to support an untried candidate for the position when we have a local man for the place who has already proved his competence.

RANTOUL DIVORCE CASE

HUSBAND AND WIFE BITTERLY SCORED BY ATTORNEYS IN CLOSING ARGUMENTS

BOSTON, March 5.—The Rantoul divorce case came to an end yesterday afternoon when, after a terrific tongue lashing of Mrs. Lois Burnett Rantoul and her husband, Edward L. Rantoul by the opposing attorneys, Judge Hardy took the case under advisement. A decision is expected in about two weeks.

Seldom if ever has such a bitter arraignment of two principals in a divorce case been heard. With serious abandon Attorney Thomas Hunt characterized Mrs. Rantoul as a liar and false woman, while with equal fervor Attorney Thomas W. Proctor, typified Edward L. Rantoul as a man who had made a white slave of his wife and had brutally treated her while she was weak and sick in her bed.

DARTMOUTH COLLEGE OFFICERS HANOVER, N. H., March 5.—H. A. Koelsch of New York was elected president of the senior class of Dartmouth college yesterday by six votes over K. Little of Pawtucket, R. I. Other officers elected were: Vice President, R. N. Hoggatt, of Cleveland, O.; secretary, J. T. Martineau of Portland, Me.; treasurer, J. D. Day of Portland, Me.; marshal, P. W. London of Troy, N. Y.

PROMINENT REPUBLICAN DEAD PORT PLAIN, N. Y., March 5.—De Witt Clinton Sultz, long a prominent republican, died at his home yesterday, aged 50.

Evers a Hard Man to Retire on Strikes—Leads in This Respect

Johnny Evers, deposed manager of the Cubs and the man upon whom the Braves are pinning their faith for the coming season, is the hardest batter to retire on strikes. Out of the entire season of 1913 Johnny fanned but 11 times. The six batters of both leagues who lead in this respect follow:

SENSATION IN COURT

COUNCILLOR WATSON RENEWS ATTACK ON SHERIFF QUINN—WOMAN APPEARS AGAINST SHERIFF

BOSTON, March 5.—Councillor James A. (Jerry) Watson created a sensation in the superior criminal court yesterday when he appeared in behalf of Mrs. Estelle Abbott of 10 Blackwood street, who was before the court for sentence after having been found guilty of having performed an illegal operation on Minnie White, a 19-year-old Brockton girl.

Watson had hardly begun on his new role as defender of Mrs. Abbott when he commenced to attack Sheriff John Quinn, who was in the courtroom.

Mrs. Abbott is to be his leading witness at the city council investigation of the Charles street jail. Saturday afternoon, she has furnished him with information which forms the basis of his attacks on Sheriff Quinn and his conduct of the jail of which as sheriff he is the keeper. He charged yesterday that this woman is today facing sentence as a result of a conspiracy between the sheriff of Suffolk county and— At this point he was summarily stopped by Judge Chase, who informed him that he did not care to hear him along these lines.

Mrs. Abbott was defeated during the four-day trial by Clarence W. Bowley, and Watson stated that he had deserted her at the last minute and had not made any move towards filing exceptions to take her case to the supreme judicial court, as she had requested him to do.

Assistant District Attorney Lavelle insisted that sentence be imposed immediately, and Watson asked that it be put off until Monday. After a conference at the bench, a compromise was adopted so that she will be sentenced on Friday morning at 10 o'clock.

Watson declared: "I can well understand why it is important that Mrs. Abbott be sentenced today. She is due to appear on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, as a witness before the city council committee which is investigating the Charles street jail, and if she is sentenced today she will be unable to be there then."

SUPPER-ENTERTAINMENT

UNDER AUSPICES OF MEN'S BROTHERHOOD OF FIRST TRINITARIAN CHURCH

A turkey supper and pleasing entertainment constituted the attraction at the First Trinitarian church last night. It was all under the auspices of the Men's Brotherhood and there was a good attendance. The committee of men in charge included the following: J. J. Hibbs, Nelson Hill, Earle E. Franklin, Charles B. Jones, Hiram Brown, John T. Day, Walter Smith, Joseph McGraw, C. T. Upton, Walter Lavelle, Dr. Sumner, Thomas Dalton, Walter Grant, Grant Miller and Thomas Ferguson.

The main feature of the evening's program was a sketch entitled "Dane's Dress Suit Case," in which the following named people took part: "M. Dan," James Hartford, "Mrs. Dan," Mrs. McKnight, "Mr. Scott," a traveling salesman, Mr. Stanley.

The sketch was preceded and followed by a selection for four hands by Mrs. Goodchild and Miss Rachel Falls, and a tenor solo by Edward Kilpatrick. During the evening, several readings by Miss Mildred McKnight were greatly enjoyed.

Monthly Supper
The monthly supper and entertainment under the direction of the ladies of St. Paul's M. E. church was held last evening. Mrs. Ada Martin and Mrs. A. J. Macrae had charge of the supper, and they were assisted in the preparation and the serving by those members whose names begin with L and M. Following the supper a delightful entertainment was given. Mrs. N. J. Marcotte gave several solos, with Mrs. C. F. Richardson at the piano. The H. W. H. class sang chorus numbers. A vocal duet by Mrs. Agnes Hart and Mrs. George McKewin and readings by Miss Susie Caldwell were also heartily appreciated. Mrs. Richardson had charge of the entertainment.

Bright Little Parade
The regular monthly supper at the First Congregational church under the auspices of the Church Aid society, was followed last night by a bright little parade, in one act given by the Christian Endeavor society. Mrs. Andrew Liddell and Mrs. Frederick Milne had charge of the supper, with a large corps of assistants from the society.

The farce, given by the young people, was entitled "On Account of the Lobster," and the cast was as follows: Albert Langton, William Liddell, Grace Langton, Irene Cockerill, Fiddler, Arthur Galloway, Serena, Bertha Stewart.

HOW YOU MAY THROW AWAY YOUR GLASSES

The statement is made that thousands wear eyeglasses who do not need them. If you are one of these unfortunate ones, these glasses may be ruining your eyes instead of helping them. Thousands who wear "windows" may prove for themselves that they can dispense with glasses if they will get the following prescription filled at once: Go to any active drug store and get a bottle of Optina; fill a two-ounce bottle with water and drop in one Optina tablet. With this harmless liquid solution, bathe the eyes two to four times daily and you are likely to be astonished at the results right from the start. Many who have been told that they have astigmatism, eye-strain, catarrh, sore eyes, weak eyes, conjunctivitis and other eye disorders, report wonderful benefits from the use of this free prescription. Get this prescription filled and use it; you may see, strengthen your eyes that glasses will not help necessary. Thousands who are blind or nearly so or who wear glasses, would never have regained their sight if they had cared for their eyes in time. Say your eyes before it is too late! Do not become one of these victims of neglect. Eyeglasses are only like crutches and every few years they must be changed to fit the ever-increasing weakened condition, so better see if you can, like many others, get clear, healthy, strong, magnetic eyes through the prescription here given.—Advertisement.

SPEAKERS AT CHILD LABOR CONFERENCE AND TYPICAL GROUP OF BOY "WORKMEN"

1-JANE ADDAMS 2-SENATOR OWEN 3-OWEN R. LOVEJOY

NEW ORLEANS, March 5.—The tenth national conference on child labor opens here March 15 to 18, and prominent speakers from many sections of the country will attend. The conference will give new impetus, it is expected, to the campaign now being waged against the employment of minors under improper conditions. Among those who will address the delegates will be United States Senator Robert L. Owen of Oklahoma, Jane Addams of Hull House, Chicago; Owen R. Lovejoy, general secretary to the national child labor committee; Dr. Felix Adler, chairman of the national child labor committee; Governor Luther E. Hall and Judge Joseph A. McCullough of Greenville, S. C. The group of boys in the accompanying illustration shows a condition which the child labor opponents are endeavoring to abolish. These lads are employees of a cotton mill and work eleven hours a day.

CURLEY CUTS SALARIES DROPPED DEAD

Mayor of Boston Slashes Increase Granted by Fitzgerald to Fire Department Officers

BOSTON, March 5.—All of the officers of Boston's fire department and several of the employees of the fire alarm, construction and electrical branches of that service, had their salaries slashed by Mayor Curley yesterday.

In all the mayor leaped at once upon $53,821 of the pay rolls of the department, cutting the salaries of every officer in the department from Chief Mullen to the lowest lieutenant.

Not in the history of the fire department has there been such a sweeping reduction in salaries. Mayor Curley's order for the salary cuts came like a "bolt from the blue" to even those in close touch with the administration. In the fire department the news of the cuts created much surprise and excitement.

It was understood that the mayor planned to cut the salaries of most of the city employees who had received salary increases during the latter part of the Fitzgerald administration. It was understood that the members of the fire and police departments would be the first to feel the effects of the cuts.

The mayor declared that the private in the fire department and the patrolmen in the police department, who each received $200 more a year under the Fitzgerald administration, will not be cut.

To all the mayor cut the salaries of 224 members of the fire department. It is understood that the cuts will go into effect immediately.

Chief Mullen May Quit
The retirement of John A. Mullen,

chief of the Boston fire department, is regarded by the rank and file of firemen as a matter of only a few days.

Although the chief declined yesterday to discuss the matter for publication, he has talked about it freely with a number of his most intimate friends, who say that he is preparing to leave very shortly.

Ever since Mayor Curley announced the appointment of Deputy Chief Gladys as fire commissioner, the principal topic of conversation in the department has been the retirement of Chief Mullen. Although so far as is known no word or act not in keeping with propriety ever passed between the chief and his deputy, a breach has been observed between them for several years.

A slight misunderstanding started it and persons who were too eager as friends widened the breach until it seemed that all friendship was lost between them.

The deputy, however, continued to discharge the duties of chief while the latter was away on vacation.

The chief yesterday called the report that he did not intend to serve a month under his former deputy as entirely unfounded. "This is the general opinion, however, that this is the reason for the chief's approaching retirement."

He met a number of friends at five headquarters. In the morning and passed all of the district chiefs there except Kennedy, Conner, McLean and Sullivan.

Although the chief is 63 years old and was entitled to retirement several years ago, his leave taking from the service will be entirely voluntary. Under the law he is entitled to a pension of $225 a year.

Cook on Lighter Attempted to Save Pies as Boat Went Down

WOODS HOLE, March 5.—While attempting to save his pies from the salley of a sinking lighter at the stone pier near Bel Pond channel, Ira Brightman, cook of the craft, dropped dead from heart failure yesterday morning.

Brightman was about 67 years old. The lighter, owned by the J. C. Torrey Contracting company of Fall River, was in the usual position of a lighter, while picking up a rock, a section of the under-water planking of the lighter was ripped off and the craft listed and commenced to fill and sink. Frank Peterson, a fireman, John Ross, the engineer, a driver, two laborers and Cook Brightman rushed from the lighter and leaped into the stone seawall, believing the lighter would sink immediately.

As the crew of the lighter was watching it slowly sink, Brightman said to Everett Hilton, who was standing on the wall: "I guess I will go back and save the pies I have in the galley and in the oven."

As Brightman started for the galley he was seen to drop, and when picked up he was dead.

PEOPLE'S CLUB
There was a large attendance at the regular meeting of the People's club last evening when Mrs. Minna Eliot Tenney Peck of Brookline, gave a very interesting talk on Sicily. Several beautiful pictures describing that country and its beautiful cathedrals with exquisite mosaic and interiors were thrown on the screen and added much to the evening's entertainment. The story of Sicily up to the time of its annexation with Italy was outlined by the speaker who held the attention of her audience at all times.

QUARTET OF SEAR GRAND OPERA SINGERS ARE ON SICK LIST AS RESULT OF WEATHER

NEW YORK, March 5.—Four grand opera prima donnas, Mme. Melba, Mary Garden, Emmy Destin and Mme. Matzenauer, are on the sick list as a result of the stormy entrance of March. Mme. Melba, according to despatches from Springfield is prostrated there by laryngitis and she has cancelled all engagements. Mary Garden is similarly afflicted, but hopes to rejoin the Philadelphia-Chicago company on its western tour by the end of the week. Miss Destin and Mme. Matzenauer are suffering from weather ailments that have caused temporary cancellation of engagements.

GAVIN FOUND NOT GUILTY

HAVERHILL, RESERVE OFFICER TO BE PROMOTED—TANGO PARTY CHARGE UNSUBSTANTIATED

HAVERHILL, March 5.—Alderman Bartlett, head of the department of public safety, announced yesterday that Reserve Officer William H. Gavin did not conduct a tango dancing party as had been charged, but that the story was a political attempt to prevent his election as a regular patrolman.

The alderman investigated the case and said he would recommend Gavin's election when the proper time came. As Gavin, with Reserve Officer William H. Kelley, heads the civil service list, he will be elected.

BOSTON WOMEN HOLD PRIVATE HEARING AND DISCUSS THE "BACHELOR BILL"

BOSTON, March 5.—At a private hearing over the "Bachelor bill" at the residence of Mrs. Caroline Nelson, Cambridge, yesterday, prominent women declared that there should be some legal protection for women who have given their hearts to men who can't make up their minds to be married.

Mrs. Charlotte Smith, president of the Woman's Franchise association, declared that "no man has any right to court a woman for 15 years."

GRAND JURY SO DECIDES IN CASE OF MAN WHO SHOT DEFENDANT IN MURDER TRIAL

ST. LOUIS, Mo., March 5.—The grand jury yesterday decided that Henry Zang was justified in killing Wesley ("Red") Simon, three hours after Simon went on trial for the murder of another gangster.

Zang, who was to have been the chief witness against Simon, testified yesterday that he shot the defendant when he thought Simon was about to kill him. Zang probably will be released today.

IN MILL CITIES

Figures on Valuations in Lowell, Fall River and New Bedford

The national census bureau and the state bureau of statistics has compiled a comparison of figures relative to property valuations in the three mill cities of Massachusetts having over 10,000 of population-Lowell, Fall River and New Bedford. The figures show that approximately 45 per cent. of Lowell's total assessed valuation is valuation of buildings, with about 31 per cent. of the total valuation of the city a land valuation and 22 per cent. personal property valuation. Lowell has the highest amount of personal property assessed, the largest total assessed valuation of land and the second largest valuation of buildings. The population of the three cities as given in the statement is as follows:
Fall River. 122,503
Lowell. 102,000
New Bedford. 102,059
In the number of assessed male polls in these three cities, Lowell is third, the standing being:
Fall River. 31,735
New Bedford. 28,834
Lowell. 24,303
In land area Fall River covers more than twice as much ground as Lowell, this city being a poor third when it comes to area, the standing in acreage being:
Fall River. 21,723 acres
New Bedford. 12,406 acres
Lowell. 5,208 acres
The assessed acreage of the three cities follows:
Fall River. 16,002 acres
New Bedford. 11,122 acres
Lowell. 6,223 acres

New Bedford has assessed over $9 per cent. of its total acreage; Fall River, over 13 per cent., and Lowell, over 22 per cent. of its total acreage. The land valuations in the three cities are as follows:
Lowell. $21,319,505
New Bedford. $2,942,655
Fall River. $2,497,225
New Bedford, with the smallest estimated population, yet has the largest number of residents assessed for property, with Lowell second. The numbers are:
New Bedford. 12,219
Lowell. 10,320
Fall River. 10,054
In the number of dwellings assessed, Lowell leads New Bedford and Fall River by a wide margin. The figures are:
Lowell. 21,551
New Bedford. 12,154
Fall River. 10,428
In the total of assessed valuation of buildings, New Bedford leads, with Lowell second. The comparative figures are appended:
New Bedford. $41,506,235
Lowell. $30,401,635
Fall River. $2,261,126
In the assessed valuation of personal property Lowell stands at the foot of the list. The comparison of the three cities in assessed valuation of personal property follows:
Fall River. $30,723,000
New Bedford. $2,699,476
Lowell. 18,732,300
The final comparison is that of the total assessed valuation of the three mill cities, Lowell being third in this, with New Bedford leading. A comparison follows:
New Bedford. $104,536,323
Fall River. $9,850,763
Lowell. $7,041,693
While Lowell's total valuation is the least of any of the three cities named, the valuations of land and of buildings are figured, and the valuation of personal property is excluded, then Lowell is a strong first. The comparative valuations of land and buildings of the three cities are:
Lowell. $66,621,440
New Bedford. $4,849,950

FUNERALS

CASS-The funeral services for Orlando J. Cass were held yesterday from the home of his son, Selden Cass, Chestnut street, Rev. Charles H. Ellis, pastor of the Central Baptist church officiated. There was singing by Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Warren, who sang "Nearer, My God, to Thee" and "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere." Among the floral offerings were a casket, from the children, and other tributes from the following: Mrs. Julia Merrill, Mrs. Ultrace Merrill and family, and Maude Helen and Mort Cass. The body was taken to Searsport, Me., where burial took place today. The funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertaker William H. Saunders.

DAY-The funeral services for Miss Ada A. Day took place from the home of her niece, Mrs. Elmer G. Brennan, 52 Warwick street, yesterday afternoon. The services were conducted by Rev. Raymond G. Clapp, pastor of the First Trinitarian church. Mrs. Nettie Roberts and Mrs. H. E. Symonds sang appropriate selections. The bearers were Messrs. Harvey E. Symonds, Henton E. Symonds, J. Harry Gamble and Elmer G. Brennan. Burial was in the Edison cemetery where the committal service was read by Rev. Mr. Clapp. The funeral was under the direction of Undertakers Young & Blake.

THOMAS-The funeral of Mrs. Dina Thomas Diette, widow of Adolph Diette, took place from the home, 50 Chestnut street, and was largely attended. A solemn funeral mass was celebrated at 8 o'clock at Notre Dame de Lourdes church by Rev. Leon Lamotte, O. M. I., who was assisted by Rev. J. B. A. Barlette, O. M. I., as vicar, and Rev. Joseph A. Nugent, O. M. I., as sub-deacon. The bearers were George and Arthur Diette, Alfred La. Belle, George Labrie and Messrs. Bellefleur and Marcotte. St. Anne's sodality of Notre Dame de Lourdes parish, of which deceased was an esteemed member, was represented by Mrs. A. Donato, Mrs. A. Dunn, Mrs. W. Hamilton and Mrs. G. Diette. Among the many elaborate floral offerings laid upon the grave were: A large pillow, inscribed "Mother," the bereaved family; cross on base, inscribed "At Rest," the bereaved family; large wreath, members of St. Anne's sodality; and other pieces from Mr. and Mrs. John Dwyer, Alfred La. Belle, Mr. and Mrs. George Diette, Eldon Beys' club and others. The body was placed in the receiving tomb in St. Joseph's cemetery. Funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertaker Joseph Albert.

DEATHS

HALLORAN-Geraldine Claire Halloran, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Timothy H. Halloran, died last night at their home, 80 Mt. Washington street. She was three years and eight months old.

RICKER-Mrs. Rebecca Rickard died yesterday at her home, 40 Race street, at the age of 88 years and 3 months. She is survived by one son, A. N. Rickard, of this city. The body was removed to the undertaking rooms of J. F. Rogers.

LOISELLE-Mrs. Lucie Giguere Loisel, wife of Joseph Loisel, aged 63 years, 4 months, died last evening at her home, 15 Mt. Vernon street, after a lingering illness. Deceased was a prominent member of St. Anne's sodality and also of the Third Order of St. Francis of St. Joseph's parish. She leaves, besides her husband, Joseph Loisel, three sons, Arthur, Norbert and Adolphe Loisel, two daughters, Marie and Josephine Loisel, and three sisters, Mrs. Lucie Giguere, and three sisters, Mrs. Lucie Malhoux, Mrs. Adeline Legare and Mrs. Delia Asselin.

McNAB-Mrs. Lillie McNabb, widow of the late George H. McNabb and a well known parishioner of St. Columba's church, died last night at her home, 63 Dufferin street. She is survived by two sons, George and Raymond H. McNabb of Lowell and two daughters, Anna H. Allen, M. Maude H. Aldred, J. and Mabel G. McNabb, all of Lowell. Two brothers and four sisters also survive. They are John P. and Thomas A. Nugent, Mrs. Margaret Staken and Miss Mary Nugent, all of Lawrence, and Mrs. William J. Nelson and Mrs. Clifford A. Moore of Lynn.

EVANS-Warren A. Evans, for the past 23 years a resident of Billerica, died at his home there yesterday morning, at the age of 71 years. Mr. Evans was one of the best known men in the town, having lived in both North Billerica and at the Centre, where he had resided since retiring as agent of the Faulkner Manufacturing Co. about four years ago. The deceased came to Billerica from Maine in the year 1836 and immediately took up the duties of superintendent of the Faulkner company of North Billerica. He later was advanced to the position of agent, and retired from active life nearly four years ago. He was a member of Thomas Tal-

DOUBLE FUNERAL HELD

LARGE CONCOURSE OF MOURNERS AT FUNERAL OF KATHERINE AND MARGARET HARRINGTON

The funeral of the late Misses Katherine P. and Margaret H. Harrington, the two sisters whose pathetic deaths so touched the people of this city a few days ago, was held this morning from their late home, 735 Broadway, and the large attendance bore testimony to the respect with which they were regarded in the community, and to the sympathy which their untimely deaths under such sad circumstances aroused. In life both sisters were united in a bond of unusual devotion, made all the closer by the affliction which made of Margaret's life a sacrifice of sisterly love and in their case the spiritual quotation was literally true, "Even in death they were not divided." Those who knew of the touching circumstances surrounding their bright home life and of the untiring and nobly unselfish love that made it something holy will not easily forget their emotion as they saw the sisters lying peacefully side by side. The struggle over the storm ended. Today the two white caskets were borne into the church and placed together in front of the black draped altar, while the organ pealed out in touchingly solemn tones, there were few dry eyes in the well filled church.

The double funeral took place this morning from their late home, 735 Broadway, at 8 o'clock, and the funeral mass was held at St. Patrick's at 9 o'clock. In front of the altar were 12 lighted candles, six on either side, and the two caskets rested in the space between, during the singing of the requiem service, which was solemn Gregorian. The mass was sung by Rev. James Kerrigan and Monsignor William O'Brien sat within the sanctuary throughout. The sales of the mass and the responses were sung by Miss Alice Murphy and Mr. Daniel McCarthy, and the mournfully beautiful "De Profundis" was sung by James E. Donnelly as the bodies were borne from the church. Organist Michael J. Johnson presided at the organ. Prayers at the grave were recited by Rev. James Kerrigan, and all funeral arrangements were under the direction of J. P. O'Donnell and Sons.

The bearers for Margaret were: Charles White, John Harrington, James Leahy and John J. Sullivan, and the bearers for Katherine were: George Hart, Frank McCarthy, Joseph Sullivan and Benjamin Beret.

Ushers at the house and church were Edward and John Shea and John Casey. There were a great many floral pieces of all descriptions, including a beautiful pillow from the family, and other tributes from the following: Miss Catherine Casey, Mr. Charles White, McCarthy family, Shannon family, Margaret Poye, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Shea, Mr. and Mrs. James P. Shea, Mr. J. D. McCarthy and family, Mr. John O'Connor, Misses Fitzpatrick, Mr. William Ellis, Mrs. H. J. O'Dowd, Misses Tully, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Russell, Mrs. Charles W. Dunn, Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Golden, Benoit family, Mrs. Rose Jordan Hartford, girls of The Fashion, Miss Catherine O'Neill, Miss Mary Stack and Miss Katherine McDonald.

Mrs. T. Fauthert of Whitney avenue has returned from a two weeks stay at Gravel, Vt. where she was called by the death of her mother, Mrs. Ellen De Witt. Mrs. Fauthert has the sympathy of a large circle of friends in her bereavement.

AT B. & M. CAR SHOPS 250 FAMILIES MOVED

To Lowell and Billerica in Past Few Weeks—Local Men Will be Hired by Middle of April—Supt. Jennings on Deck

"There are no more men coming from Keene, N. H., to the Billerica car shops," said Supt. Jennings yesterday, "for the last fifty employees of the plant arrived here Monday, and the shops in Keene are now closed, but they will soon reopen for frog work, which for the past several years has been conducted in Nashua, N. H. The machinery from the Nashua plant will soon be installed at the Keene plant, while the employees and their families have started to remove to that city."

Mr. Jennings informed the writer that all told about 350 men, two-thirds of whom are married, have been transferred from the Keene plant to the Billerica shops, and the majority of them have secured homes in Lowell. He said fifty more are expected next week from Concord, N. H., and that will be the end of the out-of-town help.

The last two weeks at least 250 families from Keene and Concord have moved to Billerica and Lowell, and more are scheduled to come, for there is still a large number of employees at the car shops whose families are awaiting an opportunity to remove to Lowell. The men, however, are complaining that good flats are scarce, and inasmuch as most of them owned their homes in the New Hampshire cities, they are very fussy as to what they rent in this city. The contractors have started piling the car buildings and as soon as their work is finished, which will be about the middle of April, that department will be started. About 400 men will be needed for this department, and Mr. Jennings said they will all be Lowell men. The hiring, it is believed, will start in a few weeks, but the majority of the help will not be taken in until the middle of April. The car department comprises the following shops: Coach shop, car blacksmith, car machine shop, painting and woodwork departments.

Work on the coal pocket is progressing rapidly but although there is about one-third of the work still to be done, this does not prevent the power house from running full blast. Three of the large boilers are now in operation and the only difference is that the stokers are being fed by hand, pending the completion of the coal pocket.

The employees of the locomotive shop are kept busy this week, and by tomorrow it is expected, two large locomotives will be ready to go out after undergoing a thorough overhauling. The locomotive blacksmith shop is also running with a full complement of help, the number being about fifty. Supt. Jennings, who was transferred from the Concord shop, assumed his new duties last Monday, and upon his arrival at the monster car shops he was given a real ovation by the several hundred employees, who were well acquainted with him, having worked under his orders in Concord for the past few years. About six hundred men are now employed at the shops.

17 SOLDIERS KILLED BOY KILLED SEVEN

MEMBERS OF EMPEROR'S REGIMENT WERE OVERWHELMED BY AVALANCHE

VIENNA, March 5.—Seventeen soldiers of the emperor's rifle regiment were overwhelmed and killed today by an avalanche while they were engaged in maneuvers on the Orter mountain, in the Tyrol.

DRACUT WATER SUPPLY

REP. BRENNAN ARGUES BEFORE LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE FOR WATER FROM LOWELL

Yesterday before the committee on water supply of the legislature, Rep. John W. Brennan of Dracut appeared to advocate the passage of the measure to permit the city of Lowell to provide a section of the town of Dracut with water. Representative Brennan stated before the committee that an act was passed by last year's legislature permitting the city of Lowell to supply water to a specified section of Dracut, but that the bill was not specific with regard to boundary lines. The town of Dracut therefore, again petitioned the legislature to authorize Lowell to furnish water to that part of the town of Dracut, along Mammoth road and in a northwesterly direction to Richardson square.

The committee will not close the hearing, as they wish Rep. Brennan to produce a statement from Lowell officials, consenting to the proposal.

OPPOSED TO DEMOCRATS

APPEAL BY REPUBLICAN STATE COMMITTEE IN MAINE FOR CITIZENS TO ATTEND CONVENTION

AUGUSTA, Me., March 5.—An appeal to all citizens who wish to secure the partition of all electors of Maine who are opposed to free trade and other declared policies of the democratic party was made today by the republican state committee in its call for the republican state convention to be held in Portland city hall on April 5. All such electors, "all those who believe in the principles of the republican party," are urged to join in drafting a platform liberal in principle and those who will accept the platform as a solemn and binding contract with the people of Maine, are urged to unite in electing delegates to this convention.

THE POPULAR ENGINEER OF PANAMA CANAL HONORED IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, March 5.—Col. George W. Goethals, builder of the Panama canal, was last night presented by the Civic Forum with a medal for "distinguished public service," the first to be awarded by that institution. The presentation was made by Dr. John H. Finley, New York state commissioner of education, who acted as chairman of the meeting in the enforced absence of Joseph H. Choate, former ambassador to Great Britain. Speeches celebrating the event were made by Mayor John Purroy Mitchell, Rear-Admiral Robert E. Peary, Dudley Field Malone, collector of the port of New York; Dr. St. Clair McKelway, Bishop David H. Greer of the Protestant Episcopal diocese of New York and former Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson. A dedicatory poem was read by Percy MacKaye.

Carnegie hall, where the meeting took place, was filled to capacity. Col. Goethals was given an enthusiastic ovation and in a brief speech thanked the Forum and paid a tribute to his subordinates.

The speeches made were highly laudatory of the canal builder. Mayor Mitchell took advantage of the occasion to state in the presence of Col. Goethals why he had asked him to become police commissioner of New York.

"It was not because Col. Goethals was a great engineer that I asked him to become police commissioner of New York," he said. "It is because he is a great administrator, and if the legislature of the state of New York does its duty I know we will secure him."

Col. Goethals in his speech did not allude in any way to the New York police commissionership.

IRONQUIN HIT CYCLONE

Clyde Limer Damaged on Trip From Santa Domingo—Struck by Cyclone That Carried Away Hurricane Deck

NEW YORK, March 5.—The Clyde Limer, ironclad, in yesterday's storm, was hit on Sunday by a section of the cyclone that caused snow trouble throughout and was heavily damaged. A cyclone struck her, carrying away the after part of the hurricane deck, smashing twenty ports and windows and flooding the saloon.

Some of the storm-torn vessels were hurt. The barometer went below 30, a record for Clyde Limer. It will take a week to repair the ship. It will take a week to repair the ship. It will take a week to repair the ship.

Mrs. Minturn Leaves Estate of $1,467,995—Fortunes for Children

NEW YORK, March 5.—The appraisal of the estate of Mrs. Louisa Minturn, who died on Oct. 4 last, and was the widow of John W. Minturn, founder of the Minturn Hospital for Contagious Diseases, was filed yesterday and shows that she left $1,467,995. She owned jewelry worth $116,000, the most valuable article being a pearl necklace appraised at $20,000. It contains 51 pearls with a diamond clasp. Mrs. Minturn left the necklace to her three children, Mrs. Susan Tuckerman, Mrs. Katherine Mary Le Roy and John Wendell Minturn, in equal shares, and gave the rest of the jewelry to her two daughters. Other jewels she owned were diamond earrings, $4500, and a diamond necklace, $4500, and a diamond and large diamond brooch, worth $2500 each.

Mrs. Minturn owned mortgages worth $85,000, securities appraised at $135,774 and $27,535 due from the estate of her husband. A trust fund for her benefit under the will of her father, William B. Aspinwall, amounted to $203,058. The total bequests to the three children were: Susan Tuckerman, $270,204; Katherine Mary Le Roy, $252,269; and John W. Minturn, $281,575. Mrs. Minturn left $25,000 each to her daughter-in-law, Sarah J. Minturn, and to her son-in-law, Paul Tuckerman, and Edward A. Le Roy, Jr. She gave $74,255 each to Dorothy T. Draper and Roger Tuckerman, granddaughters, and $48,157 each to Edward A. Le Roy, 3d, and John Minturn Le Roy, grandsons.

Mrs. Minturn gave $20,000 to her "dear friend" Meta A. McMichael, and $10,000 to her friend, Marie L. Gottlieb. Two cousins, Anna and Lucy B. Shaw, got $13,750 each. The only charitable bequest was $15,000 to the Minturn hospital.

GOT BY CONNOLLY

Twin of Member Took Veteran Duties—Keeper and Brakes—Stranger on Exchange Floor

NEW YORK, March 5.—John Connolly, veteran stockbroker at the stock exchange, let a stranger get by him yesterday afternoon. A. S. Mickens is his name. He is not a member of the exchange, but he bowed familiarly to Connolly and walked out over the floor.

Members of the exchange greeted him like an old friend. One of them even offered to sell him stock. He was having a fine time when another man came stroiling in.

Members looked at him and at A. S. Mickens, rubbed their eyes and looked at each other. This second man was W. H. Mickens, one of the new members. He and A. S. Mickens and several friends of A. S. persuaded him to try to get by Connolly as a joke.

There were explanations all around. Everybody had a laugh at Connolly's expense. He thinks that some of the laughs are on others.

PRESIDENTS' FACIES ARRIVES

IN POLICE COURT MURDER OF WIFE

Little business was done at police court apart from the tanglo trial. But two defendants appeared in the dock this morning when Judge Enright mounted the bench at 10:30 o'clock, although there were several cases in which the defendants were out on bail.

The case of Rose Duprez, charged with illegally keeping liquor, was continued until a week from today. Daniel J. Donahue, Esq., appeared for the defendant.

James Kovin asked for a chance to write a legal advice when her case for assault and battery upon a neighbor was called. The case was continued for one week.

Matthew Curran pleaded guilty to drunkenness. It was his second slip from the water wagon during the year and he was asked to contribute the customary $5.

Thomas J. Owens, a fourth offender, also acknowledged that he was the worse for intoxicants yesterday. Judge Enright did not want to send the defendant back to jail. He was placed on probation with a suspended sentence to the state farm.

DIES AT AGE OF 103

MANDAMUS PROCEEDINGS

Fall River Teachers to Secure Back Salaries—Would Compel Mayor to Sign Payroll

FALL RIVER, March 5.—Mandamus proceedings to compel Mayor Kay to sign the payroll for back salaries, amounting to approximately $12,000, will be instituted immediately by the public school teachers through the law office of ex-Mayor John A. Coughlin, according to a unanimous vote taken yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the executive committee of the Teachers' association. The preliminary petition will be filed by Attorney Coughlin with the clerk of the supreme court within a week. Under the law governing these extraordinary proceedings, 14 days are allowed the respondent to submit a reply and further extension of time may be granted. It is then customary for the court to assign a date for hearing, so that it is unlikely that a decision in this very important case will be made before six to eight weeks. Teachers had delayed starting these proceedings against the city through the mayor in the hope that by means of special legislation or otherwise, the executive and aldermen would find some means of providing funds for the back salaries. When the legislative committee knocked out Mayor Kay's bill, designated to set aside $450 per thousand, from direct taxation for salaries, hope was still held out that the executive might recede from his original budget for the unpaid salaries. The budget as presented to the aldermen last week did not contain such item, however, so the teachers immediately began steps to secure the aid of the courts. As the situation stands now, salaries for the last two weeks in December of last year have not been paid because Mayor Kay has refused to sign the payroll. His refusal was based on the grounds that funds for this purpose were not available. Efforts on the part of the teachers to prevail upon the mayor or aldermen to provide additional funds proved unavailing. High school teachers were obliged to suffer, also, although there has been no dispute but what they were legally employed for 10 weeks, because the school authorities refused to separate the payroll. The school authorities insisted that such a separation would compromise and perhaps invalidate their case.

"LAST SUPPER" REFUSED DIVORCE

Long Lost Masterpiece of First American Artist is Found

WASHINGTON, March 5.—The masterpiece of Gustavus Hesselius, the first American painter, lost since 1773, has been discovered in the little town of Rockville, Md., a suburb of Washington, with Charles Henry Hart, an art critic of Philadelphia, as authority for its authenticity. Mr. Hart discovered the painting yesterday. To a newspaper correspondent Mr. Hart said: "More than 15 years ago I wrote the story of America's first painter, Gustavus Hesselius, a native of Sweden, who settled in 1713 in the province of Delaware, then a Swedish dependency. But little of the work of Hesselius remains today, but it is of high value. "In 1720 Hesselius received a commission from the church of St. Barnabas in Prince George county, Maryland, to paint an altar picture. The subject was 'The Last Supper of Christ and the Apostles.' The picture was painted and proved a labor of more than 15 months. "It was a long, narrow panel, nine feet long and two feet deep. The composition showed the long table in very much the same arrangement as that in Leonardo Da Vinci's better known work. "Four or five years ago I received a letter from Mr. John Casagway, now a resident of Rockville, who told me that he had in his possession an ancient oil painting of the Last Supper, the authorship of which was entirely unknown to me. "At first I was disposed to regard her communication as simply one of a class to which the attention of art critics is so often called. After having had a second letter from Mr. Casagway, I went to Rockville and saw the painting. "It is in a good state of preservation. It is undoubtedly the work of Hesselius, and certainly I should not attempt to set value upon it today. It represents the masterpiece of this painter, without doubt. "Hesselius was born in Sweden in 1682. He came to the United States with his brother, Governor Hesselius, of the province of Delaware in 1711. The picture of the last supper was painted between May, 1720, and June, 1721. Hesselius died in Philadelphia in 1776."

REVOLUTIONARY WAR IN THE BRITISH STATES BUSINESS SUSPENDED—STRICT CENSORSHIP ON DESPATCHES

BUENOS AYRES, March 5.—It is understood here that a strict censorship has been imposed on despatches from Brazil. Reports have been current for some time that a revolutionary movement was in existence in the Brazilian states of Pernambuco, Ceara and Para, and that fighting was in progress between the local forces of the government and the rebels. The causes of the dissatisfaction were said to have been racial differences. In the last week of February a body of fanatics was reported to be marching on Rio Janeiro and the situation in the various states was reported as becoming worse, more especially in Ceara. Fugitives were said to be virtually omnipresent in several states, chiefly those where the negro population was very numerous.

Talks on Teeth

BY DR. GAGNON

Are Five Dentists Better Than One?

Of course! It stands to reason that five dentists are better than one, especially when these five are graduated, licensed dentists, who have fully qualified according to the laws of the state and requirements of the board of health, to which has been added the finishing school of long practical experience. Such are the dentists in whose hands you place yourself in these offices. You get here the vast benefit of the exchange of ideas. You get here the services of specialists, as each of our dentists specializes in a certain branch of dentistry and KNOWS IT TO PERFECTION. Isn't this superior to placing yourself in the hands of one man, who tries to master it all? Surely you haven't forgotten the old saying, "Jack of all trades and master of none?" have you? I believe I have the greatest service and value, giving dental offices in New England, and I want you to know it through personal experience. I want you to become acquainted with that marvelous pain destroyer—which positively robs dentistry of all pain. The patient takes a nap—not to sleep naturally—but through relaxation and in this resting mood may have teeth extracted, fillings placed, nerves removed and bridge-work done without feeling the slightest pain. Try it!

MOB ARRESTED FOR RIOTING IN CHURCH

190 Unemployed, Headed by I.W.W. Agitator, Ignored Warnings and Made Raid on New York Church—Each Held in $1000

NEW YORK, March 5.—Unshaven and defiant, Frank Tannenbaum, erstwhile waiter, but now leader of an army of unemployed which, under the banners of the Industrial Workers of the World, stormed New York churches nightly until the police interfered, was brought into Jefferson Market police court today for arraignment on a charge of inciting riot. Nearly 200 of his followers, held during the night in three separate prisons were to appear later in the Tombs court, farther down town, all charged with disorderly conduct.

Tannenbaum was represented by Justice Sheffield, who said he had been retained by the Industrial Workers of the World.

"This is only the start," said Tannenbaum, "the I. W. W. is behind me, and they are going to send me into the next few days and then the movement will open with a roar. The reason so many men are employed is that the factories are working their hands from 12 to 14 hours a day. We are going to send men into these factories and demand that the working hours be reduced to eight. This will solve the whole problem. The charge has been made that the men who followed me refused to work. That is not so. If the city will pay us the same as it pays the contractors' men to remove snow we will be glad to work."

Tannenbaum had a cell by himself during the night, but his followers did not fare so well. Their numbers made it imperative that five or six be placed in one cell and under these conditions sleep was out of the question. Three prisons—Yorkville, West Side and Jefferson Market—harbored the army and throughout the night yells and protests kept the other prisoners awake.

EACH OF THE 100 ARRESTED HELD IN $1000—SERIOUS CHARGE AGAINST LEADER

NEW YORK, March 5.—A squad of the members of the army of unemployed, that has been demanding food and shelter in raids on churches every night for the past week, are today the guests of the city's inferior government jails. Each of the 190 men and one woman is held in $1000 bail for hearings later today, on charges of disorderly conduct. Frank Tannenbaum, the youthful leader of the army, faces a charge of inciting to riot, which is a felony. His bail was fixed at $5000 and being unable to furnish this, he is a prisoner.

The arrest of Tannenbaum resulted from his leading an "army" under the auspices of the Industrial Workers of the World into St. Alphonsus Roman Catholic church in West Broadway, where Fr. John Schneider refused the demand for food and ordered the invaders to leave if they had not come to worship. When Fr. Schneider repeated his order for all to leave "why do not belong here," there were cries: "Don't go out; make them throw us out and we will have food." At this outbreak, two detectives seized Tannenbaum and two other leaders, while outside the church policemen went in calls for reserves from several downtown stations. Police Commissioner McKay ordered the arrests. The commissioner said he would brook no repetition of rioting in churches.

Warning Was Ignored "We were present at the time," he said, "saw that the law was being violated and caused the arrests. Previous to this, however, they were warned that if they entered a church where a service was going on they would be arrested. They ignored the warnings."

Miss Jane Est, one of the two women exhorters, weakened when told she would probably be sent to prison for six months. She begged to be allowed to go, and slipped through the crowd when released by a detective. Gussie Miller, however, insisted that she be arrested. She was not denied.

After the army had been led from the church, the police declared, blackjacks, knives, razors and pieces of iron were found in the vacated pews. William D. Haywood, head of the Industrial Workers of the World, said after the arrest of Tannenbaum and his followers that he was not surprised at the action of the police.

Big Bill Haywood Talks "The police followed the advice given them by the newspapers," he said, "and that was to be expected. The result will be that the public will learn that the problem of the unemployed is not a myth."

Search of the prisoners arrested last night bears out their statements of poverty, except Hyman Finkelshten, whose pockets held $750.

The decisive action of Commissioner McKay last night will prevent further trouble and cause a postponement of the plan of the Industrial Workers' leaders to send out 500 speakers to factories to urge workers to labor only eight hours a day.

After Tannenbaum's Blood Leaders of the Industrial Workers of the World gathered at Jefferson Market court where Tannenbaum and his followers were awaiting arraignment.

"The whole affair is a frame-up," declared William D. Haywood, head of the organization, who came here recently to attend a meeting of the International Workingmen's "Disrupt" conference. "They are after Tannenbaum's blood. I can't see that he's done anything to be arrested for. It is not the men who are on trial, but the Mitchell administration and the churches."

The most well-begone of the prisoners was Hyman Finkelshten, who when arrested in the church last night, had $750 in his pants pocket. He said he had no idea of the nature of the demonstration in which he was participating.

"I was watching the meeting in Rutgers square," he said, "when someone said: 'Come on, we're all going to get a free feed and of course, I followed the crowd.' Finkelshten refused to give his address, for fear, he said, he would be robbed when he returned home."

LEADING BRITISH REFORMS

Will be Brought Up in Parliament for First Reading—Intense Feeling on Home Rule

LONDON, March 5.—The Daily Chronicle which enjoys the confidence of the liberal government declares that the government has no intention of dissolving during the present year and that the ministers anticipate finishing out their full five year terms.

The government, according to the Daily Chronicle may introduce today for their first readings during the present session the Irish home rule bill.

EX-PRESIDENT TAFT

Would Extend Civil Service to All Appointive Offices Except the Cabinet

AMHERST, March 5.—Civil service reform should be extended to include all appointive officers in the national government, except those in the cabinet, the judiciary and the higher positions upon which the political character of the administration depends, former President Taft said last night during a lecture to the students of Amherst college. Congress, he added, should not be required to confirm appointments.

Mr. Taft said the old idea that the president should not leave the country was a wrong one, and that he purposed, had he been reelected, to visit the Philippines and Hawaiian Islands.

Welsh disestablishment and the plural voting bills.

Tremendous interest is being taken in Premier Asquith's promised statement for Monday on the Irish home rule bill. Seats in the house of commons already are being held at a premium. The Ulster faction is confident that the premier will offer the Ulster counties temporary exclusion from the act but the Irish party would not accept this as a fulfillment of the government pledges.

KISSES THE REWARD

STATION MASTER RESTORED BAG CONTAINING $38,000 TO BAND OF EMIGRANTS

NEW YORK, March 5.—Expressions of gratitude in the form of kisses were showered upon William H. Egan, station master of the Pennsylvania road here last night, by the young women and men members of an emigrant band because he had been instrumental in restoring to them a flour sack which contained $38,000 in gold and bills.

The party on route from Montana to Poland, dined in the station and then started for the pier to board the steamship Olympic. In her haste the wife of the leader of the band, to whom her fellow travelers had entrusted their money, left the bag in a waiting-room, where it was found by an attendant and turned over to Egan. Its contents had hardly been counted when the emigrants rushed back in great excitement, clamoring for their money.

When they learned that every dollar was intact they made a rush for William H. Egan. He did not take kindly to the kissing of the men.

There will be a month's mind mass Monday, March 9, at 6 o'clock, for Sister M. Eleanor, formerly Catherine Theresa Henley, at St. Patrick's church.

UNITED MISSIONARY CAMPAIGN WILL HOLD TWO DAYS MEETING IN THIS CITY

The United Missionary campaign will hold a two days' conference in the Paigie Street Baptist and Kirk Street Congregational churches, beginning this evening and continuing through tomorrow evening, when it will be closed with an appropriate service in the former church. It is expected that all the Protestant churches in Lowell and vicinity will be represented at all of the meetings.

The meetings this evening will be held in the form of banquets. The men will gather in the Kirk Street church and the women in the Paigie Street church, and there will be several after-dinner speeches in each place.

The program tomorrow is as follows: 10 a. m., Pastors and Leaders' Conference. United Missionary campaign. Rev. Messrs. Agar and Merrill in charge. Meetings at Paigie Street Baptist church.

2:30 p. m. Union meeting for men and women of all the churches interested in the United Missionary campaign at the Paigie Street Baptist church. Address: Rev. J. R. Gates. "Prayer and the Kingdom" Work. Rev. J. R. Gates. "A Ministry of Love," Miss Harriet Ellis.

Evening, 7:30 p. m., final union service in the

CHARITY RAFFLE LOTTERY

Raffling an automobile or other prizes even for a charitable purpose is a lottery under the laws of New Jersey, according to Corporation Counsel John Milton of Jersey City, who has advised Mayor Fagan to that effect.

The mayor asked for advice because he had been asked to supervise the award of an automobile which the Nurses' Alumnae association of Christ hospital has undertaken to dispose of at a raffie at 50 cents a chance. After getting the corporation counsel's opinion the mayor said he would withdraw his consent to the use of his name in the raffie.

DR. ROACH INJURED

The many friends of Dr. A. J. Roach, one of the officials of the state infirmary in Tewksbury, will be grieved to learn he is confined to his room with a sprained knee, the result of an accident which occurred last week, when the doctor was thrown out of his carriage near the hospital.

Mrs. Homer L. P. Turcotte and Miss Antoinette Holm of the millinery firm of Turcotte & Holm, are spending the week in New York, looking over the spring styles.

Talks on Teeth

BY DR. GAGNON

Are Five Dentists Better Than One?

Of course! It stands to reason that five dentists are better than one, especially when these five are graduated, licensed dentists, who have fully qualified according to the laws of the state and requirements of the board of health, to which has been added the finishing school of long practical experience. Such are the dentists in whose hands you place yourself in these offices. You get here the vast benefit of the exchange of ideas. You get here the services of specialists, as each of our dentists specializes in a certain branch of dentistry and KNOWS IT TO PERFECTION. Isn't this superior to placing yourself in the hands of one man, who tries to master it all? Surely you haven't forgotten the old saying, "Jack of all trades and master of none?" have you? I believe I have the greatest service and value, giving dental offices in New England, and I want you to know it through personal experience. I want you to become acquainted with that marvelous pain destroyer—which positively robs dentistry of all pain. The patient takes a nap—not to sleep naturally—but through relaxation and in this resting mood may have teeth extracted, fillings placed, nerves removed and bridge-work done without feeling the slightest pain. Try it!

KISSES THE REWARD

STATION MASTER RESTORED BAG CONTAINING $38,000 TO BAND OF EMIGRANTS

NEW YORK, March 5.—Expressions of gratitude in the form of kisses were showered upon William H. Egan, station master of the Pennsylvania road here last night, by the young women and men members of an emigrant band because he had been instrumental in restoring to them a flour sack which contained $38,000 in gold and bills.

The party on route from Montana to Poland, dined in the station and then started for the pier to board the steamship Olympic. In her haste the wife of the leader of the band, to whom her fellow travelers had entrusted their money, left the bag in a waiting-room, where it was found by an attendant and turned over to Egan. Its contents had hardly been counted when the emigrants rushed back in great excitement, clamoring for their money.

When they learned that every dollar was intact they made a rush for William H. Egan. He did not take kindly to the kissing of the men.

There will be a month's mind mass Monday, March 9, at 6 o'clock, for Sister M. Eleanor, formerly Catherine Theresa Henley, at St. Patrick's church.

DIED AFTER QUEER DREAM

PROSPEROUS MAINE FARMER TOLD HOUSEKEEPER OF DREAM AND THEN DROPPED DEAD

PORTLAND, Me., March 5.—Timothy R. Brown, a prosperous East Baldwin farmer, called to his housekeeper early today and told her he had just had a queer dream. He choked once or twice and died without saying another word. Death was believed to have been due to heart failure.

LARCENY OF $12,000

MADELINE W. CURTIN ARRESTED IN NEW YORK ON INDICTMENT OF TAKING SECURITIES

NEW YORK, March 5.—Madeline W. Curtin was arrested here today by detectives from Wilmington, Del., on an indictment charging that she took from a safe deposit box in Boston $12,000 worth of securities, the property of Edward L. Ripley, formerly of Boston but now of Wilmington. Miss Curtin contends Ripley gave her a power of attorney to take the securities and they were engaged to be married. The securities are now said to be in Philadelphia. Miss Curtin has been conducting spiritualist meetings here for some time.

ORGANIZE AVIATION SQUAD

AUGUSTA, Me., March 5.—Permission to organize an aviation squad was granted Lieut. Com. Dyer of the Maine naval militia today by Adj. Gen. Albert Greenlaw.

GIRLS SHOVEL SNOW

Fair Volunteers Aid City—Work With Men of Greenwich House Settlement

NEW YORK, March 5.—Snow and ice on Jones street, between West Fourth and Bleeker streets, were piled up in little mounds last night by the newly appointed street cleaning department of the Greenwich House, which has a settlement on the street. The club council at a meeting on Tuesday night voted to help the city clear the street. At 7:30 o'clock last night members of the settlement and volunteers, including young women, began work. They worked in relays with the picks and shovels, and for a time it was play. When they struck solid ice it was not.

William Spiney was the foreman and Mrs. V. G. Sinkovitch, the director of the settlement, entertained the workers with refreshments after they were tired out.

ON STRIKEBREAKERS

HOUGHTON, Mich., March 5.—Denial that strike-breakers had been imported against their will or that they were kept in ignorance that there was a strike in the district, was made yesterday by the congressional committee investigating the Michigan copper strike by Ocha Potter, superintendent of the Superior mine.

CANAL TOLLS

that provision of the Panama canal act of Aug. 24, 1912, which exempts vessels engaged in the coastwise trade of the United States from payment of tolls and to urge on you the justice, the wisdom and the large policy of such a repeal with the utmost earnestness of which I am capable.

Mistaken Economic Policy

In my own judgment very fully considered and maturely formed, that exemption constitutes a mistaken economic policy from every point of view and is, moreover, a plain contravention of the treaty with Great Britain concerning the canal concluded on Nov. 18, 1901. But I have not come to you to urge my personal views. I have come to state to you a fact and a situation. Whatever may be your own differences of opinion concerning this much-debated measure its meaning is not debated outside the United States. Everywhere else the language of the treaty is given but one interpretation and that interpretation precludes the exemption I am asking you to repeal. We consented to the treaty; its language we accepted; if we did not originate it, and we are too big, too powerful, too self-respecting a nation to interpret with too strained or refined a reading of words of our own promises just because we have power enough to give us leave to read them as we please. The large thing to do is the only thing we can afford to do, a voluntary withdrawal from a position everywhere questioned and misunderstood. We ought to reverse our action without raising the question whether we were right or wrong and so once more deserve our reputation for generosity and the redemption of every obligation without quibble or hesitation.

I ask this of you in support of the foreign policy of the administration. I shall not know how to deal with other matters having greater delicacy and nearer consequence if you do not grant it to me in ungrudging measure.

In Dispute Two Years

The Panama tolls question has been a question of dispute for nearly two years. It applies to the coastwise trade between Great Britain and the United States found the question unsettled when President Taft left office. Except for an assurance to James Bryce, then British Ambassador, when he left the United States a year ago that the question would be taken up in the regular session of congress, President Wilson has never directed any official communication to England on the toll question. The president recently told callers he had never discussed the matter formally or informally with the British ambassador here, Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, because he believed the obligation on the part of the United States to repeal the exemption clause was one which this government itself would live up to, as the leaders in both houses had assured the president that with the aid of a message by him showing that national circumstances had arisen since the message was last debated, the president's suggestion for repeal would be met with prompt action.

His Crowd Hears Message

The house chamber and galleries were packed as usual to hear the president read his address. The French and German ambassadors and other members of the diplomatic corps were in spaces reserved for them. No official of the British embassy was present. The Misses Wilson had places in the executive gallery and Mrs. Wilson for the first time was absent. She was not yet recovered from the shock of a fall in the White House a day or two ago.

President Wilson reached the capitol ten minutes before the time of the reading. He walked to the center of Clark's room until 12:30 o'clock when he was escorted into the chamber and began reading his brief address as soon as a burst of applause had died away.

Burst of Applause

Mr. Wilson's message was so brief that he had finished reading almost before the surprised galleries realized he had begun. It took less than five minutes and as another burst of applause greeted its close, Mr. Wilson hurried out of the chamber and drove back to the White House. The joint session dissolved at once and the two houses resumed their work.

Not a Sound Had Interrupted the President as He Read His Message

Speaker Clark ordered the address referred to the interstate commerce committee. Within ten minutes after the president had addressed congress, the senate chamber, democratic member of the senate committee, introduced a bill authorizing the president to suspend tolls.

Address Pleasured Adamson

Chairman Adamson, who will have charge of the repeal legislation, declared the address fitted his ideas exactly.

"The president's address pleases me," he said, "because it means honestly at home and justice abroad. It is not true that we are surrendering to Great Britain if we repeal the free tolls clause. Myself and other democrats took a position against this piece of reality before England ever heard of it."

Democratic Leader Underwood declined to discuss the president's address.

DISCUSS SUNDAY BASEBALL

NEW HAVEN, Conn., March 5.—Eastern association baseball directors met in a five-hour session yesterday adopted a schedule of teams; provided for a sinking fund for emergencies and discussed the much-mooted question of Sunday playing.

The season will open on April 23 and close Sept. 12. It was voted to make arrangements for a long-term agreement with the New England league for post-season series.

By a vote of 7 to 1 ten per cent. of the gross receipts will be used for a special sinking fund, to aid clubs in financial difficulties, or to meet any emergencies. No definite action was taken in regard to Sunday playing. The Hartford club went on record as being opposed to it.

NEW JEWEL THEATRE

"The Strangers of Paris" Beloit's famous sensation novel known as the most vivid portrayal of peculiar conditions that existed in Paris nearly a decade ago will be a feature at this theatre. This remarkable narrative was dramatized by the "Master of Dramatic Art," David Belasco, and he has produced the most marvelous play of the age. And when originally conceived by Charles Frohman, it was the sensation of the time. New York papers lauded this play to the skies and well they should, because a company of expert actors have given this the most lavish production and fullness of details which can be reached only through the efforts of an efficient corps of highly paid artists of that profession. Mr. James Gordon heads this company, and every foot is really a feature. Many other pictures will be shown in a long change to visit the new little house on the corner.

Y. W. C. A. CAMPAIGN FOR $10,000

TO BE LAUNCHED ON MARCH 10TH

THE Y. M. C. A. BUILDING

The directors of the Y. W. C. A. are planning to make their first appeal to the public of Lowell and vicinity for funds to carry on the work which the association is doing and to make needed repairs in the building in John street. In order to raise these funds they will conduct an active campaign during which ten teams will make a canvass of the city for the sum of $10,000.

The site upon which the Y. W. C. A. was built was given the association by James H. H. and the building was given by Frederick Ayer. The directors have a list of subscribers who pledge amounts annually and in this way all deficits have been paid up to the beginning of the present year. However, since the building was erected, nine years ago no repairs have been made and a change in the constitution has also made it necessary for the association to raise money or else fall behind in the work.

The campaign will start Tuesday evening, March 10, and will continue through Saturday, March 21. Each afternoon the committee will meet in an office that is to be opened on the second story of the building and make reports to those in charge. A large thermometer, similar in style to the one used in St. Elizabeth's hospital campaign, will be installed on the outside of the building and point out the amount raised to date.

The campaign will be conducted on the same line as the Y. M. C. A. campaign was last year. People will be asked to pledge a certain sum and make payments at intervals during a period of one year or pay the full amount at once if convenient. In receiving the money this way the association will be able to pay its bills as they are contracted and new clubs will be formed and social events planned for will be given a number of cards with the names of several people on them and no person will be allowed to ask for money without a card bearing the name of the person whom she asks.

There will be ten teams of ten members who will work ten days to secure

$10,000 and therefore the campaign will be called a ten times ten campaign. Mrs. Charles T. Upton, acting president of the board of directors, will act as chairman of the general committee and Miss Lena M. Farrell, one of the association's traveling secretaries, will remain in Lowell during the ten days and use her influence in making plans for the work. The local secretaries will also be busy during the period and will do considerable of the clerical work.

About 100 women assembled in the association room yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock in honor of Miss Helen Ailing Davis of New York city, one of the national secretaries, who is head of the field department and who has charge of all local associations, and also of organizing new associations. Miss Davis spoke interestingly on her work in northwestern associations and told of other campaigns that have been conducted during the time of her experience in Y. W. C. A. work. She will meet the captains of the teams at the association building late this afternoon to give instructions relative to the team work.

MEXICAN SITUATION

Continued

United States the right to ask it, was favorably received here and his prompt ordering of the inquiry into the Baugh case likewise was welcomed.

Evidence in Benton's Death

Upon the results of the investigation and Carranza's subsequent action depend in a large measure the policy which the American government will pursue toward the constitutionalists. Much evidence of a conclusive character about Benton's death has been gathered.

Should the Carranza commission controvert important points satisfactorily proven here, it is unlikely that the Washington government will remain silent on the question. There is every likelihood, too, that if Baugh was wantonly murdered, as reported, a satisfactory explanation of the incident and the punishment of the offenders will be demanded.

Persons familiar with the inaccessibility of the territory through which Carranza will be isolated for the next ten days or more during his overland journey to Chihuahua City do not expect there will be any report on the subject for over a fortnight.

Though the Huerta government has promised a full and complete investigation of the reports of the killing of Clemente Vergara, an American citizen, near Hidalgo, Mexico, nothing of a satisfactory nature has as yet been received by the state department.

Governor Colquhoun's efforts to obtain the extradition of those responsible for Vergara's disappearance are being watched here with much interest.

DIAZ SUPPORTERS CALL VILLA AND CARRANZA BANDITS AND HUERTA CORRUPT

WASHINGTON, March 4.—Although Great Britain's reluctance to press the Benton case at this time has made the Mexican situation less acute, it is now virtually certain that spirited debate will occur in the senate in a few days.

It became known last night that data concerning the number of foreigners killed in Mexico since armed revolution began there is being gathered by the state department for Senator Shively, ranking member of the foreign relations committee who is expected to present official records about conditions in the southern republic. It was reported that Senator Fall of New Mexico would open the debate with a speech pointing to conditions in Mexico, past and present and urging a change of policy.

Incidentally the New Mexico senator yesterday presented to the foreign relations committee Pedro Del Villar and Cecilio Ocon, representing the political interests of Felix Diaz. Members of the committee were frankly amazed when the Mexicans sought the moral support by the United States of a movement to bring about peace in Mexico by another revolution headed by Diaz.

The committee had no idea, it is said, as to the exact purpose of their visit other than they wished to present information about the situation in Mexico.

Members of the committee daily stated that the United States could not recognize any such movement. Villa and Ocon severely arraigned Huertas as corrupt and Carranza and Villa as bandits and argued that Felix Diaz, a host of loyal Mexican citizens behind him, would rush to his support to establish a real government in Mexico. They wanted to get a promise, if possible, from the American government that it would uphold Diaz and recognize him if a counter-revolution succeeded. Several members of the committee characterized the proposition as preposterous.

The committee is taking a most active interest in the Mexican imbroglio and intends to get all the information possible so that it may be prepared for any situation that may arise, especially if the administration should determine upon any change of policy.

INVESTIGATION INTO MURDERS OF BENTON AND BAUGH BEGUN BY CARRANZA

EL PASO, Texas, March 6.—Investigation into the execution by General Villa of William S. Benton, the British subject, and into the disappearance of Gustav Baugh, the German-American, was begun at Juarez today by the Mexican commission appointed by General Carranza, chief of the constitutionalists.

Headquarters of the constitutionalist government was established today across the river at Juarez. Seventy men, heads of departments, clerks and secretaries brought with them a carload of official papers of the rebel government. Carranza and members of his cabinet were expected to leave Juarez for Juarez some time today.

FIND MISSING FAMILY

FEARS FOR MAN, WIFE AND MOTHER WHO COULD NOT BE FOUND AFTER FIRE DISPELLED

OAKLAND, N. J., March 5.—Fears for A. N. Allen, proprietor of the Brookside Inn, and his wife and mother, who could not be found Sunday night after the hotel had been destroyed by fire, were dispelled when it was found today that Allen and his family had escaped from the burning building and taken refuge at a farm some distance away.

AUSTRIAN PARLIAMENT

VIENNA, March 5.—The lower house of the Austrian imperial parliament whose sessions were suspended Jan. 30 owing to the violent obstruction of the Czech deputies, reassembled today but was again brought to an abrupt stop by the tumult raised by the opposition members. The speaker once more suspended the session.

ICE JAM AT THE FALLS

Unless there is a great deal more rain or a rapid rise in temperature, it is believed that all the danger of a flood caused by the rising of the Merrimack river is over as during the past two days the water has been gradually lowering and at 11 o'clock this noon just a trifle over five feet of water flowed over the crest of the Pawtucket dam. This is nearly a foot less than the height yesterday noon and mill officials believe that within a few days the river will be back to normal, barring changes in the weather.

Tons of ice in the river above the falls broke up last evening and throughout the night huge cakes swept over the Pawtucket Falls. The flushboards at the falls had been removed before the smash and consequently the damage was done by the heavy ice which floated down the river and plunged over the dam.

Several large cakes of ice lay on the ledges between the Pawtucket and Moody street bridges and the ice seemed to be a little less than a foot thick. It is claimed that the ice is nearly twenty inches thick between the bridge and North Chelmsford but before it really breaks up it will probably have lost so much of its bottom that it will be comparatively thin.

A large number of people visited the falls today to see the effects, if any, of the breakup of the ice. The people stood on the bridge and walked up the banks while some of the old timers told stories of how beautiful the scene was years ago when the ice was much thicker than at the present time. The sight of the solid cakes of ice winding along the river was well worth the time spent by those who journeyed to the falls for that purpose. The dashing, splashing and foaming as the huge blocks of ice tumbled over the falls was indeed a rare sight.

Clubs—Special Class. $200.

The holder of a first class license as anholder will not be granted an additional license of the fourth class.

Certificates from the State Police, showing that the buildings to be licensed comply with the state laws, must be presented with the application for an holder's license and special class. Club license. Certificates from the State Board of Registration in Pharmacy must accompany each application for a sixth class license.

Applications for sixth, seventh and eighth class licenses may be filed up to 12 o'clock noon, Friday, March 27, 1914.

Applicants are notified that the premises to be licensed as hotels and common victualers must be furnished and equipped in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 100, Revised Laws.

Time limit for application for licenses is from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. and from 9 a. m. to 12 m. and all inquiries for information should be made there.

RULES ADOPTED BY THE LICENSE COMMISSION OF THE CITY OF LOWELL, FOR THE GRANTING OF LICENSES TO SELL INTOXICATING LIQUORS FOR THE LICENSE YEAR 1914-1915.

The attention of all persons interested in the granting of longer licenses is called to the following requirements:

HOW TO APPLY

On application to the clerk of the commission at our office, blanks will be furnished to those desiring to make application for licenses.

The applicant must state clearly the location of the building for which the license is desired, naming all entrances, regular and backdoor and must also state the number of rooms on each floor to be used for the sale or storage of liquors. It must be signed with the full name of each applicant and must state the interest of each applicant in the license, whether financial or otherwise.

Any person making application for a license must personally appear before the Commission upon written request in order that he may be questioned thereon, and the Commission may require any statement which may be made before it and papers which may be filed with it, relative to applications for licenses, in the sworn affidavit before a member of the Commission or the Clerk thereof.

Applications must be made between the dates of March 3 and March 17, 12 o'clock noon hour.

OBJECTIONS

Notice of all applications for licenses shall, at the expense of the applicant, be published in advance, be published in some Lowell newspaper, at least ten days before the Commission will act thereon.

If, before the expiration of the ten days following the publication of the notice as above set forth, the owner of any real estate within 25 feet of the premises described in an application for a license to be erected, or common victualer to sell liquors to be drunk on the premises, notifies the License Commission in writing that he objects to the granting of the license, or to the application for the license, he may not be granted a license on said premises shall be granted, unless the applicant thereof, shall, for two years next preceding the date of his application, have held a license for the sale of intoxicating liquors upon said premises.

Other objections to the granting of the license, either on account of unfitness of the applicant, or otherwise, may be made to the Commission at any time before the application is acted upon. The laws of the Commonwealth in this respect are not to be construed to grant licenses in any case.

Upon objection being made to the granting of the license, except the objection by an adjoining owner of real estate as above provided, the Commission may, in its discretion, if so desired, grant a hearing to parties interested.

INVESTIGATION INTO BENTON MURDER ON

to Conduct Inquiry—Diaz Supporters Seek Approval of U. S.
in Movement for Revolution

NOGALES, March 5.—Appointing of a Mexican commission to investigate the Benton case resulted, it was made known today, from some difference of opinion among General Carranza's advisers. While it was asserted those surrounding the constitutionalist commander-in-chief resented his delicate position as a result of the Benton death, they had argued that his act in refusing information to the Washington government had created a false impression in the United States, and England in regard to his implied meaning in the matter.

From those in close touch with Carranza and his policies it was learned that the appointment of the Benton commission was but the first step in a series of acts which would be calculated to do away with what was considered a misunderstanding and conviction

JUDGE ENRIGHT'S PROMPT DECISION

Discharging Both Defendants After Hearing Evidence of the Young
Man's Irreproachable Character—
Mr. Hennessy Had Testified

The assembly in police court was taken by surprise at the sudden termination of the case and the sudden decision of the court. Judge Enright said he could not find anything on which to hold the defendants and remarked that he hoped the law now before the legislature for the suppression of the so-called animal dances would pass.

Trist of the tango case, so-called, was resumed in the police court this forenoon and that interest in the tango-schottische-waltz episode is still in bloom was manifested by the reappearance of yesterday's roaring, surging, billowy crowds that jammed the doors almost to the point of obliging the officers to use their clubs.

SALE OF MILL PROPERTY

Belvidere Mill in Lawrence Street
Purchased by Robert Gordon of Arlington for $55,000

The properties of the Belvidere Woolen Manufacturing company and the American Hide & Leather company at the Wameet canal on Lawrence street and at the Concord river, on Howe street were sold at auction this afternoon under the direction of J. E. Conant & Co. There were about 50 persons from all over the state present when the sale started shortly after the scheduled hour, 1 o'clock.

The Belvidere mill No. 2 on Lawrence street was the first building sold and after considerable bidding was purchased by Robert Gordon of Arlington for $55,000. The main building is 105 feet long by 64 feet wide and is four stories high besides a basement. There is a three-story brick north wing 15 feet by 40 feet which contains 620 square feet. Besides these there are several smaller buildings including the picker-house, dyehouse, storehouse, annex, steam power plant and boiler house; and all buildings are in very good repair and well located.

The lot contains 53,144 square feet and has a frontage of 134 feet on Lawrence street. It faces Hale's brook for 757 feet and the two remaining boundaries are somewhat shorter. All the buildings are equipped with modern machinery which can easily be sold if the purchasers wishes to use the building for other than woolen manufacturing purposes.

Local Man Buys Mill
C. Brooks Stevens of this city purchased the property of the Belvidere Woolen Manufacturing Co., Mill No. 1, on Howe street, for the sum of $17,000.

The main building is of brick, four stories high and basement, and contains 32,670 square feet of floor space. The other buildings include two adjoining wings, a brick office building, a brick storehouse building, and a water power plant. The lot of land contains 43,098 square feet and there is room for the erection of at least three more buildings of the same size as those that now stand on the site.

Sold to Mr. Simpson
Lot 3, which is comprised of a three story frame building 105 feet by 62 feet and nearly 14,000 square feet of land, was sold to John A. Simpson of this city for $2000. A large power house was also included in this sale. It is said that this is the greater part of a tract of land with buildings that was sold to the American Hide & Leather Co. about six years ago for $25,550. Mr. Simpson also purchased Lot 4, a three story brick building, and several smaller structures for $1500.

Third Edition WANTS CANAL TOLLS EXEMPTION REPEALED

Pres. Wilson Personally Appealed to Congress to Sustain National Honor of U. S. in Upholding the Treaty Obligations

WASHINGTON, March 5.—President Wilson personally appealed to congress, assembled in joint session today, to sustain the national honor of the United States in upholding treaty obligations by repealing the Panama tolls exemption, against which Great Britain protests. He asked congress to do that "in support of the foreign policy of the United States" and added that an exemption for American ships not only was a mistaken economic policy but was in contravention of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty.

President Wilson's address, the shortest he has yet delivered to congress, exactly 420 words, was as follows:

"Gentlemen of the congress: I have come to you on an errand which can be very briefly performed, but I beg that you will not measure its importance by the number of sentences in which I state it. No communication I have addressed to the congress carried with it graver or more far reaching implications to the interest of the country and I come now to speak upon a matter in regard to which I am charged to a peculiar degree by the constitution itself with personal responsibility.

"I have come to ask for the repeal of the Panama tolls exemption. Continued to page ten

THE HOME RULE BILL

Read First Time This Session in House of Commons Mid Ministerial and Nationalist Cheers

LONDON, March 5.—The Home Rule bill was introduced again into the house of commons today by Augustus Birrell, chief secretary for Ireland and was read a first time amid prolonged ministerial and nationalist cheers.

The government has succeeded in keeping secret the nature of the concessions to be offered by Premier Asquith on Monday when the bill comes up for second readings. According to reports from quarters connected with the cabinet, however, Premier Asquith will simply propose that any Irish county may, by a plebiscite vote itself out of the operation of the bill for a period of three years.

It is generally regarded in parliamentary circles as certain that the unionists will reject any concessions Premier Asquith is likely to offer.

RIGHTS OF THE SCIENTISTS

Agreement With State Board on Christian Science Treatment for the Sick

BOSTON, March 5.—Council for the First Church of Christ, Scientist, announced at a public hearing before the public health committee of the legislature today that they had reached an agreement with the state board of registration in medicine on the provision of law relative to practice of Christian Science in the treatment of the sick.

The clause which the scientists have agreed shall be inserted in the proposed law is as follows:

"Nothing in this act shall be held to apply to registered pharmacists, registered dentists or registered optometrists or to restrain the practice of clairvoyance, hypnosis, mind cure, or to apply to any person who ministers to or treats the sick or suffering by mental or spiritual means without the use of drugs or material remedy."

There have been annual contests before the legislature over the rights of the Scientists to practice their healing

FORMS OF LAWLESSNESS

WASHINGTON, March 5.—The Industrial Workers of the World and militant suffragette should be classed with "other forms of lawlessness," Senator Sherman declared this afternoon in the senate. He added he felt he could say so without his motives being questioned because he favored the woman suffrage constitutional amendment.

Miss K. A. Miskel, 225 Merrimack street, has gone to New York for a few days to attend the dressmaking and millinery openings.

Several Cases and One Death Reported From Rock Street

While it wasn't known outside the charmed circle at the time of happening, it has leaked out since that the Lowell board of health was just the least little bit alarmed along the typhoid fever line some few weeks ago, because of three or four cases developing, one right after the other, in Rock street.

The first case was reported as far back as Dec. 27, and, by the way, it is stated that one death ensued. No names are being used at this time because of the fact that it is a case of "past and gone."

The first case was removed to St. John's hospital and went unrecognized until discovered there. On Jan. 5 two more cases developed in the same house and they were removed to the Lowell hospital. Still another case developed in the same house Jan. 10, and the patient was removed to the Lowell hospital. Then again on Jan. 27 another case showed up at the same house in Rock street and there was another removal to the Lowell hospital. The house where the cases developed is a boarding house and the one fatal case was that of the daughter of the man who runs the house.

The man who was removed to St. John's hospital on Dec. 27 came to Lowell from New York state, and it is believed that he brought the disease with him.

These facts were verified at the office of the board of health this afternoon, and it was also stated that only one typhoid case has been reported thus far this month. There were eight cases in January and four in February.

CAME TO SEE TANGO

JANITOR OF TEWKSBURY TOWN HALL INSISTED ON BEING ADMITTED TO TANGO TRIAL

An amusing incident relative to the tango cases which were tried in police court yesterday occurred at the afternoon session in the corridor leading to the court room.

Supt. Welch posted the members of his liquor squad at the head of the stairway which leads to the court room and unless those trying to enter after 3.45 in the morning or 1.45 in the afternoon were witnesses or had some business connected with the court they were refused admission.

About 2.30 o'clock yesterday afternoon an old colored man, bent with age, came crawling up the staircase. Officers Hessian and Murphy were at the top of the stairs. Officer Murphy shouted down to the colored man that he might just as well save his energy and not climb any higher for he could not enter the courtroom.

The little, old negro stopped in the middle of the stairs and looked up at the two officers. "I sure must go in," he said, "for it is very important that I see just what is going on in there." One of the Sun reporters who happened to be standing at the head of the staircase with the officers made bold enough to tell the old man to ascend and state his reasons for watching the trial of the performers of the forbidden tango.

Thinking no doubt that the Sun reporter was a person of authority at the police station the old man climbed the stairway. "I just have got to see that there trial," he stated to Officer Hessian, "for it's a matter of importance." The two officers immediately began to cross-examine the old negro, asking him why he thought that he should be admitted to the court room while a large crowd was waiting at the entrance for an opportunity of listening to the case. "Why you see," said the colored man, "in the janitor of the Tewksbury town hall and I've got to find out just what this here tango is, so that I can stop it out there if any of these tough guys start somethin'."

Officers Hessian and Murphy exchanged hurried glances and then decided to pass the old man who had journeyed in from Tewksbury for the purpose of discovering the correct, or rather incorrect, method of dancing the now much mooted tango. With a relaxed expression upon his countenance the little man received permission to enter the courtroom and watch proceedings from a seat that gave him an unobstructed view of the entire courtroom. Hereafter tangoists out of Tewksbury way will have to be very careful about their rendition of the dance for the janitor of the town hall received a very convincing illustration of the wrong way to perform the dance yesterday and may be depended upon to enforce the law as he saw it laid down by the local police in yesterday's trial.

CHILD SETS FIRE

To Mother's Clothing While She Slept—After Narrow Escape—Assisted by Neighbors

BOSTON, March 5.—Henry Felik, two years old, set fire to his mother's clothing as she was sleeping on a couch in their home, 18 North Russell street, West End, yesterday afternoon, and then started a blaze in the kitchen with newspapers. Mrs. Felik awoke to find herself in flames and her screams attracted Mrs. E. Sidorak, a neighbor, who assisted her in putting out the flames.

The boy's mother, Mrs. Jessie Felik, was sleeping soundly when the flames awoke her. She ran, screaming to the kitchen sink and soon drowned out the fire with a big water dipper. She was not seriously burned. Someone notified the fire department, but before the apparatus arrived Mrs. Felik and Mrs. Sidorak had extinguished the burning couch and the fire in the kitchen.

RECEPTION AT Y. W. C. A.

Miss Helen Alling Davis, one of the Y. W. C. A. national secretaries, was tendered a reception in Kitson hall, Y. W. C. A. building, yesterday afternoon by the social committee of the association. During the afternoon Miss Davis spoke upon her work in Y. W. C. A.'s throughout the country and told of the many things it is doing for the young women of today.

The ushers and waitresses were: Misses Helen Barnes, Linda and Florence Weinbeck, Adelaide Walsh, Eva Henderson, Vivian Cowan and Alta-Maria Morris.

NEWS OF THE LEGISLATURE

Senate Tied Vote on Vacation Bill—Gov. Walsh Opposes Increase in His Salary

BOSTON, March 5.—The state senate rejected yesterday by a tie vote, 13 to 12, the bill providing that cities and towns shall give every year a vacation of two weeks to laborers employed in municipal work. But a record-creation will be moved today by Senator Brennan of Cambridge, who was not in the chamber when the vote was taken.

When the matter came up, Senator Timothy of Boston said the bill was a good bill. He said that the present mayor of Boston went into the last campaign on his declaration that he would vote for anything that was for the interest of the laboring man, and that it was not for the mayor of Boston to go on record against this bill. Mr. Timothy said also that the present chairman of the finance commission would not now oppose this bill.

Senator Doyle, chairman of the committee on cities, said apparently some people had had a change of heart since they came before his committee. Senators Brennan of Charlestown, Hickey and Horgan, spoke for the bill and Senators Bellamy and Hobbs against it.

The vote on rollcall was: In Favor—Bagley, James H. Brennan, Clark, Dean, Draper, Edridge, Fitzgerald, Hickey, Horgan, Johnson, Leonard, Neek, McCarthy, McGonagle, O'Rourke, Sheehan, Sibley, Toller, Timothy. Opposed—Bazeley, Bellamy, Beyer, Burbank, Chase, Cox, Doyle, Fisher, Gifford, Gordon, Hilton, Hobbs, Langeller, McLane, Nichols, Norwood, Ward, Wells, Williams—12. Not Voting—John P. Brennan and the President.

Hospital to Cambridge
The bill to enable Cambridge to use a part of its park lands as a site for a municipal hospital was rejected without debate. The senate adopted an amendment to the bill compelling the courts to excuse members of the legislature if they did not keep their engagements in the law courts while they were at work in the state house. The bill was rejected. The votes on the bill empowering the Suffolk law school of Boston to grant degrees showed what a powerful influence a rollcall is. On a rising vote the bill was rejected, 18 to 7, but on a rollcall it was ordered to a third reading, 28 to 8.

The committee on ways and means reported favorably on the following appropriation bills: $150,000 for the state farm; salary of the assistant secretary of the governor to be $2000 instead of $1200; $131,000 for managers of the Panama-Pacific fair; to increase the salary of the private secretary of the governor from $2500 to $4000.

Unfavorable committee reports were received on the following bills: An overhead bridge on Midway street, Dorchester, over the tracks of the New Haven railroad; for the employment of citizens on public works done by the commonwealth; to regulate the size of loaves and receptacles to be moved by women, in mills and workshops.

Oppose Secularism Aid
The fear that the granting of public funds to sectarian institutions would vitally effect a union between church and state was the basis of the argument offered in favor of the proposed constitutional amendment prohibiting such grants at the hearing before the committee on constitutional amendments yesterday. So great was the attendance that a larger room than the first proved too small. Its only opponent was P. T. Fuller of the progressive legislative bureau.

The amendment is as follows: "No law shall be passed respecting an establishment of religion or prohibiting the free exercise thereof, nor shall the state or any county, city, town, village or other civil division use its property or credit or any money raised by taxation or otherwise, or authorize either to be used for the purpose of founding, maintaining or aiding by appropriation, payment for services, expenses, or in any other manner, any church, religious denomination, school, society or undertaking which is wholly or in part under sectarian or ecclesiastical control."

Reimburse Cities
The committee on taxation voted, 8 to 7, to execute session to report the bill to reimburse cities and towns for the loss of revenue by the exemption of the homesteads of Civil war veterans, which homesteads are now exempt up to $2000. It was stated by one of the committee that Boston would have to pay about $30,000 more state tax under the proposed bill, and would get about $5000, while other places would gain from $450 to $1500 each.

License Bill Killed
An important measure acted upon was the bill providing that all cities and towns shall vote on license at the state election. The measure was killed on a roll-call of 32 to 12.

The house defeated Mr. Carr's motion for reconsideration of Tuesday's adverse action on his bill to limit the authority of inferior courts to determine the constitutionality of statutes. The bill relative to technical, industrial and vocational education in elementary schools was killed on a roll-call, 35 to 12.

Mr. Washburn's resolutions for an opinion from the attorney general regarding the disposition of the Boston & Maine stock held by the Boston Railroad Holding company without action on the part of the general court, were recommitted without debate to the committee on rules.

Lansbury Attacks O'Meara
Martin Lansbury attacked Police Commissioner O'Meara yesterday afternoon in the house as having defied the civil service law.

The bill under discussion was presented by Representative Cummings and provides for competitive examinations in the police department for promotions.

Before the hearing Mr. O'Meara opposed the bill. A vote will not be reached until today. Mr. Lansbury said that the commission had ordered the police commissioner to hold examinations for promotion, and that the commissioner had not done it.

Minutia Objection
Possibly never before in the history of the Massachusetts militia has a bill been presented to the legislature which has created among the state soldiers so much interest and discussion as has the house bill to authorize an additional battalion of infantry, which with the 1st and 2d Corps of Cadets would form a regiment. This would be a provide two brigades of infantry, as when the Coast Artillery Corps was a part of the 1st Brigade before being changed into heavy artillery.

The bill will be opposed by many people, and a committee has already been formed to do everything possible to bring about its defeat. The opponents say that from $25,000 to $35,000 would be required every year if the bill passed.

The state now receives $140,000 from the federal government for the support of the militia, but this would not be increased if an additional regiment were formed, as the allotment is determined by the representation in congress.

Governor Opposes Increase
Gov. Walsh wrote yesterday to the committee on public safety regarding an increase of the governor's salary.

The bill, which the governor opposed, would increase the salary of the governor of the commonwealth from $8000 to $12,000, was presented without any solicitation on my part and without my knowledge. The governor, who was a petitioner for the bill, would be generous enough to provide in the bill that it take effect this year, when the Coast Artillery Corps was a part of the 1st Brigade before being changed into heavy artillery.

"That the present salary paid to the chief executive is inadequate every one concedes. That the honor of being governor is greater than any salary is indispensable. The citizen upon whom the people bestow this honor properly feels that he is the debtor rather than the commonwealth."

BOSTON ELEVATED GRANTS RAISE
BOSTON, March 5.—After a year's negotiations, an agreement was reached last night between the Boston Elevated railway and the telegraphers who demanded increased wages and changes in working rules. An increase in wages was granted, to take effect from May 1, 1913. Other details of the agreement were not disclosed.

Athletes and Athletics

Harvard Athletics paid over $30,000 in all departments last year according to the figures set forth in the report of W. F. Garcelon, former treasurer of the Harvard Athletic association. The total receipts for last year were well over $150,000.

The Lowell party who were invited to attend the reception in New York to the home-coming world's tourists will leave here for the Big City today and tomorrow. Manager Gray, Owner Roach, Jim Kennedy and Jack Donnelly left this afternoon.

Exeter has been invaded by the measles and no less than eight athletes are now laid up with this disease. Dick Cleveland, son of the late president, is one of those who is confined to the hospital. Captain Williams of the track team is ill and may not be seen in a track uniform for several weeks.

The Harvard relay race which cracked the world's record over the B. A. A. indoor course at the scholastic games Saturday, will be awarded medals for their feat by the athletic committee of the club. Their time of 3.03 for the 1500 yards will hold for a long time to come in all probability.

The Merchants' Association of New York City yesterday adopted a resolution which they voted to present to the secretaries of the army and navy. The business men want the Army-Navy game for their city next fall and the resolution sets forth the reasons why the "gridiron contest" should be staged in the metropolis.

C. M. Jones, the Exeter pitcher, was equaled the 40-yard dash record at the B. A. A. schoolboy meet last Saturday is touted by Coach Connors as one of the most promising athletes that he ever brought out. He is a brother of the famous brothers, Ted and Howard Jones, and is looked upon as Exeter's mainstay in the 100 yards and 220 yards this spring.

Matty Zieser is working out in great shape at the Red Sox training camp. The former Lowell pitcher is already attracting the attention of the sporting writers who are following the destinies of Bill Carrigan's pet. If Matty is showing well at this stage of the season he ought to be doing wonders with his fast ball when the season opens.

Johnny Evers' appearance at the Braves' training quarters in Macon, Ga., has boomed along the work of the entire squad. The snappy, aggressive ex-manager of the Cubs is a wonder on the spring trip for he is going along himself all the time and spurs the maximum of speed out of his teammates. There is not another team on the National league circuit with two such clean infielders as Maranville and Evers.

"Let the outlaws start something," says Ban Johnson, "if they want a fight we'll give it to them." Such sentiments from Ban ought to be well thought over by the officials of the Federal League. Johnson has not made a blunder since jumping into the fight of the baseball world with the game for their city next fall and the resolution sets forth the reasons why the "gridiron contest" should be staged in the metropolis.

C. M. Jones, the Exeter pitcher, was

FRITZ HANSON IN TOWN

NOTED SWEDISH WRESTLER HERE FOR BOUT WITH DECHESNE TOMORROW NIGHT IN RING SHAPE

Fritz Hanson, the wonderful welter weight champion of the wrestling world, arrived here late this afternoon for his bout with Tom Dechesne, the noted middleweight grappler of New Bedford, which will take place in Asquith hall tomorrow night. Dechesne will arrive here tonight.

To say that Hanson is in shape would be to put it mildly for the Swede

was never in better condition for a grueling contest than he is today. He has been working hard at his training camp in Lincoln, N. H., for the past two weeks in preparation for this bout and has wrestled with some of the best men in the New England states, irrespective of weight, since he began to get down "naked".

Reports from New Bedford during the past week have made Hanson prepare for this contest as he has not done for several years. Although Fritz is one of the most careful men in professional athletics so far as his every day physical condition is concerned, he has taken no chances on this contest, and his trainers said today that he was fit to give a great account of himself.

Ed Caddock of New Britain, Conn., and Joe Bissell of Newton will furnish a bout in the semi-final that will be worthy of notice. Both men are fast, aggressive wrestlers, and are certain to put up a whirlwind event. In the "prelim" Andy O'Day of Lawrence and George Lodge of Lowell will come together. The Lowell boy has many admirers, who say that he is certain to be heard from when he gains more experience.

DIAMOND NOTES

Our old friend Daniel will not have so much fun this year as he did last season from appearances. The only two umpires that he did not threaten to punch or actually perform this operation upon were "Red" Rorly and Jack Stafford. Secretary Cooper's incoming crop of decision-makers are husky specimens and have all the earmarks of fire-eaters. If Cloney starts anything this year he may require assistance to finish the job.

William A. Buckland of Portland, who pitched was largely responsible for the winning of the Maine Trolley league pennant by the Windthrop team last season, has signed a contract with the Portlanders. New England league team and will report there to Hugh Duffy with the other players about April 10.

Buckland, who is a left hander with fine speed and a good assortment of curves, pitched two seasons for the Maine Central Trolley team, and last year before the Trolley league season his twirling put the institute nine in the first rank amongst Maine scholastic teams and won for them the schoolboy championship of western Maine.

In the Central Maine Trolley league which was composed of Grafton, Lowell, Augusta and Windthrop, the young southpaw pitched 18 games and won 14 for the latter team. He was rarely touched up for over five or six hits and averaged about eight or nine strikeouts to a game, and the clubs in the league were composed of

SCENES AT SPRING TRAINING CAMPS OF MAJOR LEAGUE BALL TEAMS

1-A SCENE IN CAMP
2-PRACTISING THE HOOK SLIDE

Most of the major league baseball teams are now at their spring training camps, working out the kinks that winter inactivity has placed in their brawny arms and legs. The illustration shows a scene in the camp of the Pittsburgh Nationals at Hot Springs, Ark., and Vic Saur of the Chicago Nationals practicing the so-called "hook slide" to base in a practice game between two "Cub" teams at Tampa, Fla.

OF INTEREST TO EAGLES

At Tuesday night's meeting of the localerie of Eagles attention was called to the candidacy of Col. William L. Greyson of Savannah, Ga., for grand vice president of the order. Col. Greyson is quite well and favorably known in this city where he has been a visitor on more than one occasion, in company with his friend and fellow townsman, Dr. Martin A. Morris, a former Lowell boy. Col. Greyson is not one of those "Southern Cannibals" that we read about, but the real article, having commanded the First Georgia regiment during the Spanish-American war.

On the occasion of his last visit here while in Boston one day with Dr. Morris, the colored was suddenly held up by a stranger, who showed a disposition to hug him like a long lost brother. "Don't you remember me, Colonel?" cried the stranger with beaming countenance. "I'm Private" of Savannah. I served under you in the old First Georgia." Col. Greyson is clerk of the superior court in the county that includes the city of Savannah.

REBEL LEADERS CAPTURED
CAPE HAITIEN, Haiti, March 6.—The government troops today took the town of Ouanaminthe, and captured two of the rebel leaders and a large number of their followers.

POPE DISCUSSES MEXICO
ROME, March 5.—Pope Pius today received in audience Monsignor Tomaso Boglietti, apostolic delegate to Mexico. His Holiness discussed at length the situation in Mexico and evinced horror at the killing of William S. Benton at Juarez. He also inquired about the delay in permitting the United States government to investigate Benton's death.

EDSON SCHOOL VACANCY

CHRISTOPHER J. HAGAN THE LOGICAL LOCAL CANDIDATE FOR PRINCIPAL

The attitude of Dr. Lambert and Mr. Caffee at last night's meeting of the school board, relative to the election of a principal for the Edson school has caused no little criticism. While any elective position belongs to the candidate who can receive the necessary number of votes in this case there appears in the contest what is popularly termed "the logical candidate" in the person of Christopher J. Hagan, who is also the only local candidate in a field of a dozen and who received the votes of Abel R. Campbell and Perry Thompson, who it would appear are viewing the situation in a fair and practical light. Mr. Hagan, who is a native of Lowell, despite the fact that the former mayor or had previously announced in the press that he is not a candidate for the position.

Dr. Lambert is reported as favoring delay in order to look into the qualifications of the candidates. The local candidate, Mr. Hagan, already has "qualified" to the satisfaction of the superintendent of schools. He acted as principal of the Edson school for one year while the late Mr. Burbank was on leave of absence. Mr. Hagan made an excellent showing and it was generally regarded that he could not be kept in the employ of the school department upon the return of Mr. Burbank. The public will hardly agree to any proposition to import an unknown for the position when we have a local man for the place who has already proved his competency.

RANTOUL DIVORCE CASE

HUSBAND AND WIFE BITTERLY SCORED BY ATTORNEYS IN CLOSING ARGUMENTS

BOSTON, March 5.—The Rantoul divorce case came to an end yesterday afternoon when, after a terrific tongue lashing of Mrs. Lois Burnett Rantoul and her husband, Edward L. Rantoul, by the opposing attorneys, Judge Hardy took the case under advisement. A decision is expected in about two weeks.

Seldom if ever has such a bitter arraignment of two principals in a divorce case been heard. With serious abandon Attorney Thomas Hunt characterized Mrs. Rantoul as a liar and false woman, while with equal fervor Attorney Thomas W. Prector, typified Edward L. Rantoul as a man who had made a white slave of his wife and had brutally treated her while she was weak and sick in her bed.

DARTMOUTH COLLEGE OFFICERS
HANOVER, N. H., March 5.—H. A. Koonch of New York was elected president of the senior class of Dartmouth college yesterday by six votes over K. Little of Pawtucket, R. I. Other officers elected were: Vice President R. N. Hargrett, of Cleveland, O.; secretary, J. T. Morrill of Portland, Me.; treasurer, J. L. Day of Portland, Me.; marshal, P. W. Loudon of Troy, N. Y.

PROMINENT REPUBLICAN DEAD
FORT PLAIN, N. Y., March 5.—De Witt Clinton Smith, long a prominent republican, died at his home yesterday, aged 80.

BAN READY FOR WAR

SAYS "I THINK FEDERALS ARE THE WORRIED ONES"

CLEVELAND, O., March 5.—"The organization will back the Cleveland club to the limit should the Federal league carry out its threat to wage war for the services of Pitcher Blanding," said Ban Johnson, president of the American league last night after a conference with Charles W. Somers, owner of the Cleveland club. Johnson and other baseball magnates were on their way to New York to meet the members of the Comiskey-McGraw party on its return from the trip around the world.

"Pitcher Blanding returned to the Cleveland club of his own volition," continued Johnson. "Neither Mr. Somers nor I prevailed upon him to return. The other members of the club, realizing the strength that Blanding would add to their team and with visions of a possible world series, petitioned the pitcher to return. In a public statement Blanding admitted that he made a mistake when he joined the Federals. We will protect this player to the limit and the fact that he deserted the organization at an earlier date will not lessen the strength of our campaign of protection."

Johnson scoffed at the idea that the organization was fearful of the outcome of the baseball war. "I think the Federals are the worried ones," said he. Preceding the Johnson party by a few minutes were President Gilmore of the Federal league and George Stovall, manager of the Kansas City Federal league team. They also were on their way to New York to meet members of the around-the-world party.

BASEBALL MEN MEET

GATHER IN NEW YORK FOR A RECEPTION TO BALL PLAYERS—GREAT PLANS AHEAD

NEW YORK, March 5.—Baseball men from all parts of the country are arriving in New York today to meet the returning world touring Giants and White Sox, and incidentally to discuss the invasion of the Federal league. As was the case when the rulers of organized baseball conferred here recently the chief organizers of the new outlaws are planning to make their presence felt.

SWEEP UNDERGROUND

LAD OF SIX YEARS FELL INTO SEWER AND WAS CARRIED 100 YARDS—RESCUED BY LABORERS

PEABODY, March 5.—George McKinnon, a six-year-old boy, was rescued from drowning in the polluted waters of the North river canal after he had been carried through the 150-yard underground sluiceway at Central street and swept nearly one-quarter of a mile by the rushing water of the canal yesterday afternoon. Two Greek laborers pulled the unconscious boy from the water just in time to save his life.

Young McKinnon slipped into the water near the National Calfskin company's plant. On account of the recent rain and thaw, the water was high and the current very strong. Unable to grasp hold of the wooden walls of the canal, the boy was swept toward the underground sluiceway. The canal goes under Central street on the Danvers road, and into this dark sluiceway young McKinnon was carried. The poisonous gases caused the boy to lose consciousness while going through the 150-yard underground waterway, but his helpless body was still rushed along with the surging water.

Michael Spiliotis and another Greek, who were working near Walnut and Wells streets, caught sight of the unconscious boy in the canal. Spiliotis and his companion jumped into the water and brought the boy ashore. Bainbridge Merrill and William T. Coyle rolled the boy on a barrel to revive him. Coyle, who was driving a motor truck in the vicinity, then leaped on his truck and broke speed records in search of a physician. He finally located Dr. C. Chase Tucker and brought him down to treat the boy. After the physician had ordered young McKinnon home Coyle took him there in his auto truck. The lad will recover.

"The water of the North river canal is polluted with sewage and waste from the tanneries and factories and the underground sluiceway is regarded as a particularly dangerous place," said young McKinnon's mother, who was visiting relatives when he wandered down to the canal and fell in.

EARTHQUAKE IN ALASKA

SENSATION IN COURT

COUNCILLOR WATSON RENEWS ATTACK ON SHERIFF QUINN—WOMAN APPEARS AGAINST SHERIFF

BOSTON, March 5.—Councillor James A. (Jerry) Watson created a sensation in the superior criminal court yesterday when he appeared in behalf of Mrs. Estelle Abbott of 10 Blackwood street, who was before the court for sentence after having been found guilty of having performed an illegal operation on Minnie White, a 19-year-old Brockton girl.

Watson had hardly begun on his new role as defender of Mrs. Abbott when he commenced to attack Sheriff John Quinn, who was in the courtroom.

Mrs. Abbott is to be his leading witness at the city council investigation of the Charles street jail, Saturday afternoon. She has furnished him with information which forms the basis of his attacks on Sheriff Quinn and his conduct of the jail of which as sheriff he is the keeper. He charged yesterday that this woman is today, facing sentence as a result of a conspiracy between the sheriff of Suffolk county and— At this point he was summarily stopped by Judge Chase, who informed him that he did not care to hear him along these lines.

Mrs. Abbott was defended during the four-day trial by Clarence W. Rowley, and Watson stated that he had deserted her at the last minute and had not made any move towards filing exceptions to take her case to the supreme judicial court, as she had requested him to do.

Assistant District Attorney Lavelle insisted that sentence be imposed immediately, and Watson asked that it be put off until Monday. After a conference at the bench, a compromise was adopted so that she will be sentenced on Friday morning, at 10 o'clock.

Watson declared: "I can well understand why it is important that Mrs. Abbott be sentenced today. She is due to appear on Saturday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, as a witness before the city council committee which is investigating the Charles street jail, and if she is sentenced today she will be unable to be there then."

SUPPER-ENTERTAINMENT

UNDER AUSPICES OF MEN'S BROTHERHOOD OF FIRST TRINITARIAN CHURCH

A turkey supper and pleasing entertainment constituted the attraction at the First Trinitarian church last night. It was all under the auspices of the Men's Brotherhood, and there was a good attendance. The committee of men in charge included the following: J. J. Hibbs, Nelson Hill, Charles F. Farnham, Charles Burlew, William Brown, John T. Roy, Walter Smith, Joseph McGraw, C. T. Upton, Walter Lavelle, Dr. Sumner, Thomas Dalton, Walter Grant, Grant Miller and Thomas Ferguson.

The main feature of the evening's program was a sketch entitled "Dane's Dress Suit Case," in which the following named people took part: "Mr. Dane," Emilio Harfior; "Mrs. Dane," Mrs. McKinley; "Mr. Scott," a traveling salesman, Mr. Stanley.

The sketch was preceded and followed by a selection for four hands by Mrs. Goodrich and Miss Rachel Ellis, and a tenor solo by Edward Killpatrick. During the evening, several readings by Miss Althea McKnight were greatly enjoyed.

Monthly Supper
The monthly supper and entertainment under the direction of the ladies of St. Paul's E. C. church was held last evening. Mrs. Ada Merrill and Mrs. A. L. Macrae had charge of the supper, and they were assisted in the preparation and the serving by those members whose names begin with L and M. Following the supper a delightful entertainment was given. Mrs. N. J. Marcotte gave several solos, with Mrs. C. F. Richardson at the piano. The H. H. class sang choruses numbers 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100.

HOW YOU MAY THROW AWAY YOUR GLASSES

This statement is made that thousands wear eyeglasses who do not need them. If you are one of these unfortunate, then these glasses may be ruining your eyes instead of helping them. Thousands who wear "wind-downs" may prove for themselves that they can dispense with glasses if they will get the following prescription filled at once: Go to any active drug store and get a bottle of Opton, fill a two-ounce bottle with water and drop in one Opton tablet. With this harmless liquid solution, bathe the eyes two to four times daily and you are likely to be astonished at the results right from the start. Many who have been told that they have astigmatism, eye-strain, cataract, sore eyelids, weak eyes, conjunctivitis and other eye disorders, report wonderful benefits from the use of this free prescription. Get this prescription filled and use it. You may strengthen your eyes at a cost of nothing and be necessary. Thousands who are blind, or nearly so, or who wear glasses, have never had their eyes in time. Save your eyes before it is too late! Do not become one of these victims of neglect. Eyeglasses are only like crutches and every few years they must be changed to fit the ever-increasing weakened condition, so better see if you can, like many notable get clear, healthy, strong, magnetic eyes through the prescription here given.—Advertisement.

SPEAKERS AT CHILD LABOR CONFERENCE AND TYPICAL GROUP OF BOY "WORKMEN"

1-JANE ADDAMS 2-SENATOR OWEN 3-OWEN R. LOVEJOY

NEW ORLEANS, March 5.—The tenth national conference on child labor occurs here March 15 to 18, and prominent speakers from many sections of the country will attend. The conference will give new impetus, it is expected, to the campaign now being waged against the employment of minors under improper conditions. Among those who will address the delegates will be United States Senator Robert L. Owen of Oklahoma, Jane Addams of Hull House, Chicago, Owen R. Lovejoy, general secretary to the national child labor committee; Dr. Felix Adler, chairman of the national child labor committee; Governor Luther E. Hall and Judge Joseph A. McCullough of Greenville, S. C. The group of boys in the accompanying illustration shows a condition which the child labor opponents are endeavoring to abolish. These lads are employees of a cotton mill and work eleven hours a day.

CURLEY CUTS SALARIES DROPPED DEAD

Mayor of Boston Slashes Increase Granted by Fitzgerald to Fire Department Officers

BOSTON, March 5.—All of the officers of Boston's fire department and general of the employees of the fire department, construction and clerical branches of that service, had their salaries slashed by Mayor Curley yesterday.

In all the mayor jettisoned, at one swoop, $63,831 off the pay rolls of the department, cutting the salaries of every officer in the department from Chief Mullen to the newest lieutenant. None but the privates in the department escaped.

The cuts represented the lust increase which these officers received from ex-Mayor Fitzgerald's hands. It was announced by the mayor last night that he is going to confer with Police Commissioner O'Meara today with a view to reestablishing the same treatment to the members of the police department higher than the rank of patrolman.

Not in the history of the fire department has there been such a sweeping reduction in salaries. Mayor Curley's order for the salary cuts came like a "bolt from the blue" to even those in close touch with the administration. In the fire department the news of the cuts created much surprise and excitement.

While it was known that the mayor planned to cut the salaries of most of the city employees who had received salary increases during the latter part of the Fitzgerald administration, it was understood that the members of the fire and police departments would escape. In fact, the city hall reporters understood the mayor to say this himself.

Chief of the Boston fire department, regarded by the rank and file of firemen as a matter of only a few days. Although the chief declined yesterday to discuss the matter for publication, he has talked about it freely with a number of his most intimate friends, who say that he is preparing to leave very shortly.

Ever since Mayor Curley announced the appointment of Deputy Chief Grady, as the commissioner, the principal topic of conversation in the department has been the retirement of Chief Mullen. Although so far as is known no word or not yet in keeping with propriety ever passed between the chief and his deputy, a breach has been observed between them for several years.

A slight misunderstanding started it and persons who were too eager as friends widened the breach until it seemed that all friendship was lost between them. The deputy, however, continued to discharge the duties of chief while the latter was away or on vacation.

The chief yesterday called the report that he did not intend to serve a moment under his former deputy as an insult, and he said that he was not prepared to accept of it. It is the general opinion, however, that this is the reason for the chief's approaching retirement.

Cook on Lighter Attempted to Save Pies as Boat Went Down

WOODS HOLE, March 5.—While attempting to save his pies from the gully of a sinking lighter at the steamer pier near Eel Pond channel, Ira Brightman, cook of the craft, dropped dead from heart failure yesterday morning. Brightman was about 67 years old. The lighter, owned by the J. C. Perry Contracting company of Fall River, was being used by workmen building a drawbridge over Eel Pond channel. While picking up a rock, a section of the under-water planking of the lighter was ripped off and the craft listed and commenced to fill and sink. Frank Peterson, a fireman, John Ross, the engineer, a driver, two laborers and Cook Brightman rushed from the lighter and leaped upon the stone seawall, believing the lighter would sink immediately. As the crew of the lighter was watching it slowly sink, Brightman said to Everett Hilton, who was standing on the wall: "I guess I will go back and save the pies I have in the galley and in the oven."

An Brightman started for the galley to save his pies, and when picked up was dead.

PEOPLE'S CLUB
There was a large attendance at the regular meeting of the People's club last evening when Mrs. Mims, Elliot Tenney Peck of Brookline, gave a very interesting talk on Sicily. Several beautiful pictures describing that country and its beautiful cathedrals with exquisite mosaic interiors were thrown on the screen and added much to the evening's entertainment. The story of Sicily up to the time of its annexation with Italy was outlined by the speaker who held the attention of her audience at all times.

QUARTET OF STAR GRAND OPERA SINGERS ARE IN SICK LIST AS RESULT OF WEATHER

NEW YORK, March 5.—Four grand opera prima donnas, Mrs. Melba, Mary Garden, Emmy Destin and Mme. Matzenauer, are on the sick list as a result of the stormy entrance of March. Mme. Melba, according to despatches from Springfield is prostrated there by laryngitis and she has cancelled all engagements. Mary Garden is similarly afflicted, but hopes to rejoin the Philadelphia-Chicago company on its western tour by the end of the week. Miss Destin and Mme. Matzenauer are suffering from weather ailments that have caused temporary cancellation of engagements.

GAVIN FOUND NOT GUILTY

HAVERHILL RESERVE OFFICER TO BE PROMOTED—TANGO PARTY CHARGE UNSUBSTANTIATED

HAVERHILL, March 5.—Alderman Bartlett, head of the department of public safety, announced yesterday that Reserve Officer William H. Gavin did not conduct a tango dancing party as had been charged, but that the story was a political attempt to prevent his election as a regular patrolman.

The alderman investigated the case and said he would recommend Gavin's election when the proper time came. As Gavin, with Reserve Officer William H. Kelley, heads the civil service list, he will be elected.

BOSTON WOMEN HOLD PRIVATE HEARING AND DISCUSS THE "BACHELOR BILL"

BOSTON, March 5.—At a private hearing over the "bachelor bill" at the residence of Mrs. Caroline Nelson, Cambridge, yesterday, prominent women declared that there should be some legal protection for women who have given their hearts to men who can't make up their minds to be married.

Mrs. Charlotte Smith, president of the Woman Homestead association, declared that "no man has any right to court a woman for 15 years."

GRAND JURY SO DECIDES IN CASE OF MAN WHO SHOT DEFENDANT IN MURDER TRIAL

ST. LOUIS, Mo., March 5.—The grand jury yesterday decided that Harry Zang was justified in killing Wesley ("Red") Simon, three hours after Simon went on trial for the murder of another gangster.

Zang, who was to have been the chief witness against Simon, testified yesterday that he shot the defendant when he thought Simon was about to kill him. Zang probably will be released today.

IN MILL CITIES

Figures on Valuations in Lowell, Fall River and
New Bedford

The national census bureau and the state bureau of statistics has compiled a comparison of figures relative to property valuations in the three mill cities of Massachusetts having over 10,000 of population—Lowell, Fall River and New Bedford. The figures show that approximately 45 per cent. of Lowell's total assessed valuation is valuation of buildings, with about 31 per cent. of the total valuation of the city a land valuation and 22 per cent. personal property valuation. Lowell has the smallest amount of personal property assessed, the largest total assessed valuation of land, and the second largest valuation of buildings. The population of the three cities as given in the statement is as follows:

Fall River	122,593
Lowell	108,009
New Bedford	102,039

In the number of assessed male polls in these three cities, Lowell is third, the standing being:

Fall River	31,733
New Bedford	28,831
Lowell	24,508

In land area Fall River covers more than twice as much ground as Lowell, this city being a poor third when it comes to area, the standing in acreage being:

Fall River	11,723 acres
New Bedford	12,406 acres
Lowell	5,398 acres

The assessed acreage of the three cities follows:

Fall River	16,002 acres
New Bedford	11,152 acres
Lowell	6,623 acres

New Bedford has assessed over $9 per cent. of its total acreage; Fall River, over 73 per cent., and Lowell, over 72 per cent. of its total acreage. The land valuations in the three cities are as follows:

Lowell	$27,219,505
New Bedford	$2,943,675
Fall River	$2,497,925

New Bedford, with the smallest estimated population, yet has the largest number of residents assessed for property, with Lowell second. The numbers are:

New Bedford	12,219
Lowell	10,329
Fall River	10,634

In the number of dwellings assessed, Lowell leads New Bedford and Fall River by a wide margin. The figures:

Lowell	21,231
New Bedford	12,184
Fall River	10,423

In the total of assessed valuation of buildings, New Bedford leads, with Lowell second. The comparative figures are appended:

New Bedford	$41,308,275
Lowell	$3,401,635
Fall River	$3,281,128

In the assessed valuation of personal property Lowell stands at the foot of the list. The comparison of the three cities in assessed valuation of personal property follows:

Fall River	$9,730,000
New Bedford	$9,099,475
Lowell	$9,732,800

The final comparison is that of the total assessed valuation of the three mill cities, Lowell being third in this, with New Bedford leading. A comparison follows:

New Bedford	$44,536,325
Fall River	$9,330,675
Lowell	$7,041,693

While Lowell's total valuation is the least of any of the three cities named, if the valuations of land and of buildings are figured, and the valuation of personal property excluded, then Lowell is a strong first. The comparative valuations of land and buildings of the three cities are:

Lowell	$66,621,440
New Bedford	$4,849,950
Fall River	$8,762,040

Funerals—The funeral services for Orlando J. Cass were held yesterday from the home of his son, Selden Cass, Chelmsford Centre, Rev. Charles H. Bligh, pastor of the Central Baptist church officiated. There was singing by Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Warren, who sang "Nearer, My God, to Thee" and "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere." Among the floral offerings were a cressent, from his children, and other tributes from the following: Mrs. Julia Merrill, Mr. Hiram Merrill and family, and Maude, Helen and Mort Cass. The body was taken to Seaboard, 31c, where burial took place today. The funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertaker William H. Saunders.

DAY—The funeral services for Miss Ada A. Day took place from the home of her niece, Mrs. Elmer G. Brennan, 52 Warwick street, yesterday afternoon. The services were conducted by Rev. Raymond G. Clapp, pastor of the First Unitarian church. Mrs. Nettie Robinson and Mrs. H. E. Symonds sang appropriate selections. The bearers were Messrs. Harvey E. Symonds, Reuben E. Symonds, J. Harry Gamble and Elmer G. Brennan. Burial was in the Edison cemetery where the committal service was read by Rev. Mr. Clapp. The funeral was under the direction of Undertakers Young & Blake.

DIETTE—The funeral of Mrs. Dina Thomas Diette, widow of Adolpho Diette, took place from the home, 29 Chelmsford street, and was largely attended. A solemn funeral mass was celebrated at 9 o'clock at Notre Dame de Lourdes church by Rev. Leon LaMothe, O. M. I., who was assisted by Rev. J. B. A. Barrette, O. M. I., as deacon and Rev. Joseph Magan, O. M. I., as sub-deacon. The bearers were George and Arthur Diette, Alfred and Belle, George LaMothe and Messrs. Belle LaMothe and Marcotte. St. Anne's parish of Notre Dame de Lourdes church, of which deceased was an esteemed member, was represented by Mrs. A. Doucette, Mrs. A. Dunn, Mrs. W. Hamilton and Mrs. G. Diette. Among the many elaborate floral offerings laid upon the grave were: A large pillow, inscribed "Mother," the bereaved family; a cross on base, inscribed "At Rest," the family; large wreath, members of St. Anne's sodality and other places from Mr. and Mrs. John Dwyer, Alfred La Belle, Mr. and Mrs. George Diette, Elda Boyle, club and others. The body was placed in the receiving tomb in St. Joseph's cemetery. Funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertaker Joseph Albert.

DEATHS
HALLORAN—Geraldina Clara Halloran, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Timothy J. Halloran, died last night at their home, 59 Mt. Washington street. She was five years and eight months old.

RICKER—Mrs. Rebecca Ricker died yesterday at her home, 60 Race street, at the age of 83 years and 3 months. She is survived by one son, A. N. Ricker, of this city. The body was removed to the undertaking rooms of J. F. Rogers.

LOISELLE—Mrs. Lucie Giguere Loisel, wife of Joseph Loisel, aged 63 years, died last evening at her home, 18 Mt. Vernon street, after a lingering illness. Deceased was a prominent member of St. Anne's sodality and also of the Third Order of St. Francis of St. Joseph's parish. She leaves behind her husband, Joseph Loisel, three sons, Arthur, Norbert and Adolphe Loisel; two daughters, Mrs. Henri Aubert and Miss Virginia Loisel; also two brothers, Jean Dapsite and Georges Giguere, and three sisters, Mrs. Lucie Mailhot, Mrs. Adeline Legare and Mrs. Delia Asselin.

DOUBLE FUNERAL HELD
LARGE CONCOURSE OF MOURNERS
AT FUNERAL OF KATHERINE AND MARGARET HARRINGTON

The funeral of the late Misses Katherine P. and Margaret P. Harrington, the two sisters whose pathetic deaths so touched the people of this city a few days ago, was held this morning from their late home, 786 Broadway, and the large attendance bore testimony to the respect with which they were regarded in the community, and to the sympathy which their untimely deaths under such sad circumstances aroused. In life both sisters were united in a bond of unusual devotion, made all the closer by the affliction which made of Margaret's life a sacrifice of sisterly love, and in their case the spiritual quotation was literally true, "Even in death they were not divided." Those who knew of the touching circumstances surrounding their blessed home life and of the untiring and nobly unselfish love that made it something holy will not easily forget their emotion as they saw the sisters lying peacefully side by side, the struggle over the storm ended. Today, as the two little rascals were borne into the church and placed together in front of the black draped altar, while the organ pealed out in touchingly solemn tones, there were few dry eyes in the well filled church.

The double funeral took place this morning from their late home, 786 Broadway, at 3 o'clock, and the funeral mass was held at St. Patrick's at 9 o'clock. In front of the altar were 12 lighted candles, six on either side, and the two caskets ranged in the space between, during the singing of the requiem service, which was solemn Gregorian. The mass was sung by Rev. James Kerrigan, and Monsignor William O'Brien sat within the sanctuary throughout. The soles of the mass and the responses were sung by Miss Alice Murphy and Mr. Daniel McCarthy, and the mournfully beautiful "De Profundis" was sung by James E. Donnelly as the bodies were borne from the church. Organist Michael J. Johnson presided at the organ. Prayers at the grave were recited by Rev. James Kerrigan, and all funeral arrangements were under the direction of J. P. O'Donnell & Sons.

The bearers for Margaret were: Charles White, John Harrington, James Leamy and John J. Sullivan, and the bearers for Katherine were: George Hart, Frank McCarthy, Joseph Sullivan and Benjamin Benoit. Ushers at the house and church were Edward and John Shea and John Casey. There were a great many floral pieces of all descriptions, including a beautiful pillow from the family, and other tributes from the following: Miss Catherine Casey, Mr. Charles White, McCarthy family, Shannon family, Margaret Faye, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Shea, Mr. and Mrs. James P. Shea, Mr. J. D. McCarthy and family, Mr. John O'Connor, Misses Fitzpatrick, Mr. William Ellis, Mrs. J. J. O'Donnell, Misses Tully, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Russell, Mrs. Charles W. Dunn, Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Goldman, Benoit family, Mrs. Rose Jordan Hartford, girls of The Fashion, Miss Catherine O'Neill, Miss Mary Stack and Miss Katherine McDonald.

Mrs. T. Faubert of Whitney avenue has returned from a two week stay at Orwell, Vt. where she was called by the death of her mother, Mrs. Ellen De Witt. Mrs. Faubert has the sympathy of a large circle of friends in her bereavement.

BETTER FIRE PROTECTION

It was inevitable that the sensible residents of Dracut, Tewksbury and Tyngsboro should take steps for better fire protection as they did at the recent town meetings. For the past year all three communities have suffered from sudden and serious conflagrations, and it became apparent that the time had come when some action must be taken to afford to their citizens more security from the danger of fire. In authorizing the nucleus of a department Tewksbury has undertaken to solve the problem in a commendable spirit of independence, and Dracut affords the equally desirable spectacle of a town ready to co-operate with the larger community in all that appertains to the better interests of its people.

The recent decision of Chief Saunders that it is not good policy to risk expensive fire apparatus in night rides to fires in the country towns, has set the town folks a-thinking and has placed the responsibility where it belongs, on the towns themselves and not on the city of Lowell.

The two most important considerations that made the residents of the towns careless in the past were: the comparative security born of freedom from serious conflagrations, and the prohibitive cost. Those who should have been interested in getting better fire protection for themselves and their neighbors were selfishly weighing the increased tax rate that it would occasion or some other financial consideration. They failed to see that the fact of having no fire department or having only a poor excuse for one, was more expensive, in the long run, because realistic values were low, and insurance rates were high. In many cases insurance companies cancelled policies because of the risk involved, and recent fires in the towns will bear out the statement that the loss from fire was scarcely ever covered adequately by insurance. The establishment of a fire department in Tewksbury and the increase in the efficiency of the department of Dracut, Tyngsboro and other places will have a direct result in raising property valuation and automatically lowering the insurance rates.

No fire department is adequate or satisfactory unless the water supply is sufficient for the purpose, and those towns that have taken the first step in appropriating money for improvements must supplement it by attending to the water supply—otherwise the work will be but half done, and no amount of modern apparatus will avail. Billerica, Westford and Chelmsford, having their own water supply, are prepared for an efficient department, and while the subject is being agitated, it is well that the other towns should follow suit.

Having secured a water supply consistent with the demands, it remains for the towns to adopt the best form of fire protection compatible with their size and resources, and on this point there are many differences of opinion, based on equally sound arguments. Experience will prove the superiority of some one method over the others, and whether in future the fire fighting problems of the towns will be solved independently or will be left to Lowell with some financial understanding, the experiences of Dracut and Tewksbury will largely decide, in the next year or two. In the matter of fire protection, the recent town meetings have meant a great deal to the communities in the vicinity of Lowell.

THE MUNICIPAL BUDGET

The municipal council has adopted the budget for the year making appropriations for current expenses amounting to $1,645,826, whereas the appropriations last year amounted to $1,442,977 or $202,849 less than this year.

It will be said that last year's government borrowed various amounts for current expenses. Yes it did, but all these loans put together would not amount to anywhere near the increase in the appropriations made by this year's government.

The loans that came properly under the head of current expenses do not exceed $137,000, but there was a loan for vaults at the police station, $11,000 for smallpox, with some others that under the present law would be illegal this year. Altogether the highest limit would be about $150,000 borrowed for all purposes that can be classed as current expenses, yet the appropriations for this year far exceed this amount.

There was the sum total of the alleged extravagance of which we heard so much from the critics of last year's government and yet this new economic administration that is praised, supported and commended for its courage by erstwhile shriekers for economy, could not get along this year with the total sum spent for current expenses last year, but had to go far beyond it. Last year's government in spite of the criticism to which it was subjected by the Courier-Citizen did not see fit to raise the tax limit even to $13; but the present government without any justification runs the limit up to $14.25 and is commended for its courage by our strangely vacillating neighbors. What that paper branded last year as the rankest kind of extravagance was not a circumstance to the scheme of lavish expenditure planned by the present government. Yet this is what the Courier-Citizen commends as a monument left by the present city government for which the people should be grateful.

PROVIDENCE PUBLIC MARKET

In Providence, R. I., there is a great deal of discussion about the possibility of establishing a public market, and many strong arguments in favor of such an institution have been advanced by residents of that city. A letter on the subject written to the Providence Tribune by a woman has the following paragraph:

"To reiterate all the reasons for a municipal market at this time appears to me to be out of date. There have been too many of them, and there are so many of them. In my belief the time has passed for that necessity, for the people of Providence are wide awake to the present situation, and the desire for a city market here is general. Would this be so unless the reasons for having one were obvious and had been mentally thoroughly digested?"

This letter is in answer to a protest of the Tribune regarding the alleged cost of establishing the market, which is computed to be about $110,000 of the taxpayers' money.

Considering this estimated cost, it is not strange that there should be objection, for no matter how favorably one may regard the establishing of a municipal market it is only an experiment, and there is no telling that it would succeed in any special community until it has been tried out. It is not money which counts for success in this case but public patronage, and no patronage can be assured in advance. Whether it be Providence or Lowell, there should be little cost connected with the establishing of the innovation until it is certain that the shopping public will avail of it. This can be ascertained with a negligible expenditure, and the public should frown at anythingavoring of a large appropriation until it is certain that it will not be wasted. The public market idea can be tried out without involving the city financially and it ought to be tried out accordingly.

DOGS AND CATS

So enthusiastic has our state legislature become about providing for this, that, and the other thing which seems to appeal for provision that we are quite prepared for the bill now before the legislature which would make provision for homeless or pillaged cats and dogs in cities and towns. Yet such legislation cannot arouse one's enthusiasm about the standard of the legislators or the recognition of their purpose, as they see it. Germany is spoken of as the country where government regulation is apparent in every duty of life, but if Massachusetts keeps on, it will leave Germany far in the rear in this respect. Luckily, however, there are more laws made in Massachusetts than are observed. This sounds like an I. W. W. declaration, but it requires little logic to perceive that the observance of freak laws would tend to raise a generation of freaks. Massachusetts and all other states suffer more at present from caring too much for cats and dogs, than for abusing them, and when legislators can waste the time and money of the public by such senseless bills as this, it is not strange that there should be such a growing feeling against all law and order.

PARCEL POST SAFEGUARDED

When the postoffice appropriation bill was being discussed in the national senate, representatives of the express companies and other interests tried to curtail the powers of the postmaster-general, to prevent him from increasing the weight of packages sent through the mails, until he had to get sanction from congress. Luckily for the good of the public these protests were unavailing and the postmaster-general may still continue to make any changes in the parcel post system which he thinks desirable and consistent with the needs of the department and the needs of those the postal improvement was intended to serve. The public has sanctioned the parcel post and availed of it generously, and nothing that would hamper its efficiency will be tolerated.

THE ASSESSORS' HEARING

Because an irrelevant question is ruled out is no reason why a public hearing on charges against a municipal board should be abandoned if there is any tangible evidence to present in substantiation of the charges. At the assessors' hearing people wanted to hear of some property that escaped taxation or that was unfairly taxed, but there was no evidence of this description. The hearing brought out nothing but talk over insignificant technicalities such as may be brought against the most dutiful official at city hall.

Mayor Curley has declared that his office is no help of pink, but is suggestive of flowers with thorns. He is discovering that being a congressman and a mayor are far different propositions. It is one thing to make fine speeches at Washington and to tell the citizens of Boston what one is doing there, but it is a far different proposition to sit under the microscope of the Boston electorate.

The congressional committee which discovered the Merrimack to be a noble river a short time ago would have a far higher opinion of its power and prestige did they view it as it now rages on its triumphant course to the sea.

Agent Rawlinson thinks America has enough to do in making securing cotton products for the domestic demands. Why not create a foreign demand and increase domestic business to meet it?

And next year they attribute the large appropriations to the inherited burden of this government. Can you beat it?

AMUSEMENT NOTES

OPERA HOUSE

Always on the lookout for the best in feature productions the Opera House is, presenting today a thrilling and sensational drama of unusual interest, entitled "Through the Storm." It is a story of the telegraph and railroad that snags with adventure and excitement. Andy Burton, a railway fireman, patrols an isolated section on his railway motor car, watching the telegraph service of the company. He lives with his wife and their baby at Spiney creek, a day step on his section where there is no telegraph service. Rose's ambition is to become a telegraph operator and will to the family purse, and has petitioned the company to install an office at their station, and has been studying and practicing telegraphy at home with her husband. Her request to the company for a position as operator, unknown to Andy, has been refused, and Spiney's creek has been denied its telegraph service. How she finally convinces the railroad of the need of the instrument will key all photo-play fans to the drama and makes this photo-drama one of the most absorbing plays ever produced by the Essanay studios.

"LITTLE WOMEN" COMPANY.

"Little Women" dramatized by Marhan de Forest from Louisa M. Alcott's famous story of that name, will be presented by William A. Brady at the Opera House for three days. "Little Women," as it is pictured by Miss Alcott in her book of that name, is in truth the story of the four Alcott girls, the daughter of Amos Bronson Alcott. Brought up in the atmosphere of "plain living and high thinking," with Emerson, Thoreau and Hawthorne as neighbors and family friends, what wonder that the dream of her life is started by the modern spirit which Miss Alcott, the Jo of the story, has put into her little book?

It has taken years to get the Alcott heirs to consent to having "Little Women" put on the stage, but the argument which finally prevailed was that the play would actually reproduce the book, and that Miss Alcott, herself, with her keen love for the stage, and her delight in playwriting would have been the first to welcome her story in stage form.

The first three acts are laid in the Alcott sitting room, and reproduced, the room in which the little women actually lived and from which Meg went forth as a bride, where Jo wrote her little romances and watched the children as they fared forth to try their fortunes, from which Beth, the household saint of the Alcott family, went out into the great beyond, and from which Amy, the Alcott baby, stepped forth into the world and ambitions for an artistic career only to find all her happiness in the love of the man she subsequently married.

Better Than Calomel

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, have a mild, laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat children with calomel, but to find a harmless substitute. His efforts to banish it brought out these little olive-colored tablets. These pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but without any after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids, or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. The mother who gives them at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel, but to let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Most headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, with you for "loggy" and "heavy." Note how they "clear" clouded brain and how they "perk up" the spirits. At 10c and 25c per box. The Olive-Tablet Company, Columbus, O. All druggists.

In addition to the standard sorts of entertainment, several things which are real novelties, are on the bill. The head-line feature is furnished by Mr. and Mrs. Veripon Castle, who in motion pictures demonstrate the tango, the maxixe, the hesitation, the one-step and the "Castle Walk." These dances are shown by this famous pair in a proper manner. Mr. and Mrs. Frederic Vachler in a delightful little musical play constitute one of the prettiest features of the bill. Mr. Vachler is an excellent comedian, who plays exquisite, and Mrs. Vachler is a charming soprano. Their support is uniformly good. Ted and Ethel Dooley, tango and Texas Tommy dancers and general entertainers, prove strong favorites, and Ada Latham & Co., in "The Dances" give an East side comedy that is always funny. Other good acts on the bill are: Arion Four, Berry and Nelson, Toomey & Norman, Olympic Trio and the Pathe Weekly. Good seats

WOMAN COULD HARDLY STAND

Because of Terrible Backache, Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I suffered from displacement and inflammation, and had such pains in my sides and terrible backache so, that I could hardly stand. I took six bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and now I can do any amount of work, sleep good, eat good, and don't have a bit of trouble. I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to every suffering woman."—Mrs. HARRY FISHER, 1642 Junata Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

Another Woman's Case.

Providence, R. I.—"I cannot speak too highly of your Vegetable Compound as it has done wonders for me and I would not be without it. I had a displacement, bearing down, and backache, until I could hardly stand and was thoroughly run down when I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helped me and I am in the best of health at present. I work in a factory all day long besides doing my housework so you can see what it has done for me. I give you permission to publish my name and I speak of your Vegetable Compound to many of my friends."—Mrs. ABRAHAM LAWSON, 120 Lippitt St., Providence, R. I.

Danger Signals to Women are what one physician called backache, headache, nervousness, and the blues. In many cases they are symptoms of some female displacement or an inflammatory, ulcerated condition, which may be overcome by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Thousands of American women willingly testify to its virtue.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Today, with the exception of Consul Pedro, the feature played and given the entire week, there will be an all new program at the Merrimack Square theatre. Among the other offerings engaged to please will be Nina Esny, the bangle girl, Miss Esny, who has appeared here before, is heralded as the most beautiful girl in vaudeville, and those who took pleasure in her past performances will no doubt bear out the fact. Bold & Lorne present a happy little singing and talking skit, entitled "An Up-to-date Filletation," and James Keane will be heard in a brace of new songs. The photo-play will contain two features instead of one. "North of 33," two part photo-drama of life in the Canadian woods, and "The Dream Child." There will be other interesting subjects besides. For the coming week the management has secured the Ben Toy Musical Comedy. This is a company of comedians, singers, dancers and girls—mostly girls. They will be seen at the matinee at 2 and again in the evening from 7 to 9. A complete musical comedy, entitled "A Day at Sunnyside." Watch for later announcements.

THE OWL THEATRE

Two great films are being shown at the Owl today. "Fantomas" is a weird subject, and the acting is superb. One scene shows a ballroom with many couples dancing the hesitation waltz and the tango. These dancers were engaged for this scene, and the mirror screen shows the couples in a great variety of "The Reform Candidate," a three act thriller of American life and politics, is one of the best ever shown in this city. It shows a clever plot which is well brought out by a troupe of high class actors, who play their part in an excellent manner. "The Fatal Girl" and "Jeanne's Evidence," with Florence Turner in the principal role, will be the special features for Friday and Saturday.

HARVEY H. GREENE COMPLAINS

The chairman of the park commission, Harvey H. Greene, is rather disappointed at the action of the municipal council in fixing up appropriations, for he claims the park commission had voted to ask $22,000, but the estimates were cut down more than $800. He said last year we were given $1300 for playgrounds, although $900 of that amount was voted after the first of $300 was for the Little Canada playground. Apparently we are not to have that this year, unless money comes from private sources for the work. I had hoped, and the other park commissioners felt the same way, that at least $1000 should be given for further development of the park. We are going to be done here every year, and last year a little work was done out of our regular appropriation. There is no guarantee that we will be able to do that again this year. No money has been appropriated for Shedd park for three years.

MOTOR FIRE APPARATUS

THE HORSE VEHICLES BEING DISCARDED IN ALL THE LARGE CITIES.

In reviewing the reports of fire departments throughout the country, perhaps one of the most striking features is the unanimity of officials in asserting the remarkable efficiency of motor drawn fire apparatus. At a time when the corporate limits of towns are being rapidly extended to embrace wider territory and when large numbers of city residents are establishing suburban residences, it becomes a difficult matter, especially for the smaller towns, to supply adequate fire protection. The increase in building height and the congestion of business sections require of larger cities a quick and effective fire service. In coping with such problems, the motor-driven apparatus has undoubtedly proven its superiority.

For the past few years the fire department of Kansas City, Mo., has been installing modern equipment, and the board of fire and water commissioners is very emphatic in its appeal for complete motorization. In many instances where distant fires had to be reached the horses have shown themselves to be unequal to the strain of pulling up steep hills, with the result that much valuable property was destroyed. The commissioners have advised the council that "with modern apparatus, automobile service and automobile tractors for large hook and ladder trucks, water towers and other equipment, the department could be more efficient with less men than it now has, and it would be a measure of economy for new horses and feed cost more than repairs and gasoline."

The experience of the fire department of Keosauqua, Ia., shows the addition to a saving in the maintenance of horses and apparatus, there is the decreased cost of keeping a station that shelters only motor apparatus. "It is not necessary," says the report, "to keep a man on night watch, thus cutting down both the light and fuel bill. It does not require one-third of the soap, polish, brooms, disinfectants, sponges, and many other little articles to keep the station clean. To be brief, the horses is the one item of expense in the maintenance of the department."

The question of the durability of motor apparatus has been well discussed by Chief Bennett of Birmingham, Ala. In an address before the International Association of Fire Engineers, he states that "the durability of the motor machine, if properly handled, should be almost indefinite, since its radius of action is comparatively small and its mileage per year in many instances less than one hundred miles, and in very few cases exceeding five hundred miles. In the majority of alarms answered the entire distance to and from the fire is over paved or well kept streets, which reduces the wear and tear of the machine to a minimum."

In larger cities the installation of motor-driven apparatus is making rapid strides, for, as we have stated above, the need of better fire protection is felt very keenly because of the congested conditions that obtain. Fire Marshal C. E. Seyferich of Chicago, in his report to the city council expressed the opinion that with the equipping with motor apparatus already begun "sufficient interest had been aroused to encourage him in the belief that at no distant day the fire department of Chicago would be well equipped with machines of the most modern type for the city is still in urgent need of better fire protection."

It is not alone the wholesome rivalry among cities vying with each other for better fire equipment that accounts for the great increase in motor apparatus, but back of all that, as we have shown, are the great efficiency, speed, economy, durability and sanitary conditions that can be obtained through such equipment.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

Senator Henry G. Wells, of Haverhill, addressed a large number of friends at an industry council, 1722 Royal Arcanum, in its regular meeting rooms in Odd Fellows temple last night. Senator Wells stated that of all the fraternal insurance societies in this state that had filed their reports with the insurance commission, the Royal Arcanum was at the head of the list, being within 2 per cent of the necessary solvency demanded by the Mobile Insurance bill. At the conclusion of his remarks, the council voted Grand Sentry Wells a rising vote of thanks.

Remarks were also offered by Grand Warden Fred E. Jones, Jr., John J. Hagan and Vice Robert George H. Hagan of Lowell council. During the evening a pleasing musical entertainment was enjoyed.

STUDENTS HAVE DISEASES

EXETER, N. H., March 6.—Eight students of Phillips Exeter academy, several of whom participated in the school boy games in Boston last Saturday, were confined to the infirmary yesterday with measles.

Among those stricken are Richard Cleveland, son of the late president; Capt. Lawrence Willard, Jr., and Clarence Austin, all members of the track team. Coach Zevor Black is also under treatment.

Examination is to be made of a number of suspected cases among other boys who attended the Boston games.

Cured His RUPTURE

I was badly ruptured while lifting a trunk several years ago. Doctors said my only hope of cure was an operation. Trusses did me no good. Finally I got hold of something that quickly and completely cured me. Years have passed and the rupture never returned, although I am doing hard work as a carpenter. There was no operation, no lost time, no trouble. I have nothing to sell, but will give full information about how you may find a complete cure without operation, if you write to me, Eugene M. Pullen, Carpenter, 262 North Main street, Boston, Mass. Better cut out this notice and show it to any others who are ruptured— you may save a life or at least stop the misery of rupture and the worry and danger of an operation.

COMMISSIONER DONNELLY

Will Not be Able to Carry Out Improvements Intended—Street Men Discharged

Commissioner Donnelly announced this morning that he will be unable to grant the increase in wages he promised the carpenters in his employ this morning on account of the cost given him in his estimates by the city council. Some time ago the city council voted to grant the carpenters an increase of 10 cents per hour and 14 hours to compensate for a week's work, and the commissioner favored the petition, but is now in a position that he cannot grant the increase.

The commissioner had planned a lot of work for this year, but on his plans and only the routine of the present will be done. According to the present by enacted municipal finance law the city after the appropriation is voted, cannot borrow for repair of buildings unless there is an increase in floor space, so Commissioner Donnelly will have to confine himself to routine work during this present administration.

More Discharged

Commissioner Morse of the streets and highways department discharged 35 men from his payroll yesterday and incidentally two sewer trench men, Smith and Gagnon were also given their walking sticks.

Cemetery Suit

According to the city solicitor a suit against the trustees of the Holy Trinity cemetery for the recovery of the bill owed the city and amounting to about $300 would not be sustained by reason of the fact that in 1910 the cemetery was not properly assessed and the notice instead of being served upon the trustees of the cemetery was served on the superintendent of the Lowell cemeteries. City Solicitor Hennessy says the town of Dracut can legally pay the bill, providing an appropriation is voted to that effect, but there was no mention of it in the various articles of the town warrant at the last town meeting, and the chances are that the bill will drag another year, unless the matter is taken up at a special town meeting.

The Water Bill Hurdle

Complaints are very numerous regarding the city water being rusty and muddy. In Belvidere, especially, it appears this condition is so serious that many of the families have begun to purchase spring water and cannot use the city water even for cooking. In the morning especially it is very bad, often resembling light coffee more than water. The people are losing patience as the water, instead of getting better, is getting worse.

TANGOISTS GO FREE

same the postures of the tangoists, the movements described by the tango police officers, yesterday, when the tango police court was the scene of a remarkable event witnessed in a court room in Massachusetts.

Everybody knows that tango must be provided for and youth helped itself to a seat in police court today. The young fellows, the tangoers, are rived early and when the fellows of the front-row type arrived they had to be content with a stand-up seat. Reporters, photographers and cartoonists were everywhere, and one unacquainted with the facts might well imagine that something of international importance was taking place or that Harry Thaw had struck town.

Came Called at 10:30

The tango case was called at 10:30 and witnesses for the defense, all in all, were called and sworn.

Frank Hennessy, the man in the case, was the first witness.

Lawyer O'Connor carried the witness along from the time he left school to the present day. He is at present employed in Curley's market on John street.

Describing to the court what he had done at Lincoln hall on the evening of Feb. 10, witness told of purchasing his ticket, visiting the smoking room, etc. He told of having the last dance with Miss Marcotti and denied that the officer had at any time warned him. He said he was coming away from the hall when the officer asked him his name.

"Didn't the officer warn you by beckoning of hand or nod of head?" asked Mr. O'Connor.

"No, sir."

"How many dances did you dance?" "Three in all."

"How did you dance them?"

"An anybody else would, I suppose."

On cross-examination witness related that he had not been warned by the officers while dancing.

"How did you have a hold of her?" asked Supt. Welch.

"I had my hands on her shoulders."

"Where were her arms?"

"On my chest."

"You did not indulge in the movements demonstrated by the officer yesterday?"

"No, sir."

"When the officer served the warrant did you say you supposed it was for what took place at Lincoln hall?"

"No, sir, I did not."

"Did you make any inquiry?"

"I asked him what the warrant was for."

John P. Curley

John P. Curley, Mr. Hennessy's employer, was the next witness. He said he had known Frank Hennessy since he was four years old and his reputation as to truth, veracity and character was the best, and this statement corroborated by Dr. William P. Lawrence.

The defense closed its case without putting Miss Marcotti on the stand and Judge Enright, after summing up briefly, found the defendants not guilty.

Judge Enright said he was sorry that he could not find anything on which to hold the defendants because he believed that something should be done to suppress indulgence in the so-called "animal" dances. He cited cases coming under the same statute as the case under which the complaint against the defendant had been made and held in holding them. He hoped that the bill now before the legislature providing for the elimination of the tango and other dances of a like nature would become law as under the present state of affairs it is impossible for the police to regulate dancing.

PAIRS, GERAGHTY TAKES BREAD

Family Also Uses Beer and Rye, as Revealed in Suit for Bill of $25 Filed in Superior Court

BOSTON, March 5.—Jack Geraghty's grocery bill has been filed in the superior court as an exhibit in the suit brought by the S. S. Pierce Co. to recover $23.52. The items range from 12.70 for 24 bottles of beer to two cents for a loaf of bread. The itemized bill, denying that Mrs. Geraghty who is a sister of Mrs. Elsie French Vanderbilt, makes her own bread.

"The bill also evidences fondness for bacon and kippered herring. Twice there was an order for two dozen bottles of beer, besides a bottle of rye and a dozen bottles of stout."

C. & O. STOCKS SAGGED

NEW YORK, March 5.—With the announcement today of an issue by the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad of $32,000,000 in 6 per cent bonds, the stock sagged abruptly during the first hour of the market, declining to 60 against 62 1/2 at yesterday's close. Trading was unusually heavy and implied some doubt as to the stability of the dividend.

MEXICAN R.R.'S BIG LOSS

NEW YORK, March 5.—How serious the war has been waged in Mexico has affected the operations of the national railways of Mexico is shown by the report of that company for January and for the seven months ended Jan. 31, 1914. The earnings are given in Mexican currency. The gross for last January was $2,998,642, as compared with $5,057,315 for January, 1913, with a net after taxes of $125,101, against a net after taxes for the corresponding month last year of $2,102,125, a decline of $1,977,024. Gross earnings for the seven months ended Jan. 31, 1914, were $20,452,112, as compared with $37,544,649, with a net after taxes of $1,052,741, against $15,519,716, a falling off of $14,556,975.

OVER 100,000 FAMILIES

IN THE CITY OF NEW YORK LIVE ON LESS THAN $500, SAYS CHARITY EXPERT

NEW YORK, March 5.—There are 100,000 families in New York city who have incomes less than the $500 which experts estimate is necessary to support the average sized workingman's family in decency.

This statement was made at the Harlem Y. M. C. A. last night by Seba Eldridge, secretary of the Department of Social Betterment of the Brooklyn Bureau of Charities, who lectured under the auspices of the board of education. Other statements in regard to the standard of living in New York were:

"That there are thousands of women workers in New York who are living on $4, $5 and $6 a week, when $8 is an annual income on which any woman should be expected to support herself."

"That one-third of the workingmen's families in New York do not have means to purchase sufficient food, clothing, shelter and other necessities, and that this one-third, an additional one-sixth, or one-half altogether, cannot save for the time when support is cut off by the death, incapacitation or forced unemployment of the breadwinner."

"Many other things, besides the income, influence the standard of living. The speaker said, the most important of them being cost of living. Prices in New York have soared 25 per cent. In the last ten years, whereas the income has not advanced proportionately."

Reminded for these conditions were put forth as: Adequate pay, the cheapness of amusements and the betterment of educational facilities, such as night schools, gymnasiums and clubs; improvement in the conditions under which men and women labor and the abolishment of the harmful forms of child labor; the improvement of dwelling places, notably tenements, the training of mothers and housewives; the guidance of children along paths of strength, self-reliance and self-respect and the regulation of prices.

TRADING WAS ACTIVE

EXTENSIVE BUYING OF STOCKS IN STEEL GROUP—SPECULATIVE LEADERS VALUED

NEW YORK, March 5.—Extensive buying of stocks in the steel group was continued today. United States steel was taken in blocks of 1000 to 2500 shares and made a further fractional gain. Bethlehem steel rose 1/2. Trading in other quarters also was active and although prices showed some irregularities, a good under-tone. Texas Co. advanced a point to 149 1/2, a new high record. General Motors gained 1 1/2. Chesapeake & Ohio depressed by the announcement of the $32,000,000 note issue, declined two points. The speculative leaders varied only slightly from yesterday's close.

Fortified by large speculative interests, the market displayed general strength for a time today. Appearance of railroad state bonds, including Readings showing further increases in earnings had only a temporary influence, and it was not until acute weakness developed in Chesapeake & Ohio that the upward movement was checked.

Short selling decreased after midday and the list stiffened slightly. Buyers were cautious on account of recent liquidation in various stocks. Selling of Chesapeake & Ohio continued and its loss was increased to 5 1/2. Baltimore & Ohio was put down 2 points. Railroad dealings once more were on the selling side, but the amount of stocks disposed of was not large. The market closed steady. Completion of forced liquidation in various spots removed a load from the market and prices moved somewhat in the final hour. New Haven jumped 2 points.

EX-PRES. MELLEN

Files Demurrers in Superior Criminal Court at Bridgeport

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., March 5.—Special and general demurrers, both signed by Charles S. Mellen, former president of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad, were filed in the criminal superior court here today to the charge of manslaughter against Mr. Mellen in connection with the Westport wreck in October, 1912.

The general demurrer states that the information is insufficient in law and claims judgment. The special demurrer contains 15 paragraphs of exceptions to specific points in the complaint, upon which the claim of insufficiency is based, and asserts that it fails to definitely connect the accused with the offense charged, that it is not sufficiently explicit to enable the defendant to prepare a proper defense, and fails to set forth the allegations with such clearness and certainty as to apprise the accused of the crime with which he is charged, the jury to deliver an intelligent verdict, the court to render a proper judgment and the accused to plead his conviction of acquittal.

GETS 25 YEARS

Negro of 28 Guilty of Assaulting White Girl of Fourteen

HARTFORD, Conn., March 5.—I sentenced you to not less than 20 years and not more than 25 years in state prison and you may thank heaven you live in a more or less temperate climate, said Judge Case in the superior court today in passing sentence on Everett Brown, colored, 28, who was found guilty by a jury of assault upon Mary Stankiewicz, aged 14.

In his argument, State Attorney Alcorn said that the fact that Brown lived north of the Mason and Dixon line was the reason he had had a trial. Judge Case cautioned the state's attorney not to continue further on that line.

"Have you anything to say?" inquired the Judge of Brown. "Now is your opportunity. It will be a long time before you have another."

"I am innocent," was the muttered reply.

MERRIMACK STILL RISING

Lawrence Gage Shows 17 Feet. But High Water Record 18 Years Ago Was 23 1/2

LAWRENCE, March 5.—The Merrimack river has risen about 12 feet at this point since Saturday and a slight increase yesterday afternoon indicates that the maximum as a result of the recent rain may not have been reached. At the duck bridge a little more than 17 feet was registered, as compared with about five feet before the rain.

A few mills have had some inconvenience from water backing up. These include a part of the Washington mills, the Pennington and American Fibre Mattings company plants.

Eighteen years ago yesterday the record height of the Merrimack was reached when the depth at the Duck bridge was 23 1/2 feet.

CRIMES OF BLACK HAND

Near Death Chair Murderer Makes Confession—Forced by Gang to Kill Man

NEW YORK, March 5.—With death in the electric chair only three weeks ahead of him, Pietro Rebecchi made in Sing Sing prison yesterday a startling confession of Black Hand intrigues and murders in Westchester county. District Attorney Frederick E. Weeks and Sheriff William J. Doyle of that county were his auditors. He sat in the corridor of the death house, with his face toward "the little green door," as he sobbed and talked.

"I want you to know all about this band that hounded me into committing murder," he cried. "I cannot die until I have purged myself of all the crimes I have committed."

While the serving of the ends of justice dictates that Rebecchi's confession may not now be given in detail, it is known that he not only solved the mystery of other Westchester murders, but gave the names of the Black Hand leaders there and told the entire history of their work on and about John D. Rockefeller's estate at Pocantico Hills.

The Italian employee on the Rockefeller estate for a long time lived in terror. They gave money on threats of assassination or ferocious beatings. Then the emboldened gang threatened the superintendents on the great estate.</

AT B. & M. CAR SHOPS 250 FAMILIES MOVED

To Lowell and Billerica in Past Few Weeks—Local Men Will be Hired by Middle of April—Supt. Jennings on Deck

There are no more men coming from Keene, N. H., to the Billerica car shops," said Asst. Supt. Nowell to a Sun reporter yesterday, "for the last fifty employees of the plant arrived here Monday, and the shops in Keene are now closed, but they will soon reopen for frog work, which for the past several years has been conducted in Nashua, N. H. The machinery from the Nashua plant will soon be installed at the Keene plant, while the employees and their families have started to remove to that city."

Mr. Nowell informed the writer that all told about 350 men, two-thirds of whom are married, have been transferred from the Keene plant to the Billerica shops, and the majority of them have secured homes in Lowell. He said fifty more are expected next week from Concord, N. H., and that will be the windup as far as out-of-town help is concerned.

For the past two weeks at least 250 families from Keene and Concord have been scheduled to come, for there is still a large number of employees at the car shops whose families are awaiting an opportunity to remove to Lowell. The men, however, are complaining that good sites are scarce, and as much as most of them owned their homes in the New Hampshire cities, they are very fussy as to what they

REP. BRENNAN ARGUES BEFORE LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE FOR WATER FROM LOWELL

Yesterday before the committee on water supply of the legislature, Rep. John W. Brennan of Dracut appeared to advocate the passage of the measure to permit the city of Lowell to provide a section of the town of Dracut with water. Representative Brennan stated before the committee that a bill was passed by last year's legislature permitting the city of Lowell to supply water to a specified section of Dracut, but that the bill was not specific with regard to boundary lines. The town of Dracut, therefore, again petitions the legislature to authorize Lowell to furnish water to that part of the town of Dracut, along Mammoth road and in a northwesterly direction to Richardson square.

The committee did not close the hearing, as they wish Rep. Brennan to produce a statement from Lowell officials, consenting to the proposal.

OPPOSED TO DEMOCRATS

APPEAL BY REPUBLICAN STATE COMMITTEE IN MAINE FOR CITIZENS TO ATTEND CONVENTION

AUGUSTA, Me., March 5.—An appeal to all citizens who wish to "secure the participation of all electors of Maine who opposed to free trade and other declared policies of the democratic party" was made today by the republican state committee in its call for the republican state convention to be held in Portland city hall on April 5.

All such electors, "all those who believe in the liberal and progressive principles contained in the platform of the republican party adopted in 1912, those who are prepared to join in drafting a platform liberal in principle and those who will accept the platform as a solemn and binding contract with the people of Maine" are urged to unite in electing delegates to this convention.

BOY KILLED SEVEN

Lad of 15 Was Given 20 Years for Murder of Employer and Family

NANTES, France, March 5.—Marcel Redureau, the 15-year-old vine cutter who last September killed his employer and six of his employer's family with an axe at Buzugue-En-Landree, was found guilty yesterday of the charges against him and sentenced to 20 years in prison.

In summing up for the defense, the boy's lawyer declared that at the time of the commission of the murders, the lad was laboring under excessive nervous fatigue due to hard work. When asked if he had anything to add to the words of his lawyer, Redureau rose with lowered head and wept, but said nothing.

ISOLATED THREE DAYS

MEDAL FOR GOETHALS

THE POPULAR ENGINEER OF PANAMA CANAL HONORED IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, March 5.—Col. George W. Goethals, builder of the Panama canal, was last night presented by the Civic Forum with a medal for "distinguished public service," the first to be awarded by that institution. The presentation was made by Dr. John H. Finley, New York state commissioner of education, who acted as chairman of the meeting in the enforced absence of Joseph H. Choate, former ambassador to Great Britain. Speeches celebrating the event were made by Mayor John T. Murray, Mitchell, Rear-Admiral Robert T. Perry, Dudley Field Malone, collector of the port of New York; Dr. St. Clair McKelway, Bishop David H. Creer of the Protestant Episcopal diocese of New York and former Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson. A dedicatory poem was read by Percy MacKaye.

Carnegie hall, where the meeting took place, was filled to capacity. Col. Goethals was given an enthusiastic ovation and in a brief speech thanked the Forum and paid a tribute to his subordinates.

The speeches made were highly laudatory of the canal builder.

Major Mitchell took advantage of the occasion to state in the presence of the Forum and paid a tribute to his subordinates.

"It was not because Col. Goethals was a great engineer that I asked him to become police commissioner of New York," he said. "It is because he is a great administrator, and if the legislature of the state of New York does its duty I know we will secure him."

Col. Goethals in his speech did not allude in any way to the New York police commission.

IRONQUOIS MET CYCLOPS

Clyde Limer Dammed on Trip From Santo Domingo—Struck by Thunder That Carried Away Hurricane Deck

NEW YORK, March 5.—The Clyde Limer Ironquois, in yesterday from Santo Domingo and Turks Island, was hit on Sunday by a section of the cyclone that caused snow trouble hereabout and was lashed by heavy seas that came pretty near knocking her out. A lumber struck her, carrying away the after part of the hurricane deck, smashing twenty ports and windows and flooding the saloon.

Some of the staterooms were wrecked, but as they were unoccupied nobody was hurt. The barometer went below 27.3, a record for Clyde Limer ships. It will take a week to repair the Ironquois properly for her new trip to the southward.

MERE BAGATELLE

Mrs. Minturn Leaves Estate of $1,467,995—Fortunes for Children

NEW YORK, March 5.—The appraisal of the estate of Mrs. Louisa Minturn, who died on Oct. 4 last, and was the widow of John W. Minturn, founder of the Minturn Hospital for Contagious Diseases, was filed yesterday and shows that she left $1,467,995. She owned jewelry worth $116,000, the most valuable article being a pearl necklace appraised at $50,000. It contains 51 pearls with a diamond clasp. Mrs. Minturn left the necklace to her three children, Mrs. Susan Tuckerman, Mrs. Katherine Mary Le Roy and John Wendell Minturn, in equal shares, and gave the rest of the jewelry to her two daughters. Other jewels she owned were diamond earrings, $4500 and a diamond necklace, diamond brooch and diamond and sapphire brooch, worth $2500 each. Mrs. Minturn owned mortgages worth $854,000, securities appraised at $135,774 and had $27,533 due from the estate of her husband. A trust fund for her benefit under the will of her father, William H. Aspinwall, amounted to $204,053. The total bequests to the three children were: Susan Tuckerman, $270,504; Katherine Mary Le Roy, $283,565; and John W. Minturn, $283,875. Mrs. Minturn left $25,000 each to her daughter-in-law, Sarah J. Minturn, and to her son-in-law, Paul Tuckerman, and Edward A. Le Roy, Jr. She gave $7,255 each to Dorothy T. Draper and Roger Tuckerman, grandchildren, and $55,457 each to Edward A. Le Roy, 3d, and John Minturn Le Roy, grandchildren.

Mrs. Minturn gave $20,000 to her "dear friend," Meta A. McMichael, and $10,000 to her friend, Marie L. Coltenel. Two cousins, Anna and Lucy B. Shaw, each $13,750 each. The only charitable bequest was $55,000 to the Minturn hospital.

GOT BY CONNOLLY

Twin of Member Poole's Veteran Door-keeper and Drunkard—Stranger on Exchange Floor

NEW YORK, March 5.—John Connolly, veteran doorkeeper at the stock exchange, let a stranger get by him yesterday afternoon. A. S. Mickens is his name. He is not a member of the exchange, but he bowed familiarly to Connolly and walked out over the floor.

Members of the exchange greeted him like an old friend. One of them even offered to sell him stock. He was having a hard time when another man came strolling in.

Members looked at him and at A. S. Mickens, rubbed their eyes and looked at each other. This second man was W. H. Mickens, one of the new members. He and A. S. are twins and several friends of A. S. persuaded him to try to get by Connolly as a joke.

There were explanations all around. Everybody had a laugh at Connolly's expense. He thinks that some of the laughs are on other.

The Mental Condition of Porter Charlton to be Investigated

Little business was done at police court apart from the tango trial. But two defendants appeared in the dock this morning when Judge Enright mounted the bench at 10:20 o'clock, although there were several cases in which the defendants were out on bail.

The case of Rose Duprez, charged with illegally keeping liquor, was continued until a week from today. Daniel J. Donahue, Esq., appeared for the defendant.

Annexa Kovin asked for a chance to see legal advice when her case for assault and battery upon a neighbor was called. The case was continued for one week.

Matthew Curran pleaded guilty to drunkenness. It was his second slip from the water wagon during the year and he was asked to contribute the customary $6.

Thomas J. Owens, a fourth offender, also acknowledged that he was the worse for intoxicants yesterday. Judge Enright did not want to send the defendant back to jail. He was placed on probation with a suspended sentence to the state farm.

ROCKLAND, MAINE, MAN DISAPPEARED FROM HIS HOME ON TUESDAY MORNING

ROCKLAND, Me., March 5.—The body of Leslie Bicknell, a former livery stable proprietor, who disappeared Tuesday while crossing the ice in the bay in search of driftwood, was found today by a searching party in the water near Instam hill at South Thomaston. He was 45 years old.

The instruction camps, as issued yesterday explained that the purpose of the camps is to give the youth of the country an opportunity to receive a short military training fitting them for service at the front if they should be needed.

LOBSTERS WERE KILLED

SEVERAL THOUSAND DOLLARS' WORTH ALONG MAINE COAST PERISHED IN STORM

PORTLAND, Me., March 5.—Several thousand dollars' worth of lobsters at the docks along the water front were killed by the recent heavy rains and low temperatures. Some of the dealers estimated the loss as high as $5000.

HUERTA HAS 250,000 MEN

MEXICO CITY, March 5.—Talking for the first time yesterday to several newly arrived newspaper correspondents, President Huerta reiterated that he has an army of 250,000 men, with which he is determined to fight the rebels until they are subjugated or exterminated. He added that he was about ready to begin the construction along the railroads of 4000 block houses, about a mile and a half apart, in each of which would be placed 10 men. Orders already had been given for barbed wire, he said, and this would be strung along the right of way of the railroad lines.

MUCH SILVERWARE STOLEN

From Summer Home of George W. Riggs, a Retired New York Chemist

RIDGEFIELD, Conn., March 5.—Solid silverware and other household valuables to the value of several thousand dollars have been stolen from the summer home here of George W. Riggs, a retired chemist of New York. The thieves are unknown.

GUILTY IN ELECTION FRAUDS

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., March 5.—William Huffman, who with Mayor Roberts and eight others was indicted for participation in election frauds, last night was found guilty by a jury. Confession upon the charge carries a penalty of from three to ten years in the state penitentiary. Judge Blackburn deferred sentencing Huffman until the trials of the other nine men are held.

MRS. PANKHURST OUT AGAIN

LONDON, March 5.—Sylvia Pankhurst, addressing a meeting last night outside the house in which she is intrenched against the police, said she intended to be present in Trafalgar square Sunday to advise the people to do as much damage as possible.

MANDAMUS PROCEEDINGS MOB ARRESTED FOR RIOTING IN CHURCH

Fall River Teachers to Secure Back Salaries—Would Compel Mayor to Sign Payroll

FALL RIVER, March 5.—Mandamus proceedings, to compel Mayor Kay to sign the payroll for back salaries, amounting to approximately $13,000, will be instituted immediately by the public school teachers through the law office of ex-Mayor John T. Coughlin, according to a unanimous vote taken yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the executive committee of the Teachers' association. The preliminary petition will be filed by Attorney Coughlin with the clerk of the supreme court within a week. Under the law governing these extraordinary proceedings, 14 days are allowed the respondent to submit a reply and further extension of time may be granted. It is then customary for the court to assign a date for hearing, so that it is unlikely that a decision in this very important case will be made before six or eight weeks. Teachers had delayed starting these proceedings against the city through the mayor in the hope that by means of special legislation or otherwise the executive and aldermen would find

Long Lost Masterpiece of First American Artist is Found

WASHINGTON, March 5.—The masterpiece of Gustavus Hesselius, the first American painter, lost since 1773, has been discovered in the little town of Rockville, Md., a suburb of Washington, with Charles Henry Hart, an artist of Philadelphia, as authority for its authenticity. Mr. Hart discovered the painting yesterday. To a newspaper correspondent Mr. Hart said:

"More than 15 years ago I wrote the story of America's first painter, Gustavus Hesselius, a native of Sweden, who settled in 1711 in the province of Delaware, then a Swedish dependency. But little of the work of Hesselius remains today, but it is of high value."

"In 1720 Hesselius received a commission from the church of St. Barnabas in Prince George's county, Maryland, to paint an altar picture. The subject was 'The Last Supper of Christ and the Apostles.' The picture was painted and proved a labor of more than 13 months."

"It was a lengthy panel, nine feet long and two feet deep. The composition showed the long table in very much the same arrangement as that in Leonardo Da Vinci's better known work."

"Three or four years ago I received a letter from Mrs. John Gasaway, now a resident of Rockville, who told me that she had in her possession an ancient oil painting of the Last Supper, the authenticity of which was entirely unknown to her."

"At first I was disposed to regard her communication as simply one of a class to which the attention of art critics is so often called. After having had a second letter from Mrs. Gasaway, I went to Rockville and saw the painting."

"It is in a good state of preservation. It is undoubtedly the work of Hesselius, and certainly I should not attempt to set value upon it today. It represents the masterpiece of this painter, without doubt."

"Hesselius was born in Sweden in 1682. He came to the United States with his brother, Governor Hesselius, of the province of Delaware in 1711. The picture of the Last Supper was painted between May 1713 and June 1721. Hesselius died in Philadelphia in 1778."

Talks on Teeth

Are Five Dentists Better Than One?

Of course! It stands to reason that five dentists are better than one, especially when these five are graduated, licensed dentists, who have fully qualified according to the laws of the state and requirements of the board of health, to which has been added the finishing school of long practical experience.

Such are the dentists in whose hands you place yourself in these offices. You get here the vast benefit of the exchange of ideas. You get here the services of specialists, as each of your dentists specializes in a certain branch of dentistry and KNOWS IT TO PERFECTION. Isn't this superior to placing yourself in the hands of one man, who tries to master it all? Surely you haven't forgotten the old saying, "Jack of all trades and master of none," have you?

I believe I have the greatest service and value-giving dental offices in New England, and I want you to know it through personal experience. I want you to become acquainted with that marvelous pain destroyer—which positively robs dentistry of all pain. The patient takes a nap—sleeps naturally—but thoroughly relaxes and in this restful mood may have teeth extracted, fillings inserted, nerves removed and bridge-work done without feeling the slightest pain. Try it!

190 Unemployed, Headed by I.W.W. Agitator, Ignored Warnings and Made Raid on New York Church—Each Held in $1000

NEW YORK, March 5.—Unshaven and dejected, Frank Tannebaum, erstwhile waiter, but now leader of an army of unemployed who, under the banners of the Industrial Workers of the World, stormed New York churches nightly until the police interfered, was brought into Jefferson Market police court today for arraignment on a charge of inviting riot. Nearly 200 of his followers, held during the night in three separate prisons were to appear later in the Tombs court, farther down town, all charged with disorderly conduct.

Tannebaum was represented by Justice Sheffield, who said he had been retained by the Industrial Workers of the World.

"This is only the start," said Tannebaum, "the I. W. W. is behind every man arrested. If necessary we will bring 500 agitators into the city within the next few days and then the movement will open with a roar."

"The reason so many men are employed is that the factories are working their hands from 12 to 14 hours a day. We are going to send men into these factories and demand that the working hours be reduced to eight. This will solve the whole problem. The charge has been made that the men who followed me refused to work. That is not so. If the city will pay us the same as it pays the contractors' men to remove snow we will be glad to work."

Tannebaum had a cell by himself during the night, but his followers did not fare so well. Their numbers made it imperative that five or six be placed in one cell and under these conditions sleep was out of the question.

Three prisons—Yorkville, West Side and Jefferson Market—harbored the army and throughout the night yells and protests kept the other prisoners awake.

EACH OF THE 190 ARRESTED HELD IN $1000—SERIOUS CHARGE AGAINST LEADER

NEW YORK, March 5.—A squad of the members of the army of unemployed that has been demanding food and shelter in raids on churches every night for the past week are today the guests of the city in several downtown jails. Each of the 190 men and one woman is held in $1000 bail for hearings late today on charges of disorderly conduct. Frank Tannebaum, the youthful leader of the army, faces a charge of inciting to riot, which is a felony. His bail was fixed at $5000 and being unable to furnish it he, too, is a prisoner.

The arrest of Tannebaum resulted from his leading an "army" under the auspices of the Industrial Workers of the World into St. Alphonsus Roman Catholic church in West Broadway, where Fr. John Schneider refused the demand for food and ordered the invaders to leave if they had not come to worship. When Fr. Schneider repeated the order for all to leave "who do not belong here," there were cries: "Don't go out; make them throw us out and we will have food."

At this outburst two detectives seized Tannebaum and two other leaders, while outside the church policemen sent in calls for reserves from several downtown stations. Police Commissioner McKay ordered the arrests. The commissioner said he would brook no repetition of rioting in churches.

Warnings Ignored

"I was present at the time," he said. "I saw that the law was being violated and caused the arrests. Previous to this, however, they were warned that if they entered a church where a service was going on they would be arrested. They ignored the warning."

Miss Jane Est, one of the two women exhorters, weakened when told she would probably be sent to prison for six months. She begged to be allowed to go, and slipped through the crowd when released by a detective. Gustav Miller, however, insisted that she be arrested. She was not denied.

After the army had been led from the church, the police declared, blackjacks, knives, razors and pieces of iron were found in the vacated pews.

William D. Haywood, head of the Industrial Workers of the World, said after the arrest of Tannebaum and his followers that he was not surprised at the action of the police.

Big Bill Haywood Talks

"The police followed the advice given them by the newspapers," he said, "and that was to be expected. The result will be that the public will learn that the problem of the unemployed is not a myth."

Search of the prisoners arrested last night bears out their statements of poverty, except Hyman Finklestein, whose pockets held $750.

The decisive action of Commissioner McKay last night will prevent further trouble and cause a postponement of the plan of the Industrial Workers' leaders to send out 500 speakers to factories to urge workers to labor only eight hours a day.

After Tannebaum's Blood

Leaders of the Industrial Workers of the World gathered at Jefferson Market court where Tannebaum and his followers were awaiting arraignment.

"The whole affair is a frame-up," declared William D. Haywood, head of the organization, who came here recently to attend a meeting of the International Workingmen's Union conference.

"They are after Tannebaum's blood. I can't see that he's done anything to be arrested for. It is not the men who are on trial, but the Mitchell administration and the churches."

The most well-known of the prisoners was Hyman Finklestein, who when arrested in the church last night, had $750 in his pants pocket. He said he had no idea of the nature of the demonstration in which he was participating.

"I was watching the meeting in Rutgers square," he said, "when someone said: 'Come on, we're all going to get a free feed' and of course, I followed the crowd."

Finklestein refused to give his address, for fear, he said, he would be robbed when he returned home.

LEADING BRITISH REFORMS

Will be Brought Up in Parliament for First Reading—Intense Feeling on Home Rule

LONDON, March 5.—The Daily Chronicle which enjoys the confidence of the liberal government declares that the government has no intention of dissolving during the present year and that the ministers anticipate finishing out their full five year terms.

The government, according to the Daily Chronicle may introduce today for their first readings during the present session the Irish home rule, the Welsh disestablishment and the plural voting bills.

Tremendous interest is being taken in Premier Asquith's promised statement for Monday on the Irish home rule bill. Seats in the house of commons already are being held at a premium. The Ulster faction is confident that the premier will offer the Ulster counties temporary exclusion from the act but the Irish party would not accept this as a fulfillment of the government pledges.

EX-PRESIDENT TAFT

Would Extend Civil Service to All Appointive Offices Except the Cabinet

ANHERST, March 5.—"Civil service reform should be extended to include all appointive officers in the national government, except those in the cabinet, the judiciary and the higher positions upon which the political character of the administration depends," former President Taft said last night during a lecture to the students of Anherst college. Congress, he added, should not be required to confirm appointments.

Mr. Taft said the old idea that the president should not leave the country was a wrong one, and that he pursued, had been rejected, to visit the Philippines and Hawaiian Islands.

KISSES THE REWARD

STATION MASTER RESTORED BAG CONTAINING $38,000 TO BAND OF EMIGRANTS

NEW YORK, March 5.—Expressions of gratitude in the form of kisses were showered upon William H. Egan, station master of the Pennsylvania road here last night, by the young women and men members of an emigrant band because he had been instrumental in restoring to them a deer sack which contained $38,000 in gold and bills.

The party en route from Montana to Poland, dined in the station and then started for the pier to board the steamship Olympic. In her haste the wife of the leader of the band, to whom her fellow travelers had entrusted their money, left the bag in a waiting room, where it was found by an attendant and turned over to Egan. Its contents had hardly been counted when the emigrants rushed back in great excitement, clamoring for their money.

When they learned that every dollar was intact they made a rush for William H. He did not take kindly to the kissing of the men.

There will be a month's mind mass Monday, March 9, at 8 o'clock, for Sister M. Eleanor, formerly Catherine Theresa Healey, at St. Patrick's church.

CHURCH CONFERENCE

UNITED MISSIONARY CAMPAIGN WILL HOLD TWO DAYS' MEETING IN THIS CITY

The United Missionary campaign will hold a two days' conference in the Paige Street Baptist and Kirk Street Congregational churches, beginning this evening and continuing through tomorrow evening, when it will be closed with an appropriate service in the former church. It is expected that all the Protestant churches in Lowell and vicinity will be represented at all of the meetings.

The meetings this evening will be held in the form of banquets. The men will gather in the Kirk Street church and the women in the Paige Street church, and there will be several after-dinner speeches in each place.

The program tomorrow is as follows: 10 a. m., Pastors' and Leaders' Conference. United Missionary campaign. Rev. Messrs. Agar and Merrill in charge. Meetings at Paige Street Baptist church.

2:30 p. m. Union meeting for men and women of all the churches interested in the United Missionary campaign at the Paige Street Baptist church. Addresses: "Prayer and the Kingdom Work," Rev. J. B. Gates.

"A Ministry of Love," Miss Harriet Ellis.

"A Job for Brains," Rev. Charles F. Ewing.

7:30 p. m. final union service in the United Missionary campaign. Paige St. Baptist church. Addresses: "Light in the Dark Continent," Rev. J. B. Gates.

"The Awakening in China," Rev. Charles E. Ewing.

"Business Efficiency in the Business of God," Rev. F. A. Agar.

CHARITY RAFFLE LOTTERY

Raffling an automobile or other prize for a charitable purpose is a lottery under the laws of New Jersey, according to Corporation Counsel John Milton of Jersey City, who has advised Mayor Fagan to that effect.

The mayor asked for advice because he had been asked to supervise the award of an automobile, which the Nurses' Alumnae association of Christ hospital has undertaken to dispose of at a raffle at 50 cents a chance. After getting the corporation counsel's opinion the mayor said he would withdraw his consent to the use of his name in the raffle.

Men of Greenwich House Settlement

NEW YORK, March 5.—Snow and ice on Long street between West Fourth and Bleecker streets, were piled up in little mounds last night by the newly appointed street cleaning department of the Greenwich House, which has a settlement on the street.

The club council at a meeting on Tuesday night voted to help the city clear the street. At 7:30 o'clock last night members of the settlement and volunteers, including young women, began work. They worked in relays with the picks and shovels, and for a time it was play. When they struck solid ice it was not.

William Spiney was the foreman and Mrs. V. G. Simkovich, the director of the settlement, entertained the workers with refreshments after they were tired out.

CANAL TOLLS

that provision of the Panama canal act of Aug. 24, 1912, which exempts vessels engaged in the coastwise trade of the United States from payment of tolls and to urge on the justice, the wisdom and the large policy of such a repeal with the utmost earnestness of which I am capable.

Mistaken Economic Policy

In my own judgment very fully considered and maturely formed, that exemption constitutes a mistaken economic policy from every point of view and is, moreover, in plain contravention of the treaty with Great Britain concerning the canal concluded on Nov. 18, 1901. But I have not come to you to urge my personal views. I have come to state to you a fact and a situation. Whatever may be your own differences of opinion concerning this much-debated measure its meaning is not debated outside the United States. Everywhere else the language of the treaty is given but one interpretation and that interpretation precludes the exemption I am asking you to repeal. I have consented to the treaty; its language was accepted; if we did not originate it, and we are too big, too powerful, too self-respecting a nation to interpret with too strained or refined a reading of words of our own promises just because we have power enough to give us leave to read them as we please. The large thing to do is the only thing we can afford to do, a voluntary withdrawal from a position everywhere questioned and misunderstood. We ought to reverse our action without raising the question whether we were right or wrong and so once more deserve our reputation for generosity and the redemption of every obligation without quibble or hesitation.

"I ask this of you in support of the foreign policy of the administration. I shall not know how to deal with other matters with greater delicacy and nearer consequence if you do not grant it to me in ungrudging measure."

In Dispute Two Years

The Panama tolls question has been a question of dispute for nearly two years. Diplomatic correspondence between the United States and the United States found the question unsettled when President Taft left office. Except for an assurance to James Bryce, then British Ambassador, when he left the United States a year ago that the question would be taken up in the regular session of congress, President Wilson has verily directed any official communication to England on the tolls question. The president recently told callers he had never discussed the matter formally or informally with the British ambassador here, Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, because he believed the obligation on the part of the United States to repeal the exemption clause was one which this government itself would live up to, as the leaders in both houses had assured the president that with the delivery of a message he would show that national circumstances had arisen since the message was last debated, the president's suggestion for repeal would be met with prompt action.

Big Crowd Hears Message

The house chamber and galleries were packed as usual to hear the president read his address. The French and German ambassadors and other members of the diplomatic corps were in spaces reserved for them. No official of the British embassy was present. The Misses Wilson had places in the gallery and Mrs. Wilson was the first time was absent. She was not recovered from the shock of a fall in the White House a day or two ago.

President Wilson reached the capitol ten minutes before the time of the reading. He was escorted into the chamber and began reading his brief address as soon as a burst of applause had died away.

Burst of Applause

Mr. Wilson's message was so brief that he had finished reading almost before the surprised galleries realized he had begun. It took less than five minutes and as another burst of applause greeted the end, Mr. Wilson hurried out of the chamber and drove back to the White House. The joint session dissolved at once and the two houses resumed their work.

Not a sound had interrupted the president as he read his message. Speaker Clark ordered the address referred to the interstate commerce committee. Within ten minutes after the president had addressed congress, Senator Clifton, democratic member of the canal committee, introduced a bill authorizing the president to suspend tolls.

Address Pleased Adamson

Chairman Adamson, who will have charge of the repeal legislation declared the address fitted his ideas exactly.

"The president's address pleased me," he said, "because it means honesty at home and justice abroad. It is not true that we are surrendering to Great Britain if we repeal the free tolls clause. Myself and other democrats look a question against this piece of cannibalism before England ever heard of it."

Democratic Leader Underwood declined to discuss the president's address.

DISCUSS SUNDAY BASEBALL

NEW HAVEN, Conn., March 5.—Eastern association baseball directors met in a five-hour session yesterday adopted a schedule of teams; provided for a sinking fund for emergencies and discussed the much-mooted question of Sunday playing.

The session will open on April 28 and close Sept. 12. It was voted to make arrangements for long-term agreement with the New England league for post-season series.

By a vote of 7 to 1 ten per cent. of the gross receipts will be used for a special sinking fund, to aid clubs in financial difficulties, or to meet any emergencies. No definite action was taken in regard to Sunday playing. The Hartford club went on record as being opposed to it.

NEW JEWEL THEATRE

"The Strangers of Paris," Belot's famous sensational novel known as the most vivid portrait of modern conditions that existed in Paris nearly a decade ago will be a feature at this theatre. This remarkable narrative was dramatized by the "Master of Dramatic Art," David Belasco, and he has produced the most marvelous photographic play of the age. And when originally presented by Charles Frohman it was the sensation of the time. New York papers lauded this photographic play to the skies, and well they should, because a company of expert actors in this play is the most lavish production and fullness of details which can be reached only through the efforts of an efficient company of highly paid artists of the profession. Mr. James Gordon heads this company and every reel is really a feature. Many other pictures will be shown in a good chance to visit the next time is a good chance to visit the next little house on the corner.

TO BE LAUNCHED ON MARCH 10TH

THE Y. W. C. A. BUILDING

The directors of the Y. W. C. A. are planning to make their first appeal to the public of Lowell and vicinity for funds to carry on the work which the association is doing and to make needed repairs in the building in John Street. In order to raise these funds they will conduct an active campaign during which ten teams will make a canvass of the city for the sum of $10,000.

The site upon which the Y. W. C. A. was built was given the association by James Buttrick and the building was given by Frederic Ayer. The directors have a list of subscribers who pledge amounts annually and in this way all deficits have been paid up to the beginning of the present year. However, since the building was erected nine years ago no repairs have been made and a change in the constitution has also made it necessary for the association to raise money or else fall behind in the work.

The campaign will start Tuesday evening, March 10, and will continue (through Saturday, March 21. Each afternoon the committee will meet in an office that is to be opened on the second story of the building and make reports to those in charge. A large thermometer, similar in style to the one used in St. Elizabeth's hospital campaign, will be installed on the outside of the building and point out the amount raised to date.

The campaign will be conducted on the same line as the Y. M. C. A. campaign was last year. People will be asked to pledge a certain sum and make payments at intervals during a period of one year or pay the full amount at once if convenient. In receiving the money this way the association will be able to pay its bills as they are contracted and new clubs will be formed and social events planned if the funds will permit. Each solicitor will be given a number of cards with the names of several people on them and no person will be allowed to ask for money without a card bearing the name of the person whom she asks.

There will be ten teams of ten members who will work ten days to secure

$10,000 and therefore the campaign will be called a ten times ten campaign. Mrs. Charles T. Upton, acting president of the board of directors, will act as chairman of the general committee and Miss Lena M. Farrell, one of the association's traveling secretaries, will remain in Lowell during the ten days and use her influence in making plans for the work. The local secretaries will also be busy during the period and will do considerable of the clerical work.

About 100 women assembled in the association rooms yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock in honor of Miss Helen Alling Davis of New York city, one of the national secretaries, who is head of the field department and who has charge of all local associations and also of organizing new associations. Miss Davis spoke interestingly on her work in northwestern associations and told of other campaigns that have been conducted during the time of her experience in Y. W. C. A. work. She will meet the captains of the teams at the association building late this afternoon to give instructions relative to the team work.

MEXICAN SITUATION

Continued

Evidence in Benton's Death

Upon the results of the investigation and Carranza's subsequent action depend in a large measure the policy which the American government will pursue toward the constitutionalists. Much evidence of a conclusive character about Benton's death has been gathered.

Should the Carranza commission contravert important points satisfactorily proven here, it is unlikely that the Washington government will remain silent on the question. There is every likelihood, too, that if Baugh was wantonly murdered, as reported, a satisfactory explanation of the incident and the punishment of the offenders will be demanded.

Persons familiar with the inaccessibility of the territory through which Carranza will be isolated for the next ten days or more during his overland journey to Chihuahua City do not expect there will be any report on the subject for over a fortnight.

Though the Huerta government has promised a full and complete investigation of the reported killing of Clemente Vergara, an American citizen, near Hidalgo, Mexico, nothing of a satisfactory nature has as yet been received by the state department.

Governor Colquhoun's efforts to obtain the extradition of those responsible for Vergara's disappearance are being watched here with much interest.

DIAZ SUPPORTERS CALL VILLA AND CARRANZA BANDITS AND HUERTAS CORRUPT

WASHINGTON, March 4.—Although Great Britain's reluctance to press the Benton case at this time has made the Mexican situation less acute, it is now virtually certain that spirited debate will occur in the senate in a few days.

It became known last night that data concerning the number of foreigners killed in Mexico since armed revolution began there is being gathered by the state department for Senator Shively, ranking member of the foreign relations committee who is expected to present official records about conditions in the southern republic. It was reported that Senator Pitt of New Mexico would open the debate with a speech pointing to conditions in Mexico, past and present and urging a change of policy.

Incidentally the New Mexico senator yesterday presented to the foreign relations committee Pedro Del Villar and Cielito Ocan, representing the political interests of Felix Diaz. Members of the committee were frankly amazed when the Mexicans sought the moral support by the United States of a movement to bring about peace in Mexico by another revolution headed by Diaz.

The committee had no idea, it is said, as to the exact purpose of their visit other than they wished to present information about the situation in Mexico.

Members of the committee flatly stated that the United States could not recognize any such movement. Villar and Ocan severely arraigned Huerta as corrupt and Carranza and Villa as bandits and argued that Felix Diaz had a host of loyal Mexican citizens behind him who would rush to his support to establish a real government in Mexico. They wanted to get a promise, if possible, from the American government that it would uphold Diaz and recognize him if a counter-revolution succeeded. Several members of the committee characterized the proposition as preposterous.

The committee is taking a most active interest in the Mexican imbroglio and intends to get all the information possible so that it may be prepared for any situation that may arise, especially if the administration should determine upon any change of policy.

INVESTIGATION INTO MURDERS OF BENTON AND BAUGH BEGUN BY CARRANZA

EL PASO, Texas, March 5.—Investigation into the execution by General Villa of William S. Benton, the British subject, and into the disappearance of Gustav Baugh, the German-American, was begun at Juarez today by the Mexican commission appointed by General Carranza, chief of the constitutionalists.

Headquarters of the constitutionalist government was established today across the river at Juarez. Seventy men, heads of departments, clerks and secretaries brought with them a carload of official papers of the rebel government. Carranza and members of his cabinet were expected to leave Nogales for Juarez some time today.

FIND MISSING FAMILY

FEARS FOR MAN, WIFE AND MOTHER WHO COULD NOT BE FOUND AFTER FIRE DISPELLED

OAKLAND, N. J., March 5.—Fears for A. N. Allen, proprietor of the Brookside Inn, and his wife and mother, who could not be found Sunday night after the hotel had been destroyed by fire, were dispelled when it was found today that Allen and his family had escaped from the burning building and taken refuge at a farm some distance away.

AUSTRIAN PARLIAMENT

VIENNA, March 5.—The lower house of the Austrian imperial parliament whose sessions were suspended Jan. 30 owing to the violent obstruction of the Czech deputies, reassembled today but was again brought to an abrupt stop by the tumult raised by the opposition members. The speaker once more suspended the session.

ICE JAM AT THE FALLS

Unless there is a great deal more rain or a rapid rise in temperature, it is believed that all the danger of a flood caused by the rising of the Merrimack river is over as during the past two days the water has been gradually lowering and at 11 o'clock this noon just a trickle over five feet of water flowed over the crest of the Pawtucket dam. This is nearly a foot less than the height yesterday noon and many officials believe that within a few days the river will be back to normal, barring changes in the weather.

Tons of ice in the river above the falls broke up last evening and throughout the night huge cakes swept over the Pawtucket Falls. The flashboards at the falls had been removed before the smash and consequently little damage was done by the heavy ice which floated down the river and plunged over the dam.

Several large cakes of ice lay on the ledges between the Pawtucket and bloody street bridges and the ice seemed to be a little less than a foot thick. It is claimed that the ice in nearly twenty inches thick between the bridge and North Chelmsford but before it really breaks up it will probably have lost so much of its bottom that it will be comparatively thin.

A large number of people visited the falls today to see the effects, if any, of the breakup of the ice. The people stood on the bridge and walked up the banks while some of the old timers told stories of how beautiful the scene was years ago when the ice was much thicker than at the present time. The sight of the solid cakes of ice winding along the river was well worth the time spent by those who journeyed to the falls for that purpose. The dashing, splashing and foaming as the huge blocks of ice tumbled over the falls was indeed a rare sight.

BLIZZARD AND FLOOD SCENES IN EAST AND WEST WHEN DEATH CAME WITH SNOW AND RAIN

1. REFUGEES FROM FLOOD IN CALIFORNIA—
2. POLES SNAPPED LIKE THIS ALL OVER EAST
3. STALLED AUTO IN NEW-YORK CITY

The elements have dealt unkindly with both the Atlantic and the Pacific coasts, as these pictures show. The blizzard in the Atlantic states was the worst since the record making blizzard of March 12, 1888. It stalled trains for days, tied up traffic in and around New York, Philadelphia, Boston, and other big eastern cities and caused the death of a score or more persons, mainly from broken wires. Never were more poles snapped off along the railroad lines and wires broken than in this storm. On the Pacific coast, a sudden and unusual downpour of rain caused a damaging flood, particularly in the San Joaquin valley and around Los Angeles. Residents in some sections were forced to flee for their lives. Several deaths resulted. With the late heavy snowfall in the east the danger of spring floods there is now a subject of some fear.

AN EXCITING RUNAWAY LYNN BASEBALL CLUB FOR WIDOWED MOTHERS

STOPPED BY OFFICER PATRICK CLARK IN MAD GALLOP DOWN CENTRAL STREET

A horse owned by Joseph Walsh and driven by John Garnick caused quite a little commotion last night about 8 o'clock on Central street. At least Officer Patrick Clark thinks that things were mighty lively for a few minutes.

The horse became frightened as he turned into Central street from Gorham and leaped it down toward Merrimack street at a fast clip with Garnick sitting in the wagon and waving on the reins to no account. As the excited animal tore by Hurd street Officer Clark caught sight of the careening rig and set off in pursuit of the runaway.

At the junction of Market and Prescott streets a car turning the corner nearly upset the officer's heroic intentions as well as the horse and team. The forward wheels of the team just grazed the fender of the car but the slight shaking in the pace of the horse was all that the fleet officer needed. Officer Clark grabbed the bridle and brought the horse to a standstill in a few minutes. Although the driver was badly frightened by his narrow escape he and the horse both escaped injury.

PROFITS $15,704.1888

Substantial Increase in Deposits, However, in the Savings Banks in Maine

AUGUSTA, Me., March 5.—While there was a substantial increase in deposits, the profits of the savings banks in Maine the past year were $15,704 less than in 1912, according to returns to State Bank Commissioner Harry C. Smith. The deposits aggregated $88,798,450, a gain of $2,232,502, and the profits were $2,331,950. The average rate of dividends paid was 3.91 per cent, the dividends amounting to $2,351,708. The average amount of each depositor's account was $404.33.

WASHINGTON, March 5.—Senator Ashurst's resolution proposing a constitutional amendment extending the right to vote to women of all states was attacked in the senate today by Senators Reed of Missouri and Vardaman of Mississippi. Both had given notice of their intention to speak in opposition to the measure, a final vote on which its advocates confidently expected today.

WILL NOT TRAIN AT HOME OFFICIALS DO NOT WANT NEW CRUISES PANNED BY FANS

President Frager of the Lynn Stars virtually declared that the team club would not train at Ocean Park and that as soon as the snow clears from the ground would scout around to dig up a training camp nearer inland. He has come to believe that it is better to take the road to Reading, Saugus, Wakefield, Danvers or some other town away from the chilling fast water than to lose time and suffer lame animals at Ocean Park.

Frank J. Leonard also believes that the club would show better form if trained away from home. Leonard says that it would be a grand thing if the club could train away from Lynn until the opening of the season. "This training away from home" was allowed the manager to study the habits of his men and to get the closer touch with them," remarked Frank. "And also it gives the manager an opportunity to weed out the freaks of the team before the critical fans get a look at them in action."

A club training abroad always has the advantage of appearing abroad in better shape and looking more like a ball club.

First Look Counts

Sometimes the first impression given to the fans will mean a whole lot in the future finances. A crowd of crude calls are seen by the fans at practice while the regulars are simply working easily.

"The fan leaves the cold, damp park and passes the word along uptown that Lynn has a bunch lot of scoundrels and that the fans look slower than ever." The first impression may count a whole lot at the gate. The chances are that the fans who come to Ocean Park do not know around more than one or two days and then decide to wait until the weather is warmer before paying much attention to baseball.

Critics' Fan Club

These self-appointed critics are invariably prone to panic. Players who are working at a disadvantage in one of the oldest parks in the country.

Worcester Has Only Two of Last Year's Team Signed up

Although the opening of the baseball season is a little more than five weeks away, Manager Burkett of Worcester has succeeded in signing but two of his veteran players. The two he signed are Jack Bushelman, who attached his signature to a contract before he left here last fall, and Charles "Chick" Shorten, the outfielder drafted by Chicago White Sox but turned back without even a look at a White Sox uniform. Shorten received a considerable boost in his salary, having his old Bushelman's.

Benny Van Dyke, the only member of the Climbers, with whom the outlayers are fighting, will stay in Worcester, as shall three weeks ago, provided Burkett will not use him in a trade with some other New England league team. Van Dyke is anxious to show the fans last season was an old year. If he had Burkett's cap agree on the salary question Benny will sign at once. It was not for the announcement that Van Dyke has cast his lot with the Federals.

N. Y. STATE COMMISSION SAYS THERE IS NEED OF GOVERNMENT ASSISTANCE

NEW YORK, March 5.—The New York State commission of relief for widowed mothers in an announcement today says that there is a need for government assistance for the widowed mothers with dependent children. It is desirable to provide for the state to make this need. The commission expects to make its report to the legislature on March 16.

DANCE IN NEW YORK

Mayor Mitchell Says He Did Not Order Tango Dancing to Close at 1 O'Clock—Orders Misunderstood

NEW YORK, March 5.—Devotees of the tango and other forms of dancing, who showed keen disappointment on Tuesday night when the police closed the doors of the establishments on Broadway where dancing follows midnight stippers, breathed a sigh of relief last night when Mayor Mitchell announced that the order to close these places at 1 o'clock in the morning, when the law compels them to close their bars, had not been issued by Police Commissioner McAdams.

Asked whether such an order had come from his office, Mayor Mitchell said that such was not the case, and that in his opinion the closing was the result of a misunderstanding of orders. Dancing has been permitted recently to continue after the sale of liquor had been stopped.

"The closing of the establishments will not continue," said the mayor. "I have no intention of carrying out the stringent measures of the last administration in regard to the closing at 1 o'clock."

AND NOW FOR THE Macramé Demonstration

What a rugged Macramé work is having! And is there really any easier or less expensive fancy work? Perhaps many of you do not know how easily this knot work can be done. Mrs. Smith has some very fine adaptations of Macramé to you.

We conduct these weekly demonstrations to inform and enlighten our customers; so that they may more clearly understand the uses of our goods. The ladies are looking forward to our demonstrations. They like us to exhibit and explain the usefulness of our merchandise. We are not biding anything from you. It will pay you to visit these instructive demonstrations.
